of crimes from manslaughter to contract killings reveal the violence in their lives and its roots Voices from a Black Miami Neighborhood Sharony Green, 2025-10-10 This Palgrave Pivot is a personal and universal history of gain and loss Via memoir and oral histories Sharony Green a native of Miami with ancestral roots in the American South and the Bahamas sheds light on ups and down of African American residents before and after the Second World War The author uses the Baa Haas an outlying community in Miami Dade County a region that is also a gateway to Caribbean and Latin America as a starting place to think through such things As early as the New Deal era white powerbrokers desired to relocate people of African descent from the lucrative waterfronts to a desolate and sandy area about twenty miles northwest of Miami s downtown This community was later nicknamed the Baa Haas presumably because its nearby prehistoric beach resembled California s Bajas beaches Whether spelled Baa Haas Bajas or Bahas the tiny neighborhood whose biggest landmark nowadays is Hard Rock Stadium is noteworthy It was not until whites themselves settled there first beginning in the fifties with the help of the 1944 GI bill that people of African descent aided by the Fair Housing Act of 1968 at last moved there Some arrived from older Miami communities like Liberty City Overtown and Coconut Grove or even elsewhere in the States Essentially two federal initiatives collided with positive gains for the oppressed As people increasingly find themselves displaced owing to gentrification this book permits an opportunity for readers to see what had been possible for prospective black homeowners
