Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa Francis Musoni,2020-04-07 With the end of apartheid rule in South Africa and the ongoing economic crisis in Zimbabwe the border between these Southern African countries has become one of the busiest inland ports of entry in the world As border crossers wait for clearance crime violence and illegal entries have become rampant Francis Musoni observes that border jumping has become a way of life for many of those who live on both sides of the Limpopo River and he explores the reasons for this including searches for better paying jobs and access to food and clothing at affordable prices Musoni sets these actions into a framework of illegality He considers how countries have failed to secure their borders why passports are denied to travelers and how border jumping has become a phenomenon with a long history especially in Africa Musoni emphasizes cross border travelers active participation in the making of this history and how clandestine mobility has presented opportunity and creative possibilities for those who are willing to take the risk

Age of Concrete David Morton,2019-07-17 Age of Concrete is a history of the making of houses and homes in the suburbs of Maputo Lourenço Marques Mozambique from the late 1940s to the present Often dismissed as undifferentiated ahistorical slums these neighborhoods are in fact an open air archive that reveals some of people's highest aspirations At first people built in reeds Then they built in wood and zinc panels And finally even when it was illegal they risked building in concrete block making permanent homes in a place where their presence was often excruciatingly precarious Unlike many histories of the built environment in African cities Age of Concrete focuses on ordinary homebuilders and dwellers David Morton thus models a different way of thinking about urban politics during the era of decolonization when one of the central dramas was the construction of the urban stage itself It shaped how people related not only to each other but also to the colonial state and later to the independent state as it stumbled into being Original deeply researched and beautifully composed this book speaks in innovative ways to scholarship on urban history colonialism and decolonization and the postcolonial state Replete with rare photographs and other materials from private collections Age of Concrete establishes Morton as one of a handful of scholars breaking new ground on how we understand Africa's cities

Contentious Migrant Solidarity

Donatella della Porta,Elias Steinhilper,2021-09-30 In the context of both the financial crisis and the crisis of European migration politics the notion of solidarity has gained renewed prominence and as this book argues its practice has become increasingly contentious Intersecting crises have sharpened social and political polarization and have contracted simultaneously the space for migrant and minority rights as well as the rights around political dissent Building upon social movement and migration studies this book maps the two sides of contentious solidarity a shrinking civic space and its contestation by civil society The book thereby unfolds the variety of repressive means physical legal administrative and discursive employed by governmental and non governmental bodies against migrant solidarity but also looks at how civil society organizations react to these restrictions through at times moderation and at times increasing contention The diagnosis of contentious solidarity is located within two broader trends affecting the relationship between the state and civil society in a neoliberal context in general and since the financial crisis in particular Bridging studies on social movement studies and civil society organizations this volume contributes to recent reflections on repression of social movements as well as of a hybridization of civil society organizations Given its broad scope and the utmost timeliness of the issues it addresses the volume will be of interest to a broad academic and non academic audience

Songs of the South African AIDS Crisis

Gavin Robert Walker,2025-09-04 Using the concept of musical effervescence a collective state of synchronized and focused intersubjectivity through music Gavin Robert Walker reveals how and why songs have become such a ubiquitous and formidable force within the AIDS epidemic in Africa Drawn from a rich and powerful cultural history music has been used to inspire HIV AIDS activism and advocacy facilitate local psychosocial healing communicate life saving health information motivate communities towards healthy behaviors and promote acceptance of individuals living with HIV In this book Walker introduces musical effervescence a collective state of synchronized and focused intersubjectivity through music to reveal how and why songs have become such a ubiquitous and formidable force within the AIDS epidemic in South Africa He situates music at the core of human experience unpacking how collective singing embodies a shared sense of humanity This compelling analysis engages deeply with interpersonal musical encounters asking what makes these experiences both deeply personal and fundamentally social how can music be relevant to such a diverse range of outcomes and what can musical effervescence contribute to our understanding of the arts and social emotional or physical wellness Challenging conventional assumptions about the universality of music Walker explores the relational bonds it cultivates through movement perception experience and perspective to reveal music's role in shaping the South African AIDS crisis Life, Times and Work of William Gillies, 1898-1973 Andrew McPherson, 2024-11-30 For seventy years William Gillies has been seen as a placid painter of landscape and decorative still life Andrew McPherson explodes this view to reveal a modernist whose response to the instabilities and violence of modernity touched universals of human experience Gillies' idiom was shaped by institutions for artistic production unique to Scotland But it was the politics of Scotland's connections to the rest of the British Isles that produced his mythic and misleading reputation New paintings and new meanings are uncovered placing the micro effects of modernity on mental health family and community in the wider contexts of war nationalism and public patronage McPherson also shows how this changing world led Gillies towards new applications of modernist expression Lavishly illustrated and referencing almost one thousand works this major reappraisal is an indispensable source on the cultural politics of a four nation state and the reception of modernism in Britain
