When Culture Impacts Health Global Lessons For Effective Health Research:

When Culture Impacts Health Cathy Banwell, Stanley Ulijaszek, Jane Dixon, 2013-01-25 Bringing the hard to quantify aspects of lived experience to analysis and emphasizing what might be lost in interventions if cultural insights are absent this book includes case studies from across the Asia and Pacific regions Bangladesh Malaysia New Guinea Indonesia Thailand South Korea Australia New Zealand Tuvalu and the Cook Islands When Culture Impacts Health offers conceptual methodological and practical insights into understanding and successfully mediating cultural influences to address old and new public health issues including safe water delivery leprosy Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder and body image It contains useful methodological tools how to map cultural consensus measure wealth capital conduct a cultural economy audit for example It provides approaches for discerning between ethnic and racial constructs and for conducting research among indigenous peoples The book will be indispensable for culture and health researchers in all regions Discusses global application of case descriptions Demonstrates how a cultural approach to health research enriches and informs our understanding of intractable public health problems Covers methods and measurements applicable to a variety of cultural research approaches as well as actual research results Case studies include medical anthropology cultural epidemiology cultural history and social medicine perspectives The Central Asian World Jeanne Féaux de la Croix, Madeleine Reeves, 2023-10-25 This landmark book provides a comprehensive anthropological introduction to contemporary Central Asia Established and emerging scholars of the region critically interrogate the idea of a Central Asian World at the intersection of post Soviet Persianate East and South Asian worlds Encompassing chapters on life between Afghanistan and Kazakhstan Turkmenistan and Xinjiang this volume situates the social political economic ecological and ritual diversity of Central Asia in historical context The book ethnographically explores key areas such as the growth of Islamic finance the remaking of urban and sacred spaces as well as decolonising and queering approaches to Central Asia The volume's discussion of More than Human Worlds Everyday Economies Material Culture Migration and Statehood engages core analytical concerns such as globalisation inequality and postcolonialism Far more than a survey of a world region the volume illuminates how people in Central Asia make a life at the intersection of diverse cross cutting currents and flows of knowledge In so doing it stakes out the contribution of an anthropology of and from Central Asia to broader debates within contemporary anthropology This is an essential reference for anthropologists as well as for scholars from other disciplines with a focus on Central Asia The Health of Populations Jack James, 2015-11-02 The Health of Populations Beyond Medicine uses current research and in depth analysis to provide insights into the issues and challenges of population health a subject of increasing concern due largely to rapid population growth population aging rising costs and diminishing resources health inequality and the global rise in noncommunicable diseases Reducing the global burden of disease requires prevention of disease incidence which is achievable through reduction of exposure to primary behavioral and secondary biomedical risk factors The 15 chapters of the book are divided into three sections that focus on the science of health the harm of medicine and how to achieve optimal health By highlighting the benefits of preventing incidence of disease this book illustrates how biomedicine needs to be repositioned from being the dominant approach in healthcare to being an adjunct to behavioral legislative social and other preventive means for optimizing population health Heavily evidence based and thoroughly referenced with hundreds of scientific citations Contains a glossary as well as valuable tables illustrations and information boxes to further explain core content Provides fresh perspectives on issues related to rapid population growth population aging rising costs diminishing resources health inequality and more Carefully distills extensive tracts of information clarifies misunderstandings and rebuts myths with the ultimate goal of encouraging better understanding of the action needed to promote optimal health for all

Health of People, Places and Planet Colin D. Butler, Jane Dixon, Anthony G. Capon, 2015-07-31 This book has three main goals The first is to celebrate the work of a great public health figure the late A J Tony McMichael 1942 2014 The second is to position contemporary public health issues in an interdisciplinary context and in ways that highlight the interdependency between the environment human institutions and behaviours a broad approach championed by Tony The third is to encourage emerging and future public health leaders to advocate for policies and cultural change to sustain and improve human health from a foundation of objective scholarship The book's foreword and 38 chapters were written by people who were inspired by Tony many of whom worked with him at some point in the last 40 years Its structure reflects five major public health domains each of which Tony made major contributions to in an extremely productive academic life occupational health and safety environmental and social epidemiology nutrition and food systems climate change and health and ecosystem change and infectious disease The final section Transformation is dedicated to Tony's desire for public health scientists to propose adaptive and mitigating solutions to the problems they were observing Each section contains at least one key publication involving Tony There is also a selection of artworks from an exhibition which formed part of the conference held to honour Tony at The Australian National University in 2012 This conference formed the first part of Tony's festschrift completed by this book

Food Pedagogies Rick Flowers, Elaine Swan, 2016-04-22 In recent years everyone from politicians to celebrity chefs has been proselytizing about how we should grow buy prepare present cook taste eat and dispose of food In light of this contributors to this book argue that food has become the target of intensified pedagogical activity across a range of domains including schools supermarkets families advertising and TV media Illustrated with a range of empirical studies this edited and interdisciplinary volume the first book on food pedagogies develops innovative and theoretical perspectives to problematize the practices of teaching and learning about food While many different pedagogues policy makers churches activists health educators schools tourist agencies chefs think we do not know enough about food and what to do with it the aims effects and politics of these pedagogies has been much less studied Drawing on a range of international studies diverse contexts genres and different methods this book provides new sites of investigation and lines of inquiry As a result of its broad ranging critical evaluation of food as classroom and food as teacher it provides theoretical resources for opening up the concept of pedagogy and assessing the moralities and politics of teaching and learning about food in the classroom and beyond engaging accessible way Hearing Impairment and Hearing Disability Anthony Hogan, Rebecca Phillips, 2016-03-09

The purpose of this book is to challenge people service providers people with a hearing disability and those who advocate for them to reconsider the way western society thinks about hearing disability and the way it seeks to include them It highlights the concern that the design of hearing services is so historically marinated in ableist culture that service users often do not realise they may be participating in their own oppression within a phono centric society With stigma and marginalisation being the two most critical issues impacting on people with hearing disability Hogan and Phillips document both the collective and personal impacts of such marginality In so doing the book brings forward an argument for a paradigm shift in hearing services Drawing upon the latest research and policy work the book opens up a conceptual framework for a new approach to hearing services and looks at the kinds of personal and systemic changes a paradigm shift would entail

Through a Lens of Scarcity Hanna Luetke Lanfer, 2021-09-09 The conditions for strategic health communication campaigns as a public health tool are examined for low income contexts The theoretical framework drafts a socioecological model with an extension of poverty influences to bring into focus the dynamics of a resource poor environment and its impact on health related behaviours and health campaigns The research design includes two studies conducted in Sierra Leone Study 1 triangulated three qualitative methods to explore past and current health communication practice in Sierra Leone Study 2 is a mixed methods field experiment on handwashing which explored the effects of different campaign strategies Results show that a community based participatory approach with the inclusion of local leaders as health messengers was associated with higher chances of behaviour change than a non treated setting Further pathways for context sensitive approaches for deprived audiences are suggested Food Pedagogies Dr Elaine Swan, Dr Rick Flowers, 2015-12-28 In recent years everyone from politicians to celebrity chefs has been proselytizing about how we should grow buy prepare present cook taste eat and dispose of food In light of this contributors to this book argue that food has become the target of intensified pedagogical activity across a range of domains including schools supermarkets families advertising and TV media Illustrated with a range of empirical studies this edited and interdisciplinary volume the first book on food pedagogies develops innovative and theoretical perspectives to problematize the practices of teaching and learning about food While many different pedagogues policy makers churches activists health educators schools tourist agencies chefs think we do not know enough about food and what to do with it the aims effects and politics of these pedagogies has been much less studied Drawing on a range of international studies diverse contexts genres and different methods this book provides new sites of investigation and lines of inquiry As a result of its broad ranging critical evaluation of food as classroom and food as teacher it provides theoretical resources for opening up the concept of pedagogy and assessing the moralities and politics of teaching and learning about food in the classroom and beyond
