Glen Joshua D. Hendrick,2013-08-12 The Hizmet Service Movement of Fethullah Glen is Turkey s most influential Islamic identity community Widely praised throughout the early 2000s as a mild and moderate variation on Islamic political identity the Glen Movement has long been a topic of both adulation and conspiracy in Turkey and has become more controversial as it spreads across the world In Glen Joshua D Hendrick suggests that when analyzed in accordance with its political and economic impact the Glen Movement despite both praise and criticism should be given credit for playing a significant role in Turkey s rise to global prominence Drawing on 14 months of ethnographic fieldwork in Turkey and the U S Hendrick examines the Glen Movement s role in Turkey s recent rise as well as its strategic relationship with Turkey s Justice and Development Party led government He argues that the movement s growth and impact both inside and outside Turkey position both its leader and its followers as indicative of a post political turn in twenty first century Islamic political identity in general and as illustrative of Turkey s political economic and cultural transformation in particular Joshua D Hendrick is Assistant Professor of Sociology and Global Studies at Loyola University Maryland in Baltimore
