methodology it reveals that despite an old stereotype of that lifestyle being part of the humanity's past it is probably in humanity's future. In six chapters filled with a flow of photographs that cover such topics as shamanic rituals, hunting, foraging, reindeer herding, the application of new technologies and jade mining, the authors show that hunter-gathering is not a primitive way of survival but a complex and open to change philosophy of life that is embodied in everyday practices. Photographs allow readers to immerse themselves in the most profound layers of human experiences, and astute ethnographic and analytic summaries help them navigate the world of the taiga where people are neither conquerors of natural forces nor passive consumers of resources. The book will be of interest both to social anthropologists and general readers curious about life in unfamiliar places. Bibliographie D'histoire de L'art, 1991 The Diachrony of

Classification Systems William B. McGregor, Søren Wichmann, 2018-05-14 Classification is a popular topic in typological, descriptive and theoretical linguistics. This volume is the first to deal specifically with the diachrony of linguistic systems of classification. It comprises original papers that examine the ways in which linguistic classification systems arise, change and dissipate in both natural circumstances and in circumstances of attrition. The role of diffusion in such processes is explored as well as the question of what can be diffused. The volume is not restricted to nominal systems of classification but also includes papers dealing with the less well-known phenomenon of verbal classification. Languages from a wide spread of world regions are examined, including Africa, Amazonia, Australia, Eurasia, Oceania and Mesoamerica. The volume will be of interest to linguistic typologists, descriptive linguists, historical linguists and grammaticalization theorists. Green Tree - Starter
