Virginia Davis Grubb 1919-1980 became a key figure in the canon of Appalachian literature The author of ten novels and dozens of short stories and radio plays Grubb's writings as Tom Douglass observes catalogued his life and a turbulent life it was marked by the traumatic loss of both the family home and his father during the Great Depression the overbearing affections of his mother the fear of failure painful struggles with alcohol and drug abuse profligate spending and a conflicted sexuality Grubb originally aspired to be a visual artist but thwarted by color blindness turned to writing instead honing his skills in the advertising industry Today he is best remembered for his first novel The Night of the Hunter 1953 a gripping story of a Depression era serial killer and his pursuit of two young children along the Ohio River This book spent twenty eight weeks on The New York Times best seller list and became the basis for a classic film directed by Charles Laughton starring Robert Mitchum Shelley Winters and Lillian Gish While his subsequent work never achieved that same level of popularity the fierce thematic oppositions he set forth in his debut novel between love and hate good and evil the corrupt and the pure the rich and the poor would inform his entire oeuvre Although Grubb's career took him to the great cities of New York Philadelphia and Los Angeles his work was always rooted in key emblems of his Appalachian childhood the river the state penitentiary and the largest Indian mound east of the Mississippi all in his native Moundsville In his works Douglass asserts Grubb was an avenging angel righting the wrongs of the past in his own life in his own country and putting trust in his own vision of divine love Off the page he was riven by personal demons more than once in danger of losing his life to self annihilation and to the self accusation that he was a fallen angel This biography the first ever written of Grubb captures his life and work in all their intriguing complexity
