Ufh Application Forms For 2015 Academic Year:

Mergers and Alliances in Higher Education Adrian Curaj, Luke Georghiou, Jennifer Cassingena Harper, Eva Egron-Polak, 2015-03-31 This volume casts light on mergers and alliances in higher education by examining developments of this type in different countries. It combines the direct experiences of those at the heart of such transformations: university leaders and senior officials responsible for higher education policy with expert analysts of the systems concerned. Higher education in Europe faces a series of major challenges. The economic crisis has accelerated expectations of an increased role in addressing economic and societal challenges while at the same time putting pressure on available finances. Broader trends such as shifting student demographics and expectations, globalisation and mobility and new ways of working with business have contributed to these increased pressures. In the light of these trends, there have been moves both from national or regional agencies and from individual institutions to respond by combining resources either through collaborative arrangements or more fundamentally through mergers between two or more universities. After an introductory chapter by the editors which establishes the context for mergers and alliances, the book falls into two main parts. Part 1 takes a national or regional perspective to give some sense of the historical context, the wider drivers and the importance of these developments in these cases. Included are both systemic accounts for countries as France, Sweden, Romania, Russia, Wales and England and specific cross-cutting initiatives including a major facility at Magurele in Romania and a Spanish programme for promoting international campuses of excellence. Part 2 is built from specific cases of universities either in mergers or alliances with examples from different countries such as France, UK, Romania, Spain, Germany, Denmark, Finland, Switzerland. A concluding chapter by the editors assesses these experiences and indicates the implications and future needs for understanding in this domain.

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Pharmacology and Society Sarah E. Boslaugh, 2015-09-15 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Pharmacology and Society explores the social and policy sides of the pharmaceutical industry and its pervasive influence in society. While many technical STM works explore the chemistry and biology of pharmacology and an equally large number of clinically oriented works focus on use of illegal drugs, substance abuse and treatment, there is virtually nothing on the immensely huge business of Big Pharma of creating, selling, consuming and regulating legal drugs. With this new Encyclopedia, the topic of socioeconomic business and consumer and legal and ethical issues of the pharmaceutical industry in contemporary society around the world are addressed. Key Features: 800 signed articles authored by prominent scholars are arranged A to Z and published in a choice of electronic or print formats. Although arranged A to Z, a Reader's Guide in the front matter groups articles by thematic areas. Front matter also includes a Chronology highlighting significant developments in this field. All articles conclude with Further Readings and Cross References to related articles. Back matter includes an annotated Resource Guide to further research, a Glossary, Appendices (e.g. statistics on the amount and types of drugs prescribed etc) and a detailed Index. The Index, Reader's Guide and Cross References combine for search and browse.
