Writing Europe, 500-1450 Aidan Conti, Orietta Da Rold, Philip A. Shaw, 2015 Essays on the writing and textual culture of Europe in the middle ages Medieval Europe was characterized by a sophisticated market for the production exchange and sale of written texts This volume brings together papers on a range of topics centred on manuscript studies and textual criticism which explore these issues from a pan European perspective They examine the prolonged and varied processes through which Europe's different parts entered into modern reading writing and communicative practices drawing on a range of approaches and perspectives they consider material culture multilingualism in texts and books book history readers audience and scribes across the Middle Ages Dr Aidan Conti teaches in the Department of Linguistic Literary and Aesthetic Studies University of Bergen Dr Orietta Da Rold teaches in the Faculty of English University of Cambridge Dr Philip Shaw teaches at the School of English University of Leicester Contributors Rolf H

Bremmer Jr Stewart Brookes Aidan Conti Orietta Da Rold Helen Fulton Marilena Maniaci Debora Matos Annina Seiler Peter A Stokes Nadia Togni Svetlana Tsonkova Matilda Watson George Younge Creative Writing and Stylistics, Revised and Expanded Edition Jeremy Scott, 2023-08-24 In this innovative fusion of practice and criticism Jeremy Scott shows how insights from stylistics and linguistics can enrich the craft of creative writing Focusing on crucial methodological issues that confront the practicing writer this book introduces writers to key topics from stylistics provides in depth analysis of a wide range of writing examples and includes practical exercises to help develop creative writing skills Thoroughly revised and expanded throughout this updated edition more clearly lays out specialist ideas and technical terms within the field of linguistics and features both greater focus on the creative process and more practical exercises to help writers engage with ideas in their work Clear and accessible this invaluable guide will give both students and writers a greater critical awareness of the creative possibilities of language

Reading Writing Interfaces Lori Emerson, 2014-06-01 Lori Emerson examines how interfaces from today's multitouch devices to yesterday's desktops from typewriters to Emily Dickinson's self-bound fascicle volumes mediate between writer and text as well as between writer and reader Following the threads of experimental writing from the present into the past she shows how writers have long tested and transgressed technological boundaries Reading the means of production as well as the creative works they produce Emerson demonstrates that technologies are more than mere tools and that the interface is not a neutral border between writer and machine but is in fact a collaborative creative space Reading Writing Interfaces begins with digital literature's defiance of the alleged invisibility of ubiquitous computing and multitouch in the early twenty-first century and then looks back at the ideology of the user-friendly graphical user interface that emerged along with the Apple Macintosh computer of the 1980s She considers poetic experiments with and against the strictures of the typewriter in the 1960s and 1970s and takes a fresh look at Emily Dickinson's self-printing projects as a challenge to the coherence of the book Through archival research Emerson offers examples of how literary engagements with screen-based and print-based technologies have transformed reading and writing She reveals the ways in which writers from Emily Dickinson to Jason Nelson and Judd Morrissey work with and against media interfaces to undermine the assumed transparency of conventional literary practice

Historical Research, Creative Writing, and the Past Kevin A. Morrison, Pålvi Rantala, 2023-07-12 Although historical research undertaken in different disciplines often requires speculation and imagination it remains relatively rare for scholars to foreground these processes explicitly as a knowing method Historical Research Creative Writing and the Past brings together researchers in a wide array of disciplines including literary studies and history ethnography design film and sound studies who employ imagination creativity or fiction in their own historical scholarship or who analyze the use of imagination creativity or fiction to make historical claims by others This volume is organized into four topical sections related to representations of the past textual and conceptual approaches material and emotional approaches speculative and experiential approaches and embodied methodologies and covers a variety of temporal periods and geographical contexts Reflecting on the methodological theoretical and ethical underpinnings of writing history creatively or speculatively the essays situate themselves within current debates over epistemology and interdisciplinarity They yield new insights into historical research methods including archival investigations and source criticisms while offering readers tangible examples of how to do history differently
