Committee's official seal of approval Jacket Sacred Ties Tom Carhart, 2010-05-04 The gripping story of six West Point graduates including George Armstrong Custer who fought each other in the Civil War With Civil War storm clouds darkening the horizon they were strangers from different states thrown together as West Point cadets George Armstrong Custer Stephen Dodson Ramseur Henry Algernon DuPont John Pelham Thomas Lafayette Rosser and Wesley Merritt Educated and trained there to be not only officers and gentlemen but also courageous battlefield leaders their shared experience at West Point forged bonds between them stronger than brotherhood Right after their graduations war erupted in 1861 They stayed blue or went gray and even faced each other in battle Acclaimed military historian Tom Carhart brings to life the human side of valiant victories and crushing defeats and most vividly of these young men of individual valor and personal honor The West Point Class of 1846 Charles River Editors, 2025-06-21 West Point has long been America's most famous military academy but in the early 19th century it was a highly unimpressive school consisting of a few ugly buildings facing a desolate barren parade ground Established with just five officers and ten cadets of the Corps of Engineers on March 16 1802 the Academy was built on a spot just 50 miles north of New York City which had been a key Hudson River military fortress during the Revolutionary War Cadets attending during the Point's first several decades were obliged to maintain their daily regimen knowing the school might shut down at any moment as the U S government frequently questioned why it should provide free education As it turned out West Point would become the foremost military academy in the nation and it would churn out the cadets who became the most important generals in the Civil War With that the future generals years at West Point became a source of both camaraderie and colorful stories A clerical error by West Point administrators ensured that Hiram Ulysses Grant forever became known as Ulysses S Grant and years after Robert E Lee met Albert Sidney Johnston and Jefferson Davis at West Point George H Thomas and William Tecumseh Sherman met each other and Richard S Ewell During the 1850s classes included men like John Bell Hood Union general Phil Sheridan and James Birdseye McPherson who would become the only commanding general of a Union army to die in a Civil War battle when he fell in 1864 during Sherman's Atlanta Campaign But none of the West Point classes became as famous as the Class of 1846 which boasted more than a dozen future Civil War generals The Class of 1846 included a shy kid named Thomas Jonathan Jackson who made few friends and struggled with his studies finishing 17th in his class 15 years before becoming Stonewall Also in that class was A P Hill who was already in love with the future wife of George McClellan a young prodigy who finished second in the class of 1846 A popular and mischievous George Pickett would play hooky at the local bar and struggle just to finish last in the class and the Class of 1846 also churned out critical Union generals like Jesse Reno Darius Couch and George Stoneman Before these men opposed each other on Civil War battlefields they forged their own friendships and charted their future paths together at West Point The West Point Class of 1846 profiles the most famous cadets of the class chronicles their time on campus together and discusses their careers after the Academy Along with pictures of important people and places you will learn about the Class of 1846 like you never have before in no time at all West Point Heidi Kimmel,2008-09 Chronicles the history of the military academy at West Point New York including its role in the American Revolution the Mexican War the Civil War and World Wars I and II and discusses the daily life of a cadet and the enrollment of minorities The American Civil War Timothy H.
