The Best American Short Stories 2012 Tom Perrotta, Heidi Pitlor, 2012 Presents twenty of the best works of short fiction of the past year from a variety of acclaimed sources

Edinburgh Companion to Modern Jewish Fiction David Brauner, 2015-06-07 Provides critical overviews of the main writers and key themes of Anglophone Jewish fiction This collection of essays represents a new departure for and a potentially re defining moment in literary Jewish Studies It is the first volume to bring together essays covering a wide range of American British South African Canadian and Australian Jewish fiction Moreover it complicates all these terms emphasising the porousness between different national traditions and moving beyond traditional definitions of Jewishness For the sake of structural clarity the volume is divided into three parts American Jewish Fiction British Jewish Fiction and International and

Transnational Anglophone Jewish Fiction but many of the essays cross over these boundaries and speak to each other implicitly as well as on occasion explicitly Extending and redefining the canon of modern Jewish fiction the volume juxtaposes major authors with more marginal figures revising and recuperating individual reputations rediscovering forgotten and discovering new work and in the process remapping the whole terrain This volume opens windows onto vistas that previously had been obscured and opens doors for the next generation of studies that could not proceed without a wide ranging visionary empiricism grounding their work The Edinburgh Companion is a paradigm changing event and nothing in Jewish literary studies that follows can fail to pay close attention to it Key Features Highlights the rich diversity of the field and identifies its key themes including immigration the Diaspora the Holocaust Judaism assimilation antisemitism and Zionism Analyses the main trends in Anglophone Jewish fiction and situates them in historical context Discusses the place of Anglophone Jewish fiction in relation to critical debates concerning transatlanticism and transnationalism ethnicity and identity politics postcolonial studies feminist studies and Jewish Studies With a preface by Mark Shechner the volume contains 28 essays by contributors including Vicki Aarons Trinity University Texas Debra Shostak Wooster College Ohio Ira Nadel University of British Columbia Efraim Sicher Ben Gurion University Phyllis Lassner Northwestern University Sue Vice University of Sheffield Lori Harrison Kahan Boston College Ruth Gilbert University of Winchester Beate Neumeier University of Cologne and Sandra Singer University of Guelph David Brauner is Professor of Contemporary Literature at The University of Reading Axel Staer is Reader in Comparative Literature at the University of Kent Canterbury

New Directions in Jewish American and Holocaust Literatures Victoria Aarons, Holli Levitsky, 2019-02-28 Surveys the current state of Jewish American and Holocaust literatures as well as approaches to teaching them What does it mean to read and to teach Jewish American and Holocaust literatures in the early decades of the twenty first century New directions and new forms of expression have emerged both in the invention of narratives and in the methodologies and discursive approaches taken toward these texts The premise of this book is that despite moving farther away in time the Holocaust continues to shape and inform contemporary Jewish American writing Divided into analytical and pedagogical sections the chapters present a range of possibilities for thinking about these literatures Contributors address such genres as biography the graphic novel alternate history midrash poetry and third generation and hidden child Holocaust narratives Both canonical and contemporary authors are covered including Michael Chabon Nathan Englander Anne Frank Dara Horn Joe Kupert Philip Roth and William Styron The range of critical approaches and authors examined makes this a valuable resource for scholars and teachers Particularly in this troubling political moment meditations on the new and continued relevance of Jewish American and Holocaust literatures for scholars students and the American public in general are invaluable Sharon B Oster author of No Place in Time The Hebraic Myth in Late Nineteenth Century American Literature Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman, 2019-01-09 This scholarly study explores the conflicting forces of assimilation and cultural heritage in literary portrayals of Jewish American identity In Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman takes on the fraught question of who passes for Jewish in American literature and culture In today's contemporary political climate religious and racial identities are being reconceived as responses to culture and environment rather than essential qualities Many Jews continue to hold conflicting ideas about their identity seeking deep engagement with Jewish history and the experiences of the Jewish people while holding steadfastly to the understanding that identity is fluid and multivalent Looking at carefully chosen texts from American literature Ruderman elaborates on the strategies Jews have used to pass from the late nineteenth century to the present nose jobs renaming clothing changes religious and racial reclassification and even playing baseball While traversing racial and religious identities has always been a feature of America's nation of immigrants Ruderman shows how the complexities of identity formation and deformation are critically relevant during this important cultural moment
