The Routledge Handbook on Cities of the Global South Susan Parnell, Sophie Oldfield, 2014-03-26 The renaissance in urban theory draws directly from a fresh focus on the neglected realities of cities beyond the west and embraces the global south as the epicentre of urbanism This Handbook engages the complex ways in which cities of the global south and the global north are rapidly shifting the imperative for multiple genealogies of knowledge production as well as a diversity of empirical entry points to understand contemporary urban dynamics The Handbook works towards a geographical realignment in urban studies bringing into conversation a wide array of cities across the global south the ordinary mega global and peripheral With interdisciplinary contributions from a range of leading international experts it profiles an emergent and geographically diverse body of work

The contributions draw on conflicting and divergent debates to open up discussion on the meaning of the city in or of the global south arguments that are fluid and increasingly contested geographically and conceptually It reflects on critical urbanism the macro and micro scale forces that shape cities including ideological demographic and technological shifts and constantly changing global and regional economic dynamics Working with southern reference points the chapters present themes in urban politics identity and environment in ways that re frame our thinking about cities The Handbook engages the twenty first century city through a southern urban lens to stimulate scholarly professional and activist engagements with the city

The Urban Transport Crisis in Emerging Economies Dorina Pojani, Dominic Stead, 2016-11-18 This edited volume discusses urban transport issues policies and initiatives in twelve of the world's major emerging economies Brazil China Colombia India Indonesia Iran Mexico Nigeria Russia South Africa Turkey and Vietnam countries with large populations that have recently experienced large changes in urban structure motorization and all the associated social economic and environmental impacts in positive and negative senses Contributions on each of these twelve countries focus on one or more major cities per country This book aims to fill a gap in the transport literature that is crucial to understanding the needs of a large portion of the world's urban population especially in view of the southward shift in economic power Readers will develop a better understanding of urban transport problems and policies in nations where development levels are below those of richer countries mainly in the northern hemisphere but where the rate of economic growth is often increasing at a faster rate than the wealthiest nations

Urban Competitiveness in Developing Economies Peter Karl Kresl, 2020-06-08 Plenty has been written on the competitiveness of megacities capital cities and regional hubs Cities in developing countries have not yet received the same attention this book fills that gap An international team of expert academics have come together to present a comprehensive study of the competitiveness of cities in the developing world Spanning Asia Africa and Latin America this book homes in on specific city cases and examines how they relate to the rest of the global economy The focus is on acknowledging their unique contexts while drawing out commonalities and ultimately identifying ways for them to enhance their competitiveness wellbeing and sustainability This volume will be valuable reading to advanced students researchers and policymakers in urban and regional studies economic geography and economic development

The Oxford Handbook of the South African Economy Arkebe Oqubay, Fiona Tregenna, Imraan Valodia, 2021 This Handbook provides a detailed and wide ranging coverage of the key economic questions in South Africa concentrating on the more recent economic challenges facing the country

Mega-Urbanization in the Global South Ayona Datta, Abdul Shaban, 2016-11-03 The global south is entering an Urban Age where for the first time in history more people will be living in cities than in the countryside The logics of this prediction have a dominant framing rapid urbanization uncontrolled migration resource depletion severe fuel shortages and the breakdown of law and order We are told that we must be prepared The solution is simple they say Mega urbanization is an opportunity for economic growth and prosperity Therefore we must build big build new and build fast With contributions from an international range of established and emerging scholars drawing upon real world examples Mega Urbanization in the Global South is the first to use the lens of speed to examine the postcolonial urban revolution From the mega urbanization of Lusaka to the production of satellite cities in Jakarta to new cities built from scratch in Masdar Songdo and Rajarhat this book argues that speed is now the persistent feature of a range of utopian visions that seek to expedite the production of new cities These fast cities are the enduring images of postcolonial urbanism which bypass actually existing urbanisms through new power knowledge coalitions of producing knowing and governing the city The book explores three main themes Part I examines fast cities as new urban utopias which propagate the illusion that they are quick fix sustainable solutions to insulate us from future crises Part II discusses the role of the entrepreneurial state that despite its neoliberalisation is playing a key role in shaping mega urbanization through laws policies and brute force Part III finally delves into how fast cities built by entrepreneurial states actually materialise at the scale of regional urbanization rather than as metropolitan growth This book explores the contradictions between intended and unintended outcomes of fast cities and points to their fault lines between state sovereignty capital accumulation and citizenship It concludes with a vision and manifesto for slow and decelerated urbanism This timely and original book presents urban scholars with the theoretical empirical and methodological challenges of mega urbanization in the global south as well as highlighting new theoretical agendas and empirical analyses that these new forms of city making bring to the fore

Smart Urbanism Simon Marvin, Andrés Luque-Ayala, Colin McFarlane, 2015-12-14 Smart Urbanism SU the rebuilding of cities through the integration of digital technologies with buildings neighbourhoods networked infrastructures and people is being represented as a unique emerging solution to the majority of problems faced by cities today SU discourses enacted by technology companies national governments and supranational agencies alike claim a supremacy of urban digital technologies for managing and controlling infrastructures achieving greater effectiveness in managing service demand and reducing carbon emissions developing greater social interaction and community networks providing new services around health and social care etc Smart urbanism is being represented as the response to almost every facet of the contemporary urban question This book explores this common conception of the problematic of smart urbanism and critically address what new capabilities are being created by whom and with what exclusions how these are being developed and contested where is this happening both within and between cities and with what sorts of social and material consequences The aim of the book is to identify and convene a currently fragmented and disconnected group of researchers commentators developers and users from both within and outside the mainstream SU discourse including several of those that adopt a more critical perspective to assess what problems of the city smartness can address The volume provides the first internationally comparative assessment of SU in cities of the global north and south critically evaluates whether current visions of SU are able to achieve their potential and then identifies alternative trajectories for SU that hold radical promise for reshaping cities

Sustainable Social Housing Development in BRICS+ Countries Soraya Beukes, Marzieh Asaadi, Pfano Mashau, Marina G. Shilina, Nazreen Shaik-Peremanov, 2025-08-07 This book serves as a comprehensive examination of the challenges and best practices encompassing access to adequate housing in BRICS nations It provides insights into the initiatives that can empower BRICS countries to build resilient inclusive sustainable cities and communities for the future relevant to the UN SDG 11 The book is written in a non technical style in order to be accessible to various actors including non specialists In addition it takes into account perspectives from various stakeholders including governments NGOs academic institutions financial institutions and citizens It consults international frameworks and standards for housing including treaties declarations and conventions on the right to housing With this it also provides solutions to creating sustainable cities to realise SDG11 and thereby dignify communities with adequate housing

Sustainable Urbanization in India Jenia Mukherjee, 2017-10-06 This comprehensive volume contributes to the existing and emerging body of literature on contemporary urbanization and the interactions between cities and the environment The volume is contextualized against latest theories debates and discussions on sustainable urbanization the post 2015 development agenda of the United Nations and India's official launching of the smart city agenda Reflecting on three major components of urban sustainability investments and infrastructures waste management and urban ecologies and environmentalisms it moves beyond the bi centric approach of only looking into the differences between the developed and the developing world and reflects on cities across India using polycentric methods and approaches The Indian urban scenario is extremely complex and diverse and solutions laid out in official and non official documents tend to miss these complexities This volume includes innovative research across different parts of India identifying city specific sources of unsustainability and challenges along with strategies and potentials that would make the process of urban transition both sustainable and equitable Complex explorations of non linear bottom up multisectoral process based local urban contexts across north south east and west Indian cities in this volume critique a general acceptance of the universalized concept of sustainable urbanization and suggest ways that might be important for transcending inclusive theories to form practical policy based recommendations and actions

Contemporary South Africa and the Political Economy of Regional Development Methembe Mdlalose, Isaac Khambule, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2025-02-21 South Africa s struggle in balancing its domestic needs while playing a dynamic developmental role in the African region and global context exposes a complex web of relations shaped by its geostrategic location on the continent and the world and the staggering legacies of colonialism and apartheid As such understanding the complexities of the global economy and of South Africa s place in it is of great importance This book builds upon an existing body of literature which has demonstrated that while the post apartheid South African state has recast its nation building goals with advances having been made notably in the area of a stellar post apartheid constitution policy directives and democratic political integration economic integration and policy implementation presents a projection of captured interests where big business concerns are entrenched in the post apartheid state s apparent neo liberal turn The main focus of the book is to contextualise issues relating to three main trends in global discourses on development which are significant for South Africa and indeed for the study of the political economy of regional development in the country from the prism of South Africa as a global capitalist state These trends include the impact of globalisation regionalisation and the marginalisation of South Africa and indeed the African continent in the global economy thus unpacking the possible role that South Africa might play in regional development This volume will be a valuable resource to academics researchers and students in the fields of regional studies economics and political theory as well as policymakers planners and local economic development practitioners

Drivers of Climate Change in Urban India Lutz Meyer-Ohlendorf, 2018-11-20 This study transcends the homogenizing inter national level of argumentation rich versus poor countries and instead looks at a sub national level in two respects 1 geographically it focuses on the rapidly growing megacity of Hyderabad 2 in socio economic terms the urban population is disaggregated by taking a lifestyle typology approach For the first time the lifestyle concept traditionally being used in affluent consumer societies is applied to a dynamically transforming and socially heterogeneous urban society Methodically the author includes India specific value orientations as well as social practices as markers of social structural differentiation The study identifies differentials of lifestyle induced GHG emissions carbon footprints and

underlines the ambiguity of a purely income based differentiation with regard to the levels of contribution to the climate problem

Local and Regional Development Andy Pike, Andrés Rodríguez-Pose, John Tomaney, 2016-07-15 Actors and institutions in localities and regions across the world are seeking prosperity and well being amidst tumultuous and disruptive shifts and transitions generated by an increasingly globalised knowledge intensive capitalism global financial instability volatility and crisis concerns about economic social and ecological sustainability climate change and resource shortages new multi actor and multi level systems of government and governance and a re ordering of the international political economy state austerity and retrenchment and new and reformed approaches to intervention policy and institutions for local and regional development Local and Regional Development provides an accessible critical and integrated examination of local and regional development theory institutions and policy in this changing context Amidst its rising importance the book addresses the fundamental issues of what kind of local and regional development and for whom its purposes principles and values frameworks of understanding approaches and interventions and integrated approaches to local and regional development throughout the world The approach provides a theoretically informed critical analysis of contemporary local and regional development in an international and multi disciplinary context grounded in concrete empirical analysis from experiences in the global North and South It concludes by identifying what might constitute holistic inclusive progressive and sustainable local and regional development and reflecting upon its limits and political renewal

South African urban imaginaries: cases from Johannesburg Richard Ballard, Sandiswa Mapukata, 2022-06-01 How do government officials elected politicians powerful economic actors and ordinary people think and talk about the urban geography of South Africa How do they describe and represent change that is happening in cities towns and villages Do they consider these changes to be good or bad How do they think such places should change What do they do to try to bring about the changes they desire Competing answers to these questions have been at the centre of South Africa s urban development Through the 19th and 20th centuries white minority governments straddled quite contradictory imaginaries about who could build lives for themselves in urban areas and on what terms Ordinary people held their own urban imaginaries that were quite different to those of white minority governments and were core to the fight for democracy In the democratic era a range of official and popular imaginaries offer diverse visions on how South Africans should be transformed In an earlier collection produced under the GCRO Spatial Imaginaries project we explored the sometimes contradictory nature of post apartheid urban visions with for example with some promoting the creation of new urban settlements on greenfield sites and others attempting to densify and diversify long urbanised spaces Research Report 13 South African urban imaginaries Cases from Johannesburg is a second edited collection under the Spatial Imaginaries project and it uses a series of cases from Johannesburg that illustrate the interactions between urban imaginaries and the material city These cases include the depiction of central business districts in film as spaces of aspiration the way in which the imaginaries of developers in Hillbrow were shaped by the lives of those living there the imaginaries of Alexandra Renewal Project practitioners the way in which residents of Brixton understand diversity and the construction of two new bridges across the M1 to better connect Sandton and Alexandra

Urban Socio-Economic Segregation and Income Inequality Maarten van Ham,Tiit Tammaru,Rūta Ubarevičienė,Heleen Janssen,2021-03-29 This open access book investigates the link between income inequality and socio economic residential segregation in 24 large urban regions in Africa Asia Australia Europe North America and South America It offers a unique global overview of segregation trends based on case studies by local author teams The book shows important global trends in segregation and proposes a Global Segregation Thesis Rising inequalities lead to rising levels of socio economic segregation almost everywhere in the world Levels of inequality and segregation are higher in cities in lower income countries but the growth in inequality and segregation is faster in cities in high income countries This is causing convergence of segregation trends Professionalisation of the workforce is leading to changing residential patterns High income workers are moving to city centres or to attractive coastal areas and gated communities while poverty is increasingly suburbanising As a result the urban geography of inequality changes faster and is more pronounced than changes in segregation levels Rising levels of inequality and segregation pose huge challenges for the future social sustainability of cities as cities are no longer places of opportunities for all
