The Evolution of Love Sheldon W. Liebman, 2021-04-06 This book an examination of Judaism as it evolved over a period of approximately 1 500 years is an analysis of the Hebrew Bible and other ancient Jewish writings with special emphasis on theology and morality By the middle of the first millennium with the writing of Deuteronomy the Psalms and the works of the prophets Judaism had embraced the idea that God is a compassionate father that His relationship with His people is based on love rather than fear and that His response to their commission of sins is based on the assumption that they are capable of repentance and worthy of forgiveness In the final stage of its development culminating in the first and second centuries AD Judaism was understood to require its adherents to enact the will of God specifically to establish a community based on political economic and social laws that enforce the principles of justice and mercy And that process came to be seen as inevitably dependent on human agency the need for human beings to fulfill God s commandments In Judaism loving neighbors and strangers came to be understood as the principal and for many Jews the only way of loving God

How to Be an Adult in Relationships David Richo,2021-11-02 Most people think of love as a feeling says David Richo but love is not so much a feeling as a way of being present In this book Richo offers a fresh perspective on love and relationships one that focuses not on finding an ideal mate but on becoming a more loving and realistic person Drawing on the Buddhist concept of mindfulness How to Be an Adult in Relationships explores five hallmarks of mindful loving and how they play a key role in our relationships throughout life

- 1 Attention to the present moment observing listening and noticing all the feelings at play in our relationships
- 2 Acceptance of ourselves and others just as we are 3 Appreciation of all our gifts our limits our longings and our poignant human predicament 4 Affection shown through holding and touching in respectful ways 5 Allowing life and love to be just as they are with all their ecstasy and ache without trying to take control When deeply understood and applied these five simple concepts what Richo calls the five A s form the basis of mature love They help us to move away from judgment fear and blame to a position of openness compassion and realism about life and relationships By giving and receiving these five A s relationships become deeper and more meaningful and they become a ground for personal transformation

The Evolution of Altruism and the Ordering of Love Stephen J. Pope, 1995-04-01 In this book Stephen J Pope argues that contemporary scientifically based theories of the evolution of altruism provide important insights into one of the fundamental moral problems of Christian ethics the natural basis of love and its ordering He explores the contributions evolutionary theory makes to our understanding of the biological foundations of kin preference and reciprocal care the limits of love and the need for an ordering of love issues relevant to any ethic that accords a central role to the deeply natural affections found in friendship marriage and the family He proposes that understanding human nature in its broader evolutionary context brings to ethics a needed balance between the personal and biological dimensions of human nature In the context of Catholic ethics Pope points out functional similarities between Thomas Aquinas s use of then available scientific theories in his interpretation of the natural basis of primary relationships and Pope s own efforts to avoid the deficiencies that characterize contemporary Catholic interpretations of love based on personalism and existentialism He concludes with a call for a multidimensional interpretation of love one that incorporates scientifically based theories about human nature together with an appreciation of the significance of motives intentions and freedom for the ordering of human affections and moral responsibility This book will be of interest to moral theologians especially those concerned with the topics of love justice and natural law ethics
