Democracy Disconnected Fiona Anciano, Laurence Piper, 2018-10-03 Why is dissatisfaction with local democracy endemic despite the spread of new participatory institutions This book argues that a key reason is the limited power of elected local officials especially to produce the City City Hall lacks control over key aspects of city decision making especially under conditions of economic globalisation and rapid urbanisation in the urban South Demonstrated through case studies of daily politics in Hout Bay Democracy Disconnected shows how Cape Town residents engage local rule In the absence of democratic control urban rule in the Global South becomes a complex and contingent framework of multiple and multilevel forms of urban governance FUG that involve City Hall but are not directed by it Bureaucratic governance coexists alongside market developmental and informal forms of governance This disconnect of democracy from urban governance segregates people spatially socially but also politically Thus while the residents of Hout Bay may live next to each other they do not live with each other This book will be a valuable resource for students on programmes such as urban studies political science sociology development studies and political geography

Making See C. M. A. van Ekris, 2018-06-20 What is theologically and homiletically happening in prophetic sermons This empirical theological study offers an analysis of the prophetic dimension in contemporary practices of preaching including sermons from Bonhoeffer King and Tutu and from Dutch local contexts After a phenomenological opening five theological concepts are extracted from the studied sermons exposing destructiva interrupting dominant discourses recognising the Word overcoming destructiva and edifying the congregation In this study prophetic speech is reconstructed as an illuminative interplay between epiphanic and inductive aspects

Pan-African Aesthetics Lena Dallywater, 2025-11-17 Pan Africanism has been a global project aiming to unite people of African descent since the late nineteenth century Notions of Black and African arts and aesthetics have functioned as a bridge and brought positive identification across national ethnic or class divides even when rifts have appeared unbridgeable They were able to mediate Africanity positively both prior to and during the struggle for liberation and at times when the dream of a unified African nation died This study explores central aspects proponents and opponents of Pan African aesthetics and shows that conceptualizations of Black African and Afrocentric aesthetics form a kaleidoscope that is constantly changing Based on historical sources in depth reading and qualitative interviews the study illustrates what happened to the discussions in the postcolonial era The story of unfolds along the life paths and approaches of four intellectuals from Anglophone and Francophone Africa Their framings can tell us more about the underlying themes contestations and contradictions of emancipatory projects in the mid twentieth century and show us that the study of Pan Africanism is not yet exhausted neither is the history of the idea and the movement

The Struggle for Teacher Education Tom Are Trippestad, Anja Swennen, Tobias Werler, 2017-04-20 Reform of teacher education is en vogue worldwide today due to the widespread belief that teacher education has the power to change traditional modes of schooling educating new teachers who will be capable of improving the knowledge standard of children and boost the economic power of nations The Struggle for Teacher Education brings together conceptual comparative and empirical studies from Australia England Finland The Netherlands

Norway South Africa and South America to explore the ways in which professional education has been positioned in a reactive mode The contributors discuss how teacher education is a contested division in higher education and look at how current reform efforts may limit the potential and work of teacher education highlighting why this point needs more attention Moreover the collection reveals how teacher education s authorship on teacher professionalism may be weakened or strengthened by current reform drives and offers alternative models on how to rethink reforming teacher education
