What Matters Most How We Got The Point But Missed The Person:

What Matters Most Leonard Sweet, 2012-03-13 Advocates a relationship with Jesus Christ based on personal engagement which can have life changing consequences

Signs of the Times Brian A. Ross, 2016-03-18 All ministry leaders concern themselves with the intersection of Jesus centered ministry and contemporary culture They ask themselves questions such as What do we need to change in order to keep up with a wired world What should never change What are the nonnegotiables of faith in Jesus Many have attempted to answer these questions However most of these leaders offer solutions that the everyday ministry leader simply cannot replicate Signs of the Times is a unique offering to those who wrestle with the mash up of ministry and culture All of the contributors have found success within their ministries and yet most do not minister to thousands on a weekly basis Additionally all of them have had the privilege of studying directly with Dr Leonard I Sweet Despite having authored more than fifty books Sweet can still be a bit of an enigma Many of his readers have been deeply influenced by him and yet they may still struggle to understand what his insights might mean for their ministry Each of the contributors to this work thoughtfully engages with a key idea that they personally learned from Sweet and they translate it for ministry in the early twenty first century

The Buzz About the Church Matthew Thomas, 2017-07-14 Imagine making fully committed disciples of Jesus by both looking at the template of Jesus in scripture and a hive of honeybees The sacred process of Jesus can be found in both creation and scripture Journey with me to explore the sacred practice of discipleship through the metaphor of beekeeping What we will discover are connections we never imagined existed The same God who created the world is the One who showed up in it through Jesus Christ The process the Creator used to mature life is the same process Jesus used to make mature followers The biblical story of Sampson and the lion will be our guide and the riddle we will uncover as we journey to discover what is Strong and Sweet

A Church Wide Enough for Everyone Steven H. Propp, 2018-02-03 Robert Schaeffer and Douglas West are best friends living in Oklahoma in 1963 when they discover that they both sense a calling to become ministers in a mainline Christian denomination But from seminary and their early years in ministry to their golden years looking back on what it takes to lead a congregation a stimulating sometimes puzzling yet often inspirational world of theological controversies and congregational concerns would unfold for these two men of God A Church Wide Enough for Everyone follows these two men on their journey to demonstrate the continuing relevance of the Christian faith in a postmodern world After moving to Berkeley California to attend college and seminary they have little time to ponder the vast social changes taking place before they immediately enter into intensive critical study of the Bible and Christian theology And as Robert is then thrust into the ordained ministry with his wife Faye both men must in their own ways face the political cultural and ideological pressures of each passing decade responding to challenges from both within the church and from outsiders Are mainline churches and Christian theology dead Or might they be revitalized in the current century A Church Wide Enough for Everyone and the inspired journeys of two ministers offers a window into how this revitalization and new understanding is possible Missional Leadership Nelus Niemandt, 2019-12-12

The purpose and aim of this book is to develop an appropriate leadership model for missional churches. This implies a positioning of this book within the broader theology of mission and a consensus on the theology of the Missio Dei originating at the 1952 conference of the International Missionary Council in Willingen, Germany. In this approach to the theology of mission, mission is understood as the work of the Trinitarian God and the church is privileged to participate in God's mission. It is against this background that the growing consensus on missional ecclesiology challenges leadership models developed for a different time and a different kind of church with less or no emphasis on the missional character of the church. The aim is to reflect theologically on the role of leadership in the missional church. What kind of ideas about power, authority, and leadership are appropriate for a missional church? New missional challenges demand new ideas about missional leadership. Church organisation and leadership reflects a theological position; there is a strong relation between ecclesiology and church organisation. The nature of the church provides the framework to understand the character of the church. What the church is determines what the church does. The church organises what it does and agrees on rules that regulate ministries and organisation. Issues such as the way the church organises and governs what it does and thus church leadership need to be answered against this background and understanding. Church polity and organisation as well as leadership must reflect the identity, calling, life, and order of the church. This book therefore addresses life in the Trinity, participation in the Missio Dei, and contours of the missional church as the point of entry to develop leadership insights. It contributes towards the development of an appropriate model of leadership for missional churches because although recent developments in the theology of mission comprehensively addressed the area of missional ecclesiology, there is a gap in the development of a leadership model based on the concept of authority in the missional church. Fire, Water, and Wind Norbert Haukenfrers, 2016-05-09

Fire, Water, and Wind explores the forming of a healthy sense of personal identity. The impetus for Fire, Water, and Wind was the observation that people are searching for meaning and identity, are dissatisfied with their current situations, and many are actively seeking escape from their current life experiences. This is evidenced by the number of people involved in high-risk activities, be it drug or alcohol abuse, gambling, prostitution, multiple sex partners, smoking, or violent crimes. But does it have to be this way? Following the finding in the fields of psychology and neuroscience that narrative plays a key role within the context of identity formation, Fire, Water, and Wind offers an understanding of identity formation that is grounded in the biblical narrative that enables and equips one to face the varied challenges of life. Concluding that a narrative understanding of one's identity and ongoing formation as a follower of Jesus incorporates an integration of heart and mind, body and soul that requires the nurturing of a biblical imagination and unconscious looking at the signs, symbols, and metaphors encouraging one's life wholly alive, enabling one to answer the question: What should I live for?

question The Beauty and the Horror Richard Harries, 2016-10-20 For anyone who is fascinated by the phenomenon of religion this is a deeply interesting book Mary Warnock Although we can all give meaning to our lives by trying to live well is there some given meaning to be discovered Science cannot answer this question and philosophical arguments leave the issue open The monotheistic religions claim that the meaning has been revealed to us and Christians see this is above all in the life death and resurrection of Jesus Described by Rowan Williams as that rarity a Christian public intellectual Richard Harries considers the Christian claim in the context of an in depth discussion of the nature of evil and how this is to be reconciled with a just and loving God Drawing on a wide range of modern literature he argues that belief in the resurrection and hope in the face of death is fundamental to faith and suggests that while there is no final intellectual answer to the problem of evil we must all believer and nonbeliever alike protest against the world and seek to change it rather than accept it as it is

Giving Blood Leonard Sweet,2014-03-25 A Groundbreaking Resource for Preaching If the church wishes to converse effectively with a culture it must learn the culture s language Today shifts in technology mean that language is increasingly one of symbols and metaphors stories and images not words So what does this mean for the sermon that long standing word based tradition of Christianity In this ground breaking resource bestselling author Leonard Sweet offers an alternative to traditional models of preaching one that is fitting to a new culture and a new mode of thinking The first book of its kind to move preaching beyond its pulpit centric fixation and toward more interactive participatory modes of communication Sweet presents both a challenge and a path forward for a church struggling to maintain its relevance in a post modern media saturated culture

Blue John Sutherland,2017-05-25 A Sunday Times top five bestseller This is a remarkable book profound and deeply moving It has as much to tell us about mental illness as it does about policing Alastair Stewart John Sutherland joined the Met in 1992 having dreamed of being a police officer since his teens Rising quickly through the ranks he experienced all that is extraordinary about a life in blue saving lives finding the lost comforting the broken and helping to take dangerous people off the streets But for every case with a happy ending there were others that ended in desperate sadness and in 2013 John suffered a major breakdown Blue is his memoir of crime and calamity of adventure and achievement of friendship and failure of serious illness and slow recovery With searing honesty it offers an immensely moving and personal insight into what it is to be a police officer in Britain today
