Congress, 2001 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873 Effect of Pornography on Women and Children United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Juvenile Justice, 1985 The New Broadcasting Realities Ken Lindner, 2011 Unfree Rhacel Salazar Parreñas, 2021-10-12 A stirring account of the experiences of migrant domestic workers and what freedom abuse and power mean within a vast contract labor system In the United Arab Emirates there is an employment sponsorship system known as the kafala Migrant domestic workers within it must solely work for their employer secure their approval to leave the country and obtain their consent to terminate a job In Unfree Rhacel Salazar Parre as examines the labor of women from the Philippines who represent the largest domestic workforce in the country She challenges presiding ideas about the kafala arguing that its reduction to human trafficking is at best unproductive and at worst damaging to genuine efforts to regulate this system that impacts tens of millions of domestic workers across the globe The kafala system technically renders migrant workers unfree as they are made subject to the arbitrary authority of their employer Not surprisingly it has been the focus of intense scrutiny and criticism from human rights advocates and scholars Yet contrary to their claims Parre as argues that most employers do not abuse domestic workers or maximize the extraction of their labor Still the outrage elicited by this possibility dominates much of public discourse and overshadows the more mundane reality of domestic work in the region Drawing on unparalleled data collected over 4 years this book diverges from previous studies as it establishes that the kafala system does not necessarily result in abuse but instead leads to the absence of labor standards This absence is reflected in the diversity of work conditions across households ranging from dehumanizing treatment infantilization to respect and recognition of domestic workers Unfree shows how various stakeholders including sending and receiving states NGOs inter governmental organizations employers and domestic workers project moral standards to guide the unregulated labor of domestic work They can mitigate or aggravate the arbitrary authority of employers Parre as offers a deft and rich portrait of how morals mediate work on the ground warning against the dangers of reducing unfreedom to structural violence Irregular Migrants in Belgium and the Netherlands Masja

Meeteren, 2025-10-01 In Irregular Migrants in Belgium and the Netherlands Masja van Meeteren studies the different ways in which irregular migrants live in Belgium and the Netherlands The book offers an empirically grounded theoretical critique of the dominant research practice that focuses on survival strategies relies on comparisons of migrant communities and overemphasizes structural explanations Instead Irregular Migrants takes irregular migrants aspirations as a starting point of analysis Based on this innovative research approach key questions are answered regarding the lives of irregular migrants How can we understand their patterns of economic and social incorporation the transnational activities they engage in and the significance of different forms of capital Drawing on intensive participant observation as well as more than two hundred in depth interviews with irregular migrants and representatives of organizations that are involved with them Irregular Migrants develops much needed contextualized insights As such it sheds new light on previous research findings and various deadlocked scholarly debates on irregular migrants in Western societies
