Contemporary and Emerging Issues on the Law of Damages and Valuation in International Investment Arbitration Christina L. Beharry, 2018-04-03 Damages and other forms of redress are the object of nearly every international investment dispute Given the financial stakes in these cases compensation is a key concern for both foreign investors and States The increasingly large sums awarded and the growing complexity of claims call for a renewed analysis of legal and valuation concepts related to damages Contemporary and Emerging Issues on the Law of Damages and Valuation in International Investment Arbitration edited by Christina L Beharry examines a broad range of damages topics building on basic principles and surveying current developments to identify trends in the jurisprudence A central contribution of this book is its exploration of cutting edge issues dominating a new generation of investment awards and the interconnectedness of damages with other areas of international investment law This volume brings together leading practitioners experts and academics with extensive experience working on issues related to the law of damages and the quantification of compensation Readers are provided with a deeper understanding of legal and valuation principles that are often the source of intense debate in international investment cases Business Valuation Manfred Jürgen Matschke, Gerrit Brösel, 2021-04-19 And

Present Day Valuation in International Arbitration Thierry J. Senechal, 2008 In international arbitration there is often a significant delay between the time when the injury occurs and the decision is rendered by the arbitral tribunal Consequently arbitrators and parties are often confronted by the challenging question of how to deal with the passage of time and propose with confidence a method to adjust the award to present day value Despite the fact that an overwhelming body of international law jurisprudence supports the general proposition that the award should include an interest component there is still considerable uncertainty concerning the calculation of interest Consequently the use of interest in international arbitration is often dependent on the circumstances at hand and tribunals having a wide discretion in respect of awarding interest In this article we argue that the question of interest can be as important as the valuation of the loss itself in international arbitration Indeed awards of interest may in some cases exceed the principal owed because of extensive delays between the occurrence of the underlying injury and the resulting award We strongly advocate that an international standard should be developed for awarding interest Such a standard is required to ensure that a party is made whole after being deprived of the opportunity to earn a return on the use of its money To help arbitrators and parties decide what interest can be reasonably and consistently applied we must introduce a conceptual framework around a set of five principles Code of Federal Regulations, Title 43, Public Lands: Interior, Pt. 1000-End, Revised As of October 1 2014 Office of the Federal Register (U S),Office of the Federal Register (U.S.) Staff,2014-12-30 Updated 43 CFR Parts 1000 End 2015 print volume can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/sku/869082001917> The Code of Federal Regulations is a codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the Executive departments and agencies of the United States Federal Government Eldorado National Forest (N.F.), Silver Pearl Land Exchange ,2004
