The Western Canon The Books And School Of The Ages:

The Western Canon Harold Bloom, 1996 This text is a defence of the western literary canon which the author sees being eroded by the tyranny of cultural studies and political correctness in the academic and literary world It is both a survey of the great authors from Dante to Beckett that make up the canon with Shakespeare at its centre as well as a polemical assault on the forces that are trying to diminish it

The Western Canon Harold Bloom, 1995 Literary critic Harold Bloom's The Western Canon is more than a required reading list it is a vision Infused with a love of learning compelling in its arguments for a unifying written culture it argues brilliantly against the politicization of literature and presents a guide to the great works of the western literary tradition and essential writers of the ages The Western Canon was nominated for the National Book Critics Circle Award

The Western Canon Harold Bloom, 1994 The Western Canon Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of the Humanities Harold Bloom, 2017-08-31 The Western Canon The Books and School of the Ages is a 1994 book by Harold Bloom on Western literature in which Bloom defends the concept of the Western canon by discussing 26 writers whom he sees as central to the canon The Western Canon is Bloom's best known book alongside The Anxiety of Influence 1973 and was a surprise bestseller upon its release in the United States Bloom argues against what he calls the School of Resentment which includes feminist literary criticism Marxist literary criticism Lacanians New Historicism

Deconstructionists and semioticians The Western Canon includes four appendices listing works that Bloom at the time considered canonical stretching from earliest scriptures to Tony Kushner's Angels in America Bloom would later disown the list saying that it was written at his editor's insistence and distracted from the book's intention

The Western Canon Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2014-11-16 The Western Canon Harold Bloom Appendix A D The Western Canon The Books and School of the Ages is a 1994 book by Harold Bloom on Western literature It is his best known book alongside The Anxiety of Influence and was a surprise bestseller upon its release in the United States The book argues against what Bloom calls the School of Resentment in which he includes feminist literary criticism Marxist literary criticism Lacanians New Historicism Deconstructionists and semioticians The book also contained four appendices that listed works that at the time he considered canonical stretching from earliest scriptures to Tony Kushner's Angels in America Bloom would later disown the list saying that it was written at his editor's insistence and distracted from the book's intention Norman Fruman wrote that The Western Canon is a heroically brave formidably learned and often unbearably sad response to the present state of the humanities

The Western Canon Harold Bloom, 2020-06-11 The literary critic defends the importance of Western literature from Chaucer and Shakespeare to Kafka and Beckett in this acclaimed national bestseller NOMINATED FOR THE NATIONAL BOOK CRITICS CIRCLE AWARD Harold Bloom's The Western Canon is more than a required reading list it is a heroically brave formidably learned defense of the great works of literature that comprise the traditional Western Canon Infused with a love of learning compelling in its arguments for a unifying written culture it argues brilliantly against the politicization of literature and presents a guide to the essential writers of the western literary tradition The New York Times Book Review Placing William Shakespeare at the center of the canon Bloom examines the literary contributions of Dante Alighieri John Milton Jane Austen Emily Dickenson Leo Tolstoy Sigmund Freud James Joyce Pablo Neruda and many others Bloom s book much discussed and praised in publications as diverse as The Economist and Entertainment Weekly offers a dazzling display of erudition and passion An impressive work deeply rightly passionate about the great books of the past Michel Dirda The Washington Post Book World

The Dialectical Path of Law Charles Lincoln,2021-10-13 This book aims to contribute a single idea a new way to interpret legal decisions in any field of law and in any capacity of interpreting law through a theory called legal dialects This theory of the dialectical path of law uses the Hegelian dialectic which compares and contrasts two ideas showing how they are concurrently the same but separate without the original ideas losing their inherent and distinctive properties what in Hegelian terms is referred to as the sublation To demonstrate this theory Lincoln takes different aspects of international tax law and corporate law two fields that seem entirely contradictory and shows how they are similar without disregarding their key theoretical properties Primarily focusing on the technical rules of the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD approach to international tax law and the United States approach to tax law Lincoln shows that both engage in the Hegelian dialectical approach to law

Romantic Poets and the Culture of Posterity Andrew Bennett,1999-12-02 This 1999 book examines the way in which the Romantic period s culture of posterity inaugurates a tradition of writing which demands that the poet should write for an audience of the future the true poet a figure of neglected genius can be properly appreciated only after death Andrew Bennett argues that this involves a radical shift in the conceptualization of the poet and poetic reception with wide ranging implications for the poetry and poetics of the Romantic period He surveys the contexts for this transformation of the relationship between poet and audience engaging with issues such as the commercialization of poetry the gendering of the canon and the construction of poetic identity Bennett goes on to discuss the strangely compelling effects which this reception theory produces in the work of Wordsworth Coleridge Keats Shelley and Byron who have come to embody for posterity the figure of the Romantic poet

Religious Ideas for Secular Universities C. John Sommerville,2009-11-10 During the last century American students and scholars have found it increasingly difficult to discuss the relation of religion to the mission of self consciously secular colleges and universities Respected scholar C John Sommerville here offers thought provoking reflections on this subject in a conversational style Sommerville explores the crisis of the secular university argues that religion and secular universities need each other and examines how Christianity shows up on both sides of our culture wars The astute reflections in Religious Ideas for Secular Universities point the way to a dialogue that would do justice both to religious insights and to truly neutral secular education

Literature Against Criticism Martin Paul Eve,2016-10-17 This is a book about the power game currently being played out between two symbiotic cultural institutions the university and the novel As the number of hyper knowledgeable literary fans grows students and researchers in English departments waver between dismissing and harnessing voices outside the academy Meanwhile the role that the university plays in contemporary literary fiction is becoming increasingly complex and metafictional moving far beyond the campus novel of the mid twentieth century Martin Paul Eve's engaging and far reaching study explores the novel's contribution to the ongoing displacement of cultural authority away from university English Spanning the works of Jennifer Egan Ishmael Reed Tom McCarthy Sarah Waters Percival Everett Roberto Bolaño and many others Literature Against Criticism forces us to re think our previous notions about the relationship between those who write literary fiction and those who critique it The Age of Distraction Robert Hassan, 2017-09-08 Connections between time technology and the processes of reading and writing make clear the links between experiences of what appear to be quite different phenomena Reading and writing have functioned together in a particular way to build the world as we have known it for three thousand years These interacting processes have now been transformed at their core and are building a different world one where certainties of the previous era are disappearing and being displaced by what the author sees as a chronic and pervasive mode of cognitive distraction Robert Hassan offers a perspective permeated by a sense of history beginning with the invention of writing and the development of the skill of reading Together with technological developments these provide a unique view of the trajectory of modernity into late modernity and illustrate how the arc of progress has transformed New modes of time technology and reading and writing are helping create a faster world where we know less about more and forget what we know evermore quickly What is the time of a thought Is it possible to measure thinking Can we consider knowledge or information or reading and writing as having temporal rhythms These are questions Hassan tries to answer So unfamiliar are we to thinking in such terms that they sound impossible To a significant degree time thinking and many forms of knowledge are the fruits of subjective experience We connect experiences at superficial levels where people have different experiences that may be objectively the same but our interpretations will always diverge in respect of the reality we confront This intersection of philosophy and communication takes the reader into new realms of analysis The Rock Canon Carys Wyn Jones, 2017-07-05 Canons are central to our understanding of our culture and yet in the last thirty years there has been much conflict and uncertainty created by the idea of the canon In essence the canon comprises the works and artists that are widely accepted to be the greatest in their field Yet such an apparently simple construct embodies a complicated web of values and mechanisms Canons are also inherently elitist however Carys Wyn Jones here explores the emerging reflections of values terms and mechanisms from the canons of Western literature and classical music in the reception of rock music Jones examines the concept of the canon as theorized by scholars in the fields of literary criticism and musicology before moving on to search for these canonical facets in the reception of rock music as represented by ten albums Bob Dylan's Highway 61 Revisited The Beach Boys Pet Sounds The Beatles Revolver The Velvet Underground's The Velvet Underground Nico Van Morrison's Astral Weeks Marvin Gaye's What

s Going On The Rolling Stones Exile on Main St Patti Smith s Horses The Sex Pistols Never Mind the Bollocks Here s the Sex Pistols and Nirvana s Nevermind Jones concludes that in the reception of rock music we are not only trying to organize the past but also mediate the present and any canon of rock music must now negotiate a far more pluralized culture and possibly accept a greater degree of change than has been evident in the canons of literature and classical music in the last two centuries

Reading Dante Jesper Hede, 2007-09-16 Reading Dante The Pursuit of Meaning examines the problem of determining the thematic unity of Dante s Divina Commedia in the history of Dante studies The question of unity has puzzled Dante readers for centuries due to an apparent discrepancy between Dante s construction of the afterworld and medieval Christian teachings on the conditions of the afterlife If all sins condemned in Hell can be forgiven we would expect to see them purged in Purgatory and their virtuous opposite celebrated in Paradise In Dante s account however the three realms of the afterlife appear as self contained entities with only partially related structures that undermine the establishment of thematic correspondences and the determination of the poem s thematic unity Was Dante inconsistent in his exposition of the divine order or have Dante scholars been inconsistent in their treatment of the poem s thematic content Jesper Hede examines the prevalent strategies of reading applied by Dante scholars in their attempt to solve the problem of unity Detailing the major contributions to the resolution of the problem and focusing on medieval philosophy and modern hermeneutics Hede argues that a systematic parallel reading of the poem s three parts reveals that it is the vision of divine order that gives the poem its thematic unity

Comparative constitutionalism emerged in its current form against the backdrop of the fall of the Berlin Wall and the end of the Cold War As that backdrop recedes into the past it is being replaced by a more multi polar and confusing world and the current state of the discipline of comparative constitutionalism reflects this fragmentation and uncertainty This has opened up space for new more varied and increasingly critical voices seeking to improve the project of democratic constitutionalism But it also raises questions What of the past if anything is worth preserving Which more recent parts should be defining of the field In this context this book asks which are or should be the canonical texts of comparative constitutionalism The theoretical scope of the contributions is broad and ambitious selecting primary material from beyond the existing textbooks to engage the concept of a canon This framework provides significant insights about inclusion and exclusion and proposes candidates for canonical and anti canonical materials The result is a wide ranging discussion among many voices of how particular judgments and other primary texts have shaped or should shape our understanding of central elements of democratic constitutionalism from a comparative law perspective This book is not a prescription of one universal understanding but a broader conversation about the field and the future of constitutional democracy

Studia Patristica: Athanasius and his opponents, Cappadocian Fathers, other Greek writers after Nicaea Elizabeth A. Livingstone,1997 Papers presented at the Twelfth International Conference on Patristic Studies held in Oxford 1995 see also Studia Patristica 29 30 31 and 33 The successive sets of Studia Patristica contain papers delivered at the International Conferences on Patristic Studies which meet for a week once every four years in Oxford they are held under the aegis of the Theology Faculty of the University Members of these conferences come from all over the world and most offer papers These range over the whole field both East and West from the second century to a section on the Nachleben of the Fathers The majority are short papers dealing with some small and manageable point they raise and sometimes resolve questions about the authenticity of documents dates of events and such like and some unveil new texts The smaller number of longer papers put such matters into context and indicate wider trends The whole reflects the state of Patristic scholarship and demonstrates the vigour and popularity of the subject
