Fuller, Steve

Unthinking Social Science Limits Of 19th Century Paradigms:

Unthinking Social Science Immanuel Maurice Wallerstein, 2001 Immanuel Wallerstein develops a thorough going critique of the legacy of nineteenth century social science for social thought in the new millennium We have to unthink radically revise and discard many of the presumptions that still remain the foundation of dominant perspectives today Once considered liberating these notions are now barriers to a clear understanding of our social world They include for example ideas built into the concept of development In place of such a notion Wallerstein stresses transformations in time and space Geography and chronology should not be regarded as external influences upon social transformations but crucial to what such transformation actually is Unthinking Social Science applies the ideas thus elaborated to a variety of theoretical areas and historical problems Wallerstein 2.0 Frank Jacob, 2023-07-06 Immanuel Wallerstein s world systems theory can help to better understand and describe developments of the 21st century The contributors address the possibilities to reread Wallerstein s theoretical thoughts and ideas that are related to different disciplines in the humanities and social sciences The presented interdisciplinary approach of this anthology thereby intends to highlight the broader value of Wallerstein s ideas even almost five decades after the famous sociologist and economic historian first expressed them The African Transformation of Western Medicine and the Dynamics of Global Cultural Exchange David Baronov, 2010-05-14 Beginning with the colonial era Western biomedicine has radically transformed African medical beliefs and practices Conversely in using Western biomedicine Africans have also transformed it The African Transformation of Western Medicine and the Dynamics of Global Cultural Exchange contends that contemporary African medical systems no less biomedical than Western medicine in fact greatly enrich and expand the notion of biomedicine reframing it as a global cultural form deployed across global networks of cultural exchange The book analyzes biomedicine as a complex and dynamic sociocultural form the conceptual premises of which make it necessarily subject to ongoing change and development as it travels the globe David Baronov captures the complexities of this cultural exchange by using world systems analysis in a way that places global cultural processes on equal footing with political and economic processes In doing so he both allows the story of Africa s transformation of Western biomedicine to be told and offers new insights into the capitalist world system Structural Lie Charles C. Lemert, 2015-12-22 The Structural Lie tackles one of social science s most mysterious problems How is it possible to derive statements about the grand structures of social life from their effects in the small movements of everyday life Prominent sociologist Charles Lemert shows how Marx and Freud provide some answers to this question Marx derived from the commodity his picture of the capitalist system Freud diagnosed the character of psyches from the details of dreams slips and jokes This wonderfully readable and engaging book lays the foundation for a new social science in an age where a microchip can convey a world of information The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Sarah K. Croucher, Lindsay Weiss, 2011-08-10 The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Postcolonial Historical Archaeologies explores the complex interplay of colonial and capital formations throughout the modern world The authors present a critical approach to this topic trying to shift discourses in the theoretical framework of historical archaeology of capitalism and colonialism through the use of postcolonial theory This work does not suggest a new theoretical framework as such but rather suggests the importance of revising key theoretical terms employed within historical archaeology arguing for new engagements with postcolonial theory of relevance to all historical archaeologists as the field de centers from its traditional locations Examining case studies from North America South America the Caribbean Africa Australia the Middle East and Europe the chapters offer an unusually broad ranging geography of historical archaeology with each focused on the interplay between the particularisms of colonial structures and the development of capitalism and wider theoretical discussions Every author also draws attention to the ramifications of their case studies in the contemporary world With its cohesive theoretical framework this volume is a key resource for those interested in decolonizing historical archaeology in theory and praxis and for those interested in the development of modern global dynamics

Rise of the Bourgeoisie, Demise of Empire Fatma

Muge Gocok,1996-02-01 What are the causes of imperial decline This work studies the Ottoman empire in the 18th and 19th centuries to argue that the Ottoman imperial decline resulted from a combination of Ottoman internal dynamics with external influences Specifically it contends that the split within the Ottoman social structure across ethno religious lines interacted with the effects of war and commerce with the West to produce a bifurcated Ottoman bourgeoisie This bourgeoisie divided into disparate commercial and bureaucratic elements was able to challenge the sultan but was ultimately unable to salvage the empire Instead the Ottoman empire was replaced by the Turkish nation state and others in the Balkans and the Middle East This work will appeal to students of sociology and Ottoman studies

Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries Sanja S.

Petkovska,2023-12-12 Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries Redefining Progressiveness Coloniality and Transition Efforts is a timely contribution to the project of theorizing Europe through decolonial perspectives on the Left as the European and global crisis has prompted new reflections on what it means to sit still at the European peripheries The book explores how the joint scholarship efforts of postcolonial and postsocialist scholars might come up with better grounded and more detailed theoretical and methodological insights into the process of globalization and subsequent peripheralization if framed under a progressive and leftist perspective The authors many from the South East Europe region use a variety of analytical lenses to demonstrate how the nexus of postcolonial postsocialist area studies and progressive developmental political thought could inspire changes in the future which are in dissonance with neoliberal and neoconservative capitalism As the side effects of global capitalism continue to accelerate scholars and activists in the postsocialist periphery are increasingly turning to the concept of decoloniality in the hope that it might offer more options on how to begin to build up their framework This book offers numerous examples of how decolonial theory can be applied to activist work in the fight against austerity and neoliberalization as well as examples of how decolonial critique can be mobilized to contest processes of Europeanization and Euro Atlantic integration This book will intrigue students and scholars of critical social scholarship in general as well as postsocialism and postcolonialism critiques of right populism and the rise of white nationalism in Europe and those studying the regions of South Eastern Europe and Eurasia more generally It will also interest activists organizers decision makers policy analysts and leftists both in the region and internationally Preparing for Life in Humanity 2.0 S. Fuller, 2012-10-30 Developing directly from Fuller's recent book Humanity 2.0 this is the first book to seriously consider what a post or trans human state of being might mean for who we think we are how we live what we believe and what we aim to be

Foreign Aid and Emerging Powers Iain Watson, 2014-07-11 Current debates on emerging powers as foreign aid donors often fail to examine the myriad geopolitical geoeconomic and geocultural tensions that influence policies of Official Development Assistance ODA This book advocates a regional geopolitical approach to explaining donor donor relationships and provides a multidisciplinary critical assessment of the contemporary debates on emerging powers and foreign aid bringing together economic and geopolitical approaches in the light of the 2015 completion of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs Moving away from established debates assessing the advantages and disadvantages of foreign aid this book challenges the current geopolitical assumptions of the emerging powers concerning issues such as south south solidarity shared development experience and multipolarity It analyses how donor governments sell aid to recipients through enabling different cultural assumptions and soft power narratives of national identity and provides empirical evidence on agendas such as aid effectiveness aid for trade public private partnerships and green growth aid The book examines the role of and relationships between the leading traditional and emerging power Asian donors specifically and explores the different and contested perspectives and patterns of ODA policy through an alternative account of emerging power foreign aid to leading African and Asian recipients This book provides a valuable resource for postgraduate students and practitioners across disciplines such as development economics and geopolitics of development uniquely approaching the debate from the perspective of emerging powers and donors

New Urban Spaces Neil Brenner, 2019-05-24 In New Urban Spaces Neil Brenner proposes a radical reconceptualization of inherited approaches to urbanization. Rather than focusing on cities as bounded units, urbanization is conceived here as multiscalar. Drawing on the methods of critical geopolitical economy, especially the writings of Henri Lefebvre, Brenner systematically elaborates this multiscalar conceptualization of the capitalist urban fabric in order to investigate emergent patterns and pathways of urban restructuring.
