The War of the Worlds By H. G. Wells (Annotated Edition) H. G. Wells, 2020-10-31

The unnamed narrator from Woking, England, begins by comparing the unsuspecting human population to the contents of a slide on a microscope. Those contents are unaware of the beings observing them as the Earthlings are of the Martians, with intellects vast and cool and unsympathetic, who watch them as they go about their daily activities. He claims Mars is older than Earth and wonders why man, so blinded by his vanity, has failed to recognize for so long the probability of the existence of intelligent life on its neighboring planet. He observes that just as Mars is cooling as it ages and its inhabitants long for a younger, verdant world, so too must humanity face the same fate. Foreshadowing the destruction the aliens will bring, the narrator reminds readers of the cruelty that humans have also brought on their fellow beings, as when native Tasmanians were wiped out by British colonialists off the coast of Australia.
