Thinking Through Craft:

Thinking Through Craft Glenn Adamson, 2007-10 This book provides an introduction to the way that artists working in all media think about craft Dispensing with clichéd arguments that craft is art Adamson persuasively makes a case for defining craft in a more nuanced fashion Thinking Through Craft Glenn Adamson, 2007

Collaboration Through Craft Amanda Ravetz, Alice Kettle, Helen Felcey, 2017-07-27 Offering a challenging new argument for the collaborative power of craft this ground breaking volume analyses the philosophies politics and practicalities of collaborative craft work The book is accessibly organised into four sections covering the cooperation and compromises required by the collaborative process the potential of recent technological advances for the field of craft the implications of cross disciplinary and cross cultural collaborations for authority and ownership and the impact of crafted collaborations on the institutions where we work learn and teach With cutting edge essays by established makers and artists such as Allison Smith US and Brass Art UK curator Lesley Millar textile designer Trish Belford and distinguished thinker Glenn Adamson Collaborating Through Craft will be essential reading for students artists makers curators and scholars across a number of fields

The Invention of Craft Glenn Adamson, 2013-04-01 Glenn Adamson's last book Thinking Through Craft offered an influential account of craft's position within modern and contemporary art Now in his engaging sequel The Invention of Craft his theoretical discussion of skilled work is extended back in time and across numerous disciplines Adamson searches out the origins of modern craft locating its emergence in the period of the industrial revolution He demonstrates how craft was invented as industry's other a necessary counterpart to ideas of progress and upheaval In the process the magical and secretive culture of artisans was gradually dominated through division and explication This left craft with an oppositional stance a traditional or anti modern position The Invention of Craft ranges widely across media from lock making wood carving and iron casting to fashion architecture and design It also moves back and forth between periods from the 18th century to the present day demonstrating how contemporary practice can be informed through the study of modern craft in its moment of invention

The Thinking University Søren S.E. Bengtson, Ronald Barnett, 2018-04-27 This book reinvigorates the philosophical treatment of the nature purpose and meaning of thought in today's universities The wider discussion about higher education has moved from a philosophical discourse to a discourse on social welfare and service economics and political agendas This book reconnects philosophy with the central academic concepts of thought reason and critique and their associated academic practices of thinking and reasoning Thought in this context should not be considered as a merely mental or cognitive construction still less a cloistered college but a fully developed individual and social engagement of critical reflection and discussion with the current pressing disciplinary political and philosophical issues The editors hold that the element of thought and the ability to think in a deep and groundbreaking way is still the essence of the university But what does it mean to think in the university today And in what ways is thought related not only to the epistemological and ontological issues of philosophical debate but also to the social and political dimensions of our globalised age In many countries the state is imposing limitations on universities dismissing or threatening academics who speak out critically With this volume the editors ask questions such as What is the value of thought What is the university's proper relationship to thought To give the notion of thought a thorough philosophical treatment the book is divided into three parts The focus moves from an epistemological perspective in Part I to a focus on existence and values in higher education in Part II and then to a societal oriented focus on the university in Part III All three parts in their own ways debate the notion of thought in higher education and the university as a thinking form of being

Sloppy Craft Elaine Cheasley Paterson, Susan Surette, 2015-09-24 Sloppy Craft Postdisciplinarity and the Crafts brings together leading international artists and critics to explore the possibilities and limitations of the idea of sloppy craft craft that is messy or unfinished looking in its execution or appearance or both The contributors address sloppiness in contemporary art and craft practices including painting weaving sewing and ceramics consider the importance of traditional concepts of skill and the implications of sloppiness for a new 21st century emphasis on inter and postdisciplinarity as well as for activist performance queer and Aboriginal practices In addition to critical essays the book includes a conversation section in which contemporary artists and practitioners discuss challenges and opportunities of sloppy craft in their practice and teaching and an afterword by Glenn Adamson

The Pursuit of Pleasurable Work Trevor H. J. Marchand, 2021-11-01 Against the backdrop of an alienating technologizing and ever accelerating world of material production this book tells an intimate story one about a community of woodworkers training at an historic institution in London's East End during the present renaissance of craftsmanship The animated and scholarly accounts of learning achievement and challenges reveal the deep human desire to create with our hands the persistent longing to find meaningful work and the struggle to realise dreams In its penetrating explorations of the nature of embodied skill the book champions greater appreciation for the dexterity ingenuity and intelligence that lie at the heart of craftwork

Craft and Design Practice from an Embodied Perspective Nithikul Nimkulrat, Camilla Groth, 2024-07-01 This book brings together contributors from multiple disciplines such as crafts design art education cognitive philosophy and sociology to discuss craft and design practice from an embodied perspective Through theoretical overviews of embodied cognition and research based cases that involve the researchers making experiences different phenomena of human material interaction are presented analysed and discussed The practical cases exemplify ways in which embodied notions show up in action Contributors examine topics such as the embodied basis of craft activities and material manipulation experiential knowledge and skill learning reflection in and on action and material dialogues Several chapters specifically discuss the hybrid forms of analogue and digital crafting that increasingly takes place in the field of crafts and design and the changed notions of material engagement that this entails The book will appeal to scholars of crafts design art education anthropology and sociology The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a

Duška Radosavljević, 2022-10-26 Aural Oral Dramaturgies Theatre in the Digital Age focuses on the aural turn in contemporary theatre making examining a number of seemingly disparate trends that foreground speech and sound post verbatim theatre amplified storytelling works using microphones and headphones and gig theatre that incorporates live music performance Its main argument is that the dramaturgical underpinnings of these works contribute to an understanding of theatre as an extra literary activity greater than the centrality of the script that traditionally dominated many historical discussions This quality is usually expressed in terms of the corporeality in dance and physical theatre but the aural oral turn gives an alternative viewpoint on the interplay between text and performance The book s case studies draw on the ways in which a range of theatre companies engage with the dramaturgy of speech and sound in their work It is further accompanied by a specially curated collection of digital resources including interviews conversations and presentations from artists and academics This is a key text for scholars students and practitioners of contemporary performance and anyone working with dramaturgies of orality and aurality in today s performance environment Craft Shaping Society Lindy

Joubert, 2022-05-31 This book focusses on the role of craft as a continuing cultural practice and the revival of disappearing skills in contemporary society It includes twenty five essays by highly regarded artisans academics technologists entrepreneurs businesspeople curators and researchers from many countries representing a wide range of global craft traditions and innovations The authors explain their professional practices and creative pathways with knowledge experience and passion They offer insightful analyses of their traditions within their culture and in the marketplace alongside the evolution of technology as it adapts to support experimentation and business strategies They write about teaching and research informing their practice and they explain the importance of their tools and materials in function and form of the objects they make The essays reveal a poignant expression of their successes disappointments and opportunities This book offers case studies of how artisans have harnessed the traditions of the past alongside the latest design technologies The authors reveal how global craft is not only a vehicle for self expression and creativity but also for being deeply relevant to the world of work community and environmental sustainability The book makes the vital link between skills knowledge education and employment and fills a much needed niche in Technical Vocational Education and Training TVET
