Transforming Europe Transforming Europe:

Transforming Europe Maria Green Cowles, James Caporaso, Thomas Risse, 2018-08-06 Does the European Union change the domestic politics and institutions of its member states Many studies of EU decisionmaking in Brussels pay little attention to the potential domestic impact of European integration Transforming Europe traces the effects of Europeanization on the EU member states The various chapters based on cutting edge research examine the impact of the EU on national court systems territorial politics societal networks public discourse identity and citizenship norms The European Union the authors find does indeed make a difference even in Germany France and the United Kingdom In many cases EU rules and regulations incompatible with domestic institutions have created pressure for national governments to adapt This volume examines the conditions under which this adaptational pressure has led to institutional change in the member states Transforming Europe Maria Green Cowles, James A. range of countries in Central Europe Labour and Social Transformation in Central and Eastern Europe offers a comprehensive and contrasting view of labour developments in Central and Eastern Europe Chapters explore three related issues The first deals with the understanding of the complex process of Europeanization applied in the sphere of labour employment and industrial relations The second issue refers to the attempt to link the Europeanization approach with an analysis mobilizing the theoretical concept of dependent capitalism s The third issue refers to the cumulative trends of labour weakening and labour awakening that has emerged in particular in the aftermath of the crisis beginning in 2007 2008 This book will be of interest to academics policy makers and stakeholders at European and national level in the EU member states

American and European Experience of the Transformation of Higher Education and Research Tor Halvorsen,Atle Nyhagen,2011-10-18 The university in Europe as a central institution of society is presently met with many new expectations challenging established practices and self understandings of academics across Europe In the European Union the higher education and research system has become a foremost tool of change Current reforms across national higher education systems are seen as a potential for creating a European Higher Education Area as well as an opportunity to introduce EU policies and ideas addressing how reforms can contribute to promote this as an EU dimension An argument that only reforms of the higher education institution in particular the research university as a European institution can make Europe regain its competitive force and economic growth potential has gained currency in the last decade with reference to the US The university system of the US particularly its highly regarded elite universities is also held forth as a model for the developments in the EU and thus for the reforms of the different countries of EU In this book however it is demonstrated that much of the political rhetoric about the construction of the future knowledge economy of Europe and the promotion of a European Higher Education Area may contradict basic values that give Europe its identity as a cultural region Promoting the US university as an ideal model does not do justice to the kind of problems the US is facing in their own reform efforts nor does it reflect properly the social costs of copying such an elite system The book raises a number of issues relating to elitism and democracy internationalisation and regionalisation and new forms of governance in higher education and research which current EU policies seem to neglect
