Where The World Does Not Follow Buddhist China In Picture And Poem:

Where the World Does Not Follow Mike O'Connor, 2002-11 Gorgeous and unique Where the World Does Not Follow captures an almost hidden China Acclaimed translator Mike O Connor and photographer Steven Johnson uncover a world rarely seen by outsiders even as they capture it in its everyday beauty O Connor s translations of poems from China s Tang Dynasty sing in the present day while Johnson s photographs reveal a modern day China that seems almost unchanged by the passing of centuries Chinese authorities are only now allowing access to ancient Buddhist sites and many writings and devotional objects are being made available for the first time in decades These poems written by Zen and Taoist hermit sages together with the crisp yet almost dreamlike images capture the aesthetic literary and spiritual roots of Buddhist China Where the World Does Not Follow provides insight into a world that very few have been able to visit and a time difficult even to imagine O Connor and Johnson s book is a hymn to nature to the art of photography and to the common beauty of humanity that extends to us like a silk thread from another time and place Daughters of Emptiness Beata Grant, 2012-06-04 Women played major roles in the history of Buddhist China but given the paucity of the remaining records their voices have all but faded In Daughters of Emptiness Beata Grant renders a great service by recovering and translating the enchanting verse by turns assertive observant devout of forty eight nuns from sixteen centuries of imperial China This selection of poems along with the brief biographical accounts that accompany them affords readers a glimpse into the extraordinary diversity and sometimes startling richness of these women s lives A sample poem for this stunning collection The sequence of seasons naturally pushes forward Suddenly I am startled by the ending of the year Lifting my eyes I catch sight of the winter crows Calling mournfully as if wanting to complain The sunlight is cold rather than gentle Spreading over the four corners like a cloud A cold wind blows fitfully in from the north Its sad whistling filling courtyards and houses Head raised I gaze in the direction of Spring But Spring pays no attention to me at all Time a galloping colt glimpsed through a crack The tap of Death at the door has its predestined time How should I not know one who has left the world And for whom floating clouds are already familiar In the garden there grows a rosary plum tree Whose sworn friendship makes it possible to endure Chan Master Jingnuo The Spiritual Legacy of Shaolin Temple Andy James, 2004 An internationally renowned teacher of Qigong instructor introduces readers to the wisdom of the Shaolin Temple where Buddhism and Taoism have
