Totally Unofficial The Autobiography Of Raphael Lemkin:

Totally Unofficial Raphael Lemkin, Donna-Lee Frieze, 2013-06-24 DIV Among the greatest intellectual heroes of modern times Raphael Lemkin lived an extraordinary life of struggle and hardship yet altered international law and redefined the world's understanding of group rights. He invented the concept and word genocide and propelled the idea into international legal status. An uncommonly creative pioneer in ethical thought, he twice was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize. divDIV divDIV Although Lemkin died alone and in poverty, he left behind a model for a life of activism, a legacy of major contributions to international law, and not least an unpublished autobiography. Presented here for the first time is his own account of his life from his boyhood on a small farm in Poland with his Jewish parents to his perilous escape from Nazi Europe through his arrival in the United States and rise to influence as an academic thinker and revered lawyer of international criminal law. div

Pioneers of Genocide Studies (Clt) Samuel Totten, Steven Leonard Jacobs, 2002 New areas of research are not the result of a snap of the finger. They are carved out of the marrow of human existence. The study of genocide well illustrates this raw fact. From the early efforts that emerged in the struggle against Nazism and over the past half century the field has now reached a point where there at least five genocide centers across the globe and well over one hundred Holocaust centers. This work emerged out of an earlier effort at an oral history project, one that would enable a new generation of scholars, researchers, and policy makers to assess the major foci of the field, efforts to develop ways and means to intervene and prevent future genocides, and review the successes and failures of the field. The editors of Pioneers of Genocide Studies emphasize that contributors should approach the questions of greatest relevance in a personal way, crafting a statement that reveals one's individual voice, persuasions, literary style, scholarly perspectives, and relevant details of one's life. The book succeeds admirably in the above aims and in so doing epitomizes scholarly autobiographical writing at its best. The book also includes the most important works by each author on the issue of genocide. As a result, the collective portrait enhances the usefulness of the volume for those new to the field. Among the contributors are experts in the Armenian, Bosnian, Cambodian, and Jewish genocides, as well as the Holocaust against the Jewish people. The contributors are Rouben Adalian, M. Cherif Bassiouni, Israel W. Charney, Vahakn Dadrian, Helen Fein, Barbara Harff, David Hawk, Herbert Hirsch, Irving Louis Horowitz, Richard Hovannisian, Henry Huttenbach, Leo Kuper, Raphael Lemkin, James E. Mace, Eric Markusen, Robert Melson, R. J. Rummel, Roger W. Smith, Gregory H. Stanton, Ervin Staub, Colin Tatz, Yves Ternan, and the co-editors. The work has been five years in the making and represents a high watermark in the reflections and self-reflections on the comparative study of genocide. Samuel Totten is professor of curriculum and instruction in the College of Education and Health Professions at the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville. He is the editor of First Person Accounts of Genocidal Acts and Century of Genocide: Eyewitness Accounts and Critical Views, and book review editor for the Journal of Genocide Research. Steven Leonard Jacobs is associate professor and Aaron Aronov Chair of Judaic Studies in the department of religious studies at the University of Alabama.

Tuscaloosa He is the author of Shirot Bialik A New and Annotated Translation of Chaim Nachman Bialiks Epic Poems Raphael Lemkins Thoughts on Nazi Genocide Not Guilty and Contemporary Christian and Contemporary Jewish Religious Responses to the Shoah Raphaël Lemkin and the Concept of Genocide Douglas Irvin-Erickson, 2016-10-14 Rapha l Lemkin 1900 1959 coined the word genocide in the winter of 1942 and led a movement in the United Nations to outlaw the crime setting his sights on reimagining human rights institutions and humanitarian law after World War II After the UN adopted the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide in 1948 Lemkin slipped into obscurity and within a few short years many of the same governments that had agreed to outlaw genocide and draft a Universal Declaration of Human Rights tried to undermine these principles This intellectual biography of one of the twentieth century s most influential theorists and human rights figures sheds new light on the origins of the concept and word genocide contextualizing Lemkin s intellectual development in interwar Poland and exploring the evolving connection between his philosophical writings juridical works and politics over the following decades The book presents Lemkin s childhood experience of anti Jewish violence in imperial Russia his youthful arguments to expand the laws of war to protect people from their own governments his early scholarship on Soviet criminal law and nationalities violence his work in the 1930s to advance a rights based approach to international law his efforts in the 1940s to outlaw genocide and his forays in the 1950s into a social scientific and historical study of genocide which he left unfinished Revealing what the word genocide meant to people in the wake of World War II as the USSR and Western powers sought to undermine the Genocide Convention at the UN while delegations from small states and former colonies became the strongest supporters of Lemkin s law Rapha l Lemkin and the Concept of Genocide examines how the meaning of genocide changed over the decades and highlights the relevance of Lemkin s thought to our own time A Companion to the Holocaust Simone Gigliotti, Hilary Earl, 2020-04-14 Provides a cutting edge nuanced and multi disciplinary picture of the Holocaust from local transnational continental and global perspectives Holocaust Studies is a dynamic field that encompasses discussions on human behavior extremity and moral action A diverse range of disciplines history philosophy literature social psychology anthropology geography amongst others continue to make important contributions to its scholarship A Companion to the Holocaust provides exciting commentaries on current and emerging debates and identifies new connections for research The text incorporates new language geographies and approaches to address the precursors of the Holocaust and examine its global consequences A team of international contributors provides insightful and sophisticated analyses of current trends in Holocaust research that go far beyond common conceptions of the Holocaust s causes unfolding and impact Scholars draw on their original research to interpret current agenda setting historical and historiographical debates on the Holocaust Six broad sections cover wide ranging topics such as new debates about Nazi perpetrators arguments about the causes and places of persecution of Jews in Germany and Europe and Jewish and non Jewish responses to it the use of forced labor in the German war economy representations of the Holocaust witness and many others A masterful framing chapter sets the direction and tone of each section s themes Comprising over thirty essays this important addition to Holocaust studies Offers a remarkable compendium of systematic comparative and precise analyses Covers areas and topics not included in any other companion of its type Examines the ongoing cultural social and political legacies of the Holocaust Includes discussions on non European and non Western geographies inter ethnic tensions and violence A Companion to the Holocaust is an essential resource for students and scholars of European German genocide colonial and Jewish history as well as those in the general humanities

Remembering Histories of Trauma Gideon Mailer,2022-03-24 Remembering Histories of Trauma compares and links Native American First Nation and Jewish histories of traumatic memory Using source material from both sides of the Atlantic it examines the differences between ancestral experiences of genocide and the representation of those histories in public sites in the United States Canada and Europe Challenging the ways public bodies have used those histories to frame the cultural and political identity of regions states and nations it considers the effects of those representations on internal group memory external public memory and cultural assimilation Offering new ways to understand the Native Jewish encounter by highlighting shared critiques of public historical representation Mailer seeks to transcend historical tensions between Native American studies and Holocaust studies In linking and comparing European and American contexts of historical trauma and their representation in public memory this book brings Native American studies Jewish studies early American history Holocaust studies and museum studies into conversation with each other In revealing similarities in the public representation of Indigenous genocide and the Holocaust it offers common ground for Jewish and Indigenous histories and provides a new framework to better understand the divergence between traumatic histories and the ways they are memorialized Great Catastrophe Thomas De Waal,2015 Drawing on archival sources reportage and moving personal stories de Waal tells the full story of Armenian Turkish relations since the Genocide in all its extraordinary twists and turns He looks behind the propaganda to examine the realities of a terrible historical crime and the divisive politics of genocide it produced After the Ottomans Hans-Lukas Kieser,Khatchig Mouradian,Seyhan Bayraktar,2023-07-13 This book deals with the lasting impact and the formative legacy of removal dispossession and the politics of genocide in the last decade of the Ottoman Empire For understanding contemporary Turkey and the neighboring region it is important to revisit the massive transformation of the late Ottoman world caused by persistent warfare between 1912 and 1922 This fourth volume of a series focusing on the Ottoman Cataclysm looks at the century long consequences and persistent implications of the Armenian genocide It deals with the actions and words of the Armenians as they grappled with total destruction and tried to emerge from under it Eleven scholars of history anthropology literature and political science explore the Ottoman Armenians not only as the major victims of the First World War and the post war treaties but also as agents striving for survival writing history transmitting the memory and searching for justice Pioneers of Genocide Studies Samuel Totten,Steven Jacobs,2017-07-05 From the early efforts that emerged in the struggle against Nazism and over the past half century the field of genocide studies has grown in reach to include five genocide centers across the globe and well over one hundred Holocaust centers This work enables a new generation of scholars researchers and policymakers to assess the major foci of the field develop ways and means to intervene and prevent future genocides and review the successes and failures of the past The contributors to Pioneers of Genocide Studies approach the questions of greatest relevance in a personal way crafting a statement that reveals one's individual voice persuasions literary style scholarly perspectives and relevant details of one's life The book epitomizes scholarly autobiographical writing at its best The book also includes the most important works by each author on the issue of genocide Among the contributors are experts in the Armenian Bosnian and Cambodian genocides as well as the Holocaust against the Jewish people The contributors are Rouben Adalian M Cherif Bassiouni Israel W Charney Vahakn Dadrian Helen Fein Barbara Harff David Hawk Herbert Hirsch Irving Louis Horowitz Richard Hovannisian Henry Huttenbach Leo Kuper Raphael Lemkin James E Mace Eric Markusen Robert Melson R J Rummel Roger W Smith Gregory H Stanton Ervin Staub Colin Tatz Yves Ternan and the co editors The work represents a high watermark in the reflections and self reflections on the comparative study of genocide

Colonial Paradigms of Violence Michelle Gordon, Rachel O'Sullivan, 2022-05-25 European Holocaust Studies EHS publishes key international research results on the murder of the European Jews and its wider contexts In recent years scholars have rediscovered Hannah Arendt's boomerang thesis the coming home of European colonialism as genocide on European soil as well as Raphael Lemkin's work around his definition of genocide and the importance of its colonial dimensions Germany and other European states are increasingly engaging in debates on comparing the Holocaust to other genocides and cases of mass killing memorialization decolonization and attempts to come to terms with the past Vergangenheitsbewältigung

The Law of Nations in Global History C. H. Alexandrowicz, 2017-03-10 The history and theory of international law have been transformed in recent years by post colonial and post imperial critiques of the universalistic claims of Western international law The origins of those critiques lie in the often overlooked work of the remarkable Polish British lawyer historian C H Alexandrowicz 1902-75 This volume collects Alexandrowicz's shorter historical writings on subjects from the law of nations in pre colonial India to the New International Economic Order of the 1970s and presents them as a challenging portrait of early modern and modern world history seen through the lens of the law of nations The book includes the first complete bibliography of Alexandrowicz's writings and the first biographical and critical introduction to his life and works It reveals the formative influence of his Polish roots and early work on canon law for his later scholarship undertaken in Madras 1951-61 and Sydney 1961-67 and the development of his thought regarding sovereignty statehood self determination and legal personality among many other topics still of urgent interest to international lawyers political theorists and global historians
