Traditional Chinese Philosophy and the Paradigm of Structure (Li [Chinese Character]) Jana Rošker, 2012

Traditional Chinese Philosophy and the Paradigm of Structure (Li 理) Jana S. Rošker, 2013-01-04 Specific Chinese models for theories of knowledge were premised upon a structurally ordered external reality since natural or cosmic order is organic it naturally follows the flow of structural patterns and operates in accordance with structural principles that regulate every existence In this worldview our mind is also structured in accordance with this all embracing but open organic system The axioms of our recognition and thought are therefore not arbitrary but follow this rationally designed structure The compatibility of both the cosmic and mental structures is the basic precondition that enables humans to perceive and recognize external reality The present study shows that this paradigm of structural epistemology can already be found in the earliest Chinese theories of knowledge The introduction of Chinese models and their incorporation into Western discourses fills an important theoretical gap in the Western model of structuralism This book offers an insight into epistemological systems that arose outside the discourses of the Euro American tradition It can thus help us to eliminate and supersede certain culturally conditioned prejudices as to the superiority and omnipresence of Western theoretical models while demonstrating incontrovertibly that the results of Western discourses are by no means the only force driving theoretical innovation at the present time

Li Zehou and Confucian Philosophy Roger T. Ames, Jinhua Jia, 2018-07-31 For more than a century scholars both inside and outside of China have undertaken the project of modernizing Confucianism but few have been as successful or influential as Li Zehou b 1930 Since the 1950s Li s extensive efforts in this regard have in turn exerted a profound influence on Chinese modernization and resulted in his becoming one of China s most prominent social critics To transform Confucianism into a contemporary resource for positive change in China and elsewhere Li has reinterpreted major ideas and concepts of classical Confucianism including a rereading of the entire Analects replete with his own philosophical speculations derived from other Chinese and Western traditions most notably the ideas of Kant and Marx and developed an aesthetical theory that has proved especially far reaching Although the authors of this volume hail from East Asia North America and Europe and a wide variety of academic backgrounds and fields of study they are unanimous in their appreciation of Li s contributions to not only an evolving Confucian philosophy but also world philosophy They view Li first and foremost as a sui generis thinker with broad global interests and not one who fits neatly into any one philosophical category Chinese or Western This is clearly reflected in the chapters included here which are organized into three parts Li Zehou and the Modernization of Confucianism Li Zehou s Reconception of Confucian Philosophy and Li Zehou s Aesthetical Theory and Confucianism Together they form a coherent narrative that reveals how Li has for more than half a century creatively studied absorbed and reconceptualized the Confucian ideational tradition to integrate it with Western philosophical elements and develop his own philosophical insights and original theories At the same time he has transformed and modernized

Confucianism for the purpose of both coalescing with and reconstructing a new world cultural order Xiong Shili's Understanding of Reality and Function, 1920-1937 Yu Sang, 2020-06-08 Xiong Shili 1885 1968 was one of the most important Chinese philosophers of the twentieth century and a founding figure of the modern New Confucian school of philosophy At the core of his metaphysics is one of the key conceptual polarities in traditional Chinese philosophy Reality ti and Function yong Xiong Shili's Understanding of Reality and Function 1920 1937 presents a detailed examination and analysis of the development of Xiong Shili's conception of Reality and Function between 1920 and 1937 While scholars have tended to focus on Xiong's mature ti yong philosophical system which was initially established in the early 1930s this study explains how that system was gradually formed providing a more comprehensive basis for understanding the development of Xiong's philosophical thought in later periods Chinese Philosophy in Transcultural Contexts Jana S. Rošker, 2024-12-12 Jana S. Rošker presents a novel dialectical method to our comprehension of diverse philosophical ideas Analyzing philosophical discourses that have emerged in China and the Sinophone region Rošker applies the method to examples from across the history of thought From Ancient Chinese logicians to 20th century intellectuals she connects thinkers and offers fresh insights into key aspects of philosophy The result is a series of vibrant dialogues among different intellectual traditions providing new understandings of transcultural philosophical interactions Dao Companion to Xuanxue 道 (Neo-Daoism) David Chai, 2020-09-29 This comprehensive volume surveys an important but neglected period of Chinese intellectual history Xuanxue Neo Daoism It provides a holistic approach to the philosophical and religious traits of this movement via the concepts of non being being and oneness Thinkers and texts on the periphery of Xuanxue are also examined to show readers that Xuanxue did not arise in a vacuum but is the result of a long and continuous evolution of ideas from pre Qin Daoism The 25 chapters of this work survey the major philosophical figures and arguments of Xuanxue a movement from the Wei Jin dynastic period 220 420 CE of early medieval China It also examines texts and figures from the late Han dynasty whose influence on Xuanxue has yet to be made explicitly clear In order to fully capture the multifaceted nature of this movement the contributors brilliantly highlight its more socially oriented characteristics Overall this volume presents an unrivaled picture of this exciting period It details a portrait of intellectual and cultural vitality that rivals if not surpasses what was achieved during the Warring States period Readers of the Yijing Daodejing and Zhuangzi will feel right at home with the themes and arguments presented herein while students and those coming to Xuanxue for the first time will acquire a wealth of knowledge Following His Own Path Jana S. Rošker, 2019-01-01 In this book Jana S. Rošker offers the first comprehensive overview and exegesis of the work of Li Zehou who is one of the most significant and influential Chinese philosophers of our time Rošker shows us how Li's complex system of thought seeks to revive various Chinese traditions and at the same time attempts to harmonize or reconcile this cultural heritage with the demands of the dominant economic political and axiological structures of our globalized world Various characterized as neo traditional neo Kantian post

Marxist Marxist Confucian pragmatist instrumentalist romantic and more Li's work was central to the period known as the Chinese Enlightenment in the 1980s and has helped modify and transform antiquated patterns of Chinese intellectual discourse. He is one of the rare Chinese thinkers whose work has not only had a deep and lasting impact on Chinese intellectuals but has acquired a broad readership outside of China as well. Seen from a broader intercultural perspective, Li's unique and imaginative approach to a wide range of basic theoretical problems has created new styles of intellectual investigation while reminding us of our belonging to a common humanity regardless of differences in our individual cultures, languages, preferences, and traditions.

Maximus the Confessor as a European Philosopher Sotiris Mitralaxis, Georgios Steiris, Marcin Podbielski, Sebastian Lalla, 2017-09-18. The study of Maximus the Confessor's thought has flourished in recent years: international conferences, publications, and articles; new critical editions and translations mark a torrent of interest in the work and influence of perhaps the most sublime of the Byzantine Church Fathers. It has been repeatedly stated that the Confessor's thought is of eminently philosophical interest. However, no dedicated collective scholarly engagement with Maximus the Confessor as a philosopher has taken place, and this volume attempts to start such a discussion. Apart from Maximus' relevance and importance for philosophy in general, a second question arises: should towering figures of Byzantine philosophy like Maximus the Confessor be included in an overview of the European history of philosophy or rather excluded from it as is the case today with most histories of European philosophy? Maximus' philosophy challenges our understanding of what European philosophy is. In this volume, we begin to address these issues and examine numerous aspects of Maximus' philosophy, thereby also stressing the interdisciplinary character of Maximian studies. Contributors include Fr. Maximos Constas, Justin Shaun Coyle, Vladimir Cvetkovi, Natalie Depraz, Demetrios Harper, Michael Harrington, Georgi Kapriev, Karolina Kocha,czyk, Boni, ska, Nicholas Loudovikos, Andrew Louth, John Panteleimon Manoussakis, Michail Mantzanas, Smilen Markov, Sotiris Mitralaxis, Marcin Podbielski, Dionysios Skliris, Georgios Steiris, Stoyan Tanev, Torstein Theodor Tollefsen, Jordan Daniel Wood.

Dao Companion to ZHU XI's Philosophy Kai-chiu Ng, Yong Huang, 2020-03-04. Zhu Xi (1130-1200) has been commonly and justifiably recognized as the most influential philosopher of Neo-Confucianism, a revival of classical Confucianism in face of the challenges coming from Daoism and more importantly Buddhism. His place in the Confucian tradition is often and also very plausibly compared to that of Thomas Aquinas slightly later in the Christian tradition. This book presents the most comprehensive and updated study of this great philosopher. It situates Zhu Xi's philosophy in the historical context of not only Confucian philosophy but also Chinese philosophy as a whole. Topics covered within Zhu Xi's thought are metaphysics, epistemology, ethics, political philosophy, hermeneutics, philosophy of religion, moral psychology, and moral education. This text shows both how Zhu Xi responded to earlier thinkers and how his thoughts resonate in contemporary philosophy, particularly in the analytic tradition. This companion will appeal to students, researchers, and educators in the field.

The Senses and the History of Philosophy Brian Glenney, José Silva, 2019-02-21. The study of perception and the role of the senses have recently risen to prominence in philosophy and are now a major area of study and research. However, the philosophical history of the senses remains a relatively neglected subject. Moving beyond the current philosophical canon, this outstanding collection offers a wide-ranging and diverse philosophical exploration of the senses from the classical period to the present day. Written by a team of international contributors, it is divided into six parts: Perception from Non-Western Perspectives, Perception in the Ancient Period, Perception in the Medieval Latin/Arabic Period, Perception in the Early Modern Period, Perception in the Post-Kantian Period, and Perception in the Contemporary Period. The volume challenges conventional philosophical study of perception by covering a wide range of significant as well as hitherto overlooked topics such as perceptual judgment, temporal and motion illusions, mirror and picture perception, animal senses, and cross-modal integration. By investigating the history of the senses in thinkers such as Plotinus, Aristotle, Berkeley, and Cavendish, and considering the history of the senses in diverse philosophical traditions including Chinese, Indian, Byzantine, Greek, and Latin, it brings a fresh approach to studying the history of philosophy itself. Including a thorough introduction as well as introductions to each section by the editors, The Senses and the History of Philosophy is essential reading for students and researchers in the history of philosophy, perception philosophy, philosophy of mind, philosophical psychology, aesthetics, and eastern and non-western philosophy. It will also be extremely useful for those in related disciplines such as psychology, religion, sociology, intellectual history, and cognitive sciences.
