The Voluntary City Choice Community And Civil Society:

The Voluntary City David T. Beito, Peter Gordon, Alexander Tabarrok, 2002 Challenges the orthodoxy that insists government alone can improve community life Regulating Place Eran Ben-Joseph, Terry S. Szold, 2005-07-08 Tracing how codes arose when they did and how they were adapted over time the authors examine the increasing influence of regulatory codes over urban design and planning in the past century Democratic by Design Gabriel Metcalf, 2015-11-17 Americans have since our founding participated in a variety of alternative institutions self organized projects that work outside the traditional structures of government and business to change society From the town meetings that still serve as our ideal of self governance to the sustainable food movement that is changing the way we think about farming the land and feeding our families these secondary structures have given rise to many of our most exciting and important innovations Yet most people still know little about them even as their numbers and their influence increase In today s climate of widespread economic inequity political gridlock and daunting environmental challenges we sorely need a fresh approach to social and political change In Democratic by Design Gabriel Metcalf sketches out a strategy that starts with small scale living examples of a better society that can ultimately scale up to widespread social transformation Using examples like car sharing organizations community land trusts credit unions workers co ops citizen juries community supported agriculture farms mission driven corporations and others Democratic by Design shows how alternative institutions can be the crucial spark for a broad new progressive movement Contractual Communities in the Self-Organising City Grazia Brunetta, Stefano Moroni, 2012-01-05 Both land use regulation and territorial collective services have traditionally been accomplished in cities through coercive efforts of public administrations Recently land use regulation and collective service provision regimes have emerged within contractual communities territory based organisations usually but not exclusively residential such as homeowners associations This book examines the problems and opportunities of contractual communities avoiding both the alarmism and unwarranted apologies found in much of the literature on contractual communities The central notion is that cases in which coercive action by a public agency was deemed indispensable have been unjustly overstated while the potential benefits of voluntary self organising processes have been seriously understated The authors propose a revised notion of the state role that allows ample leeway for contractual communities of all forms Behind the Gates Setha Low, 2004-03 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Ancient Pakistan - An Archaeological History Mukhtar Ahmed, 2014-10-18 This is the fourth volume of the Ancient Pakistan An Archaeological History It deals with a number of issues of the Indus Civilization which are primarily of theoretical importance The main topics that have been discussed are the social and political organization of the Harappan society the Harappan religion the Indus script and language the beginning and the end of this vast civilization and the recent attempts in creating some myths around the Indus Civilization Since this volume is primarily dedicated to the theoretical and the abstract descriptive material

Imperfect Institutions Þráinn Eggertsson, 2005-04-20 Surveys the new institutional theory of economic prosperity and decline Explores institutional policy and opportunities for reform A Historical Context and Archaeological Research Design for Townsite Properties in California, 2010 Lessons from the Poor Alvaro Vargas Llosa, 2008-05 An important contribution to the literature of economic development this book presents case studies of productive entrepreneurship in contemporary Africa and Latin America It looks at the growth of Kenya's chain stores and one person kiosks the rise of barter clubs in Argentina and Nigeria's clothing design industry to illustrate economists' insights about entrepreneurship and the role that government regulations often play in impeding economic development Half the people in the world live on two dollars or less per day and roughly 600 million live on no more than one dollar per day With thousands of international relief organizations strategic government programs and billions of dollars in foreign aid why do so many underdeveloped countries remain unable to grow their economies beyond mere survival It is this issue that internationally acclaimed political analyst Alvaro Vargas Llosa and a select group of economists examine in a series of case studies from around the world These studies reveal that entrepreneurial energy can be a persistent catalyst for change But unfortunately in societies dominated by political corruption and unnecessary regulation men and women seeking to innovate must hurdle a series of challenges Wealth transfer favoritism excessive taxation and lack of institutional security all conspire against progress Our contributors examine real world examples of entrepreneurship and argue that instead of redistributing existing wealth developing countries should start working to create it The Common Property Resource Digest, 2003 Democracy, Governance, and Growth Stephen F. Knack, 2003 Demonstrates the importance of governance and social institutions to economic performance Market-augmenting Government Omar Azfar, Charles Cadwell, 2003 Shows how governments and markets are complementary rather than opposing forces Choice, 2003 The Portland Edge Connie Ozawa, 2004-10-05 In The Portland Edge leading urban scholars who have lived in and studied the region present a balanced look at Portland today explaining current conditions in the context of the people and institutions that have been instrumental in shaping it The Journal of Ayn Rand Studies, 2005
