Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library:

Triangulating Translation Fabio Alves, 2003-11-24 This book contains a selection of papers presented in a subsection on translation process analysis at the II Brazilian International Translators Forum held on 23-27 July 2001. The volume builds on the notion of triangulation, i.e. the combined use of different methods of data elicitation and analyses to discuss methodological issues and actual experimental methods in the field of translation process research. Grouped in three parts, the seven contributions raise issues concerned among others with the translation pragmatics interface, the role of intersubjectivity, the attempts at modeling what accounts for translation competence and the effect of think aloud on translation speed, revision and segmentation. The volume also examines the process of translation in terms of relevant measurements which can validate some of the instruments used in the triangulation approach and fosters the application of triangulation as a pedagogical instrument to be applied to translators training. The book will certainly find an audience among translation scholars doing experimental work and students and practitioners interested in capturing the translation process.

Triangulating Translation Fábio Alves dos Santos, 2003-01-01 The articles which appear in this volume stem from papers presented in a sub-section of the II Brazilian International Translators Forum dedicated to process-oriented research in translation. The congress's main theme, namely Translating the Millennium: Corpora, Cognition and Cultures, is reflected in the seven contributions which aim at fostering the dialogue among translation researchers interested in process-oriented investigations. This book highlights one of the main axes focusing on the interfaces between cognition and translation and more precisely on the investigation of translation processes from three main vantage points: theoretical perspectives, empirical investigations and pedagogical applications.

Handbook of Translation Studies Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2010 Moreover, many items in the reference lists are hyperlinked to the TSB where the user can find an abstract of a publication. All articles between 500 and 6000 words are written by specialists in the different subfields and are peer reviewed Last but not least the usability accessibility and flexibility of the HTS depend on the commitment of people who agree that Translation Studies does matter All users are therefore invited to share their feedback Any questions remarks and suggestions for improvement can be sent to the editorial team

Interdisciplinarity in Translation and Interpreting Process Research Maureen Ehrensberger-Dow, Susanne Göpferich, Sharon O'Brien, 2015-06-15 First published as a special issue of Target issue 25 1 2013 this volume explores interdisciplinarity in translation and interpreting process research fields that have enjoyed a boom in the last decade For this reason the time was ripe for a reflection on the broad range of methodologies that have been applied in our endeavours to understand both translation and interpreting processes better The ten chapters provide a snapshot of how translation and interpreting process researchers have availed themselves of concepts and theories developed in other disciplines such as psychology the cognitive sciences journalism and literary studies to examine and illuminate their object of study This collection demonstrates that translation and interpreting process research borrow heavily from other disciplines and call for a consideration of how translation research can become truly interdisciplinary through increased collaboration synergy and mutual advancement

Cross-Linguistic Corpora for the Study of Translations Silvia Hansen-Schirra, Stella Neumann, Erich Steiner, 2012-12-06 The book specifies a corpus architecture including annotation and querying techniques and its implementation The corpus architecture is developed for empirical studies of translations and beyond those for the study of texts which are inter lingually comparable particularly texts of similar registers The compiled corpus CroCo is a resource for research and is with some copyright restrictions accessible to other research projects Most of the research was undertaken as part of a DFG Project into linguistic properties of translations Fundamentally this research project was a corpus based investigation into the language pair English German The long term goal is a contribution to the study of translation as a contact variety and beyond this to language comparison and language contact more generally with the language pair English German as our object languages This goal implies a thorough interest in possible specific properties of translations and beyond this in an empirical translation theory The methodology developed is not restricted to the traditional exclusively system based comparison of earlier days where real text excerpts or constructed examples are used as mere illustrations of assumptions and claims but instead implements an empirical research strategy involving structured data the sub corpora and their relationships to each other annotated and aligned on various theoretically motivated levels of representation the formation of hypotheses and their operationalizations statistics on the data critical examinations of their significance and interpretation against the background of system based comparisons and other independent sources of explanation for the phenomena observed Further applications of the resource developed in computational linguistics are outlined and evaluated

The Handbook of Translation and Cognition John W. Schwieter, Li Wei, 2020-01-09 The Handbook of Translation and Cognition is a pioneering state of the art investigation of cognitive approaches to translation and interpreting studies TIS Offers timely and cutting edge coverage of the most important theoretical frameworks and methodological innovations Contains original contributions from a global group of leading researchers from 18 countries Explores topics related to translator and workplace characteristics including machine translation creativity ergonomic perspectives and cognitive effort and competence training and interpreting such as multimodal processing neurocognitive optimization process oriented pedagogies and conceptual change Maps out future directions for cognition and translation studies as well as areas in need of more research within this dynamic field

Psycholinguistic and Cognitive Inquiries into Translation and Interpreting Aline Ferreira, John W.

Schwietter, 2015-01-15 Psycholinguistic and Cognitive Inquiries into Translation and Interpreting presents perspectives and original studies that aim to diversify traditional approaches in translation and interpreting research and improve the quality and generalizability of the field The volume is divided into two parts Part I includes an introductory discussion on the input of psycholinguistics and cognitive science to translation and interpreting along with two state of the art chapters that discuss valid experimental designs while critically reviewing and building on existing work Part II subsequently presents original studies which explore the performance of expert and novice translators using a variety of methodologies such as eye tracking keystroke logging retrospective protocols and post editing machine translation It also presents contributions for exploratory studies on interpreting and for testing several constructs such as language competence and the role of expertise redundancy and working memory capacity This volume is intended to act as a valuable reference for scholars practitioners translators graduate and advanced undergraduate students and anyone wishing to gain an overview of current issues in translation and interpreting from psycholinguistic and cognitive domains

Tracks and Treks in Translation Studies Catherine Way, Sonia Vandepitte, Reine Meylaerts, Magdalena Bartoń, 2013-08-22 The Selected Papers from the 6th Congress Tracks and Treks in Translation Studies TS held at the University of Leuven Belgium in 2010 congregated scholars and practitioners presenting their ideas and research in this thriving domain This volume includes fifteen carefully selected articles which represent the diversity and breadth of the topics dealt with in Translation Studies today increasingly bolstered by its interaction with other disciplines At the same time it aims to provide a balance between process and product oriented research and training and professional practice The authors cover both Translating and Interpreting from a myriad of approaches touching upon topics such as creativity pleasant voice paratext and translator intervention project based methodologies revision corpora and individual translation styles to name but a few This volume will hopefully contribute to further fruitful interaction and cohesion which are essential to the international status of TS

Multilingual Discourse Production Svenja Kranich, 2011 This volume presents discourse production in multilingual contexts as a specific type of language contact situation Translation may be seen as the prototypical type of multilingual discourse production other types would include parallel text production in different languages e.g. for websites or the production of versions more loosely connected with the source text When divergent communicative norms and conventions come into contact in any of these types of text production one may find that such conventions transcend established language boundaries potentially leading to the emergence of new genres This volume represents the first collection of papers that focus on the specific properties of language contact through multilingual discourse production It brings together approaches by historical linguists language contact researchers and translation scholars thus presenting the topic in its full variety and providing valuable suggestions for further research in this emerging field of study

Translation, interpreting, cognition Tra & Co Group, 2021 Cognitive aspects of the translation process have become central in Translation and Interpreting Studies in recent years further establishing the field of Cognitive Translatology Empirical and interdisciplinary studies investigating translation and interpreting processes promise a hitherto unprecedented predictive and explanatory power This collection contains such studies which observe behaviour during translation and interpreting The contributions cover a vast area and investigate behaviour during translation and interpreting with a focus on training of future professionals on language processing more generally on the role of technology in the practice of translation and interpreting on translation of multimodal media texts on aspects of ergonomics and usability on emotions self concept and psychological factors and finally also on revision and post editing For the present publication we selected a number of contributions presented at the Second International Congress on Translation Interpreting and Cognition hosted by the Tra Co Lab at the Johannes Gutenberg University of Mainz

Expertise and Explication in the Translation Process Birgitta Englund Dimitrova, 2005-01-01 This book addresses the complexities of the translation process Informed by theoretical and methodological advances in translation studies research on writing and the expertise paradigm it explores translation as a text reproduction task With triangulation of data from Russian Swedish translation think aloud methodology and computer logging of the writing process it makes a cross sectional comparison of subjects with different amounts of translation experience highlighting crucial aspects of professional competence and expertise in translation The book also elaborates a method for a combined product and process analysis applying it to the study of one type of explication increased cohesive explicitness of the target text The results have implications for translation theory and pedagogy This volume will be of interest to translation scholars and translator trainers irrespective of language combination as well as to specialists in Russian and Swedish It will also appeal to researchers on expertise in other domains

Translation in Transition Arnt Lykke Jakobsen, Bartolomé Mesa-Lao, 2017-09-15 Translation practice and workflows have witnessed significant changes during the last decade New market demands to handle digital content as well as technological advances are leading this transition The development and integration of machine translation systems have given post editing practices a reason to be in the context of professional translation services Translators may still work from a source text but more often than not they are presented with already translated text involving different degrees of translation automation This scenario radically changes the cognitive demands of translation Technological development has inevitably influenced the translation research agenda as well It has provided new means of penetrating deeper into the cognitive processes that make translation possible and has endorsed new concepts and theories to understand the translation process Computational analysis of eye movements and keystroke behaviour provides us with new insights into translational reading processes of literality effects of directionality similarities between inter and intralingual translation as well as the effects of post editing on cognitive processes and on the quality of the final outcome All of these themes are explored in depth in the articles in this volume which presents new and valuable insights to anyone interested in what is currently happening in empirical process oriented translation research

Human-Machine Interaction in Translation Bernadette Sharp, Michael Zock, Michael Carl, Arnt Lykke Jakobsen, 2011 Includes 19 papers which were selected for presentation at the workshop and the text of invite keynote lectures The workshop provided an attractive interdisciplinary forum for fostering interactions among researchers and practitioners in Natural Language Processing NLP working within the paradigm of Cognitive Science CS

Instrumentalising Foreign Language Pedagogy in Translator and Interpreter Training Olaf Immanuel Seel, Silvia Roiss, Petra Zimmermann-González, 2023-06-15 This volume offers a wide array of cutting edge original research on the implementation of Foreign Language Pedagogy in translator and interpreter training a still rather unexplored field of research in Translation Studies It is divided in two distinct sections The first section focuses on theoretical approaches to this topic The chapters of this section will offer the reader valuable new knowledge and thoughts on how to update and enrich academic curricula as well as how to make use of cognitive linguistics and to implement a multicultural approach in the demanding domain of translator and interpreter training The second practical section comprises a series of diverse methods and didactical means of Foreign Language Pedagogy which are creatively adapted to fit in language and translation interpreting teaching for translation interpreting trainees aiming at fostering their translational sub competences The volume s overarching aim is to clearly emphasise that foreign language teaching for translation and interpreting trainees has to be approached and structured differently than conventional language teaching in other academic disciplines It is useful for scholars and translation interpreting teachers who want to enrich translator interpreter training with new interdisciplinary ideas and knowledge which will significantly assist them in enhancing the translation interpreting competence of their students

Structural Propensities Monika Doherty, 2006-01-01 This book focuses on the translation of English academic texts into German closely analysing the structural and discourse properties of original sentences and their possible translations It consists of six chapters with more than a hundred carefully discussed examples and presents the author s results of a series of research projects which have successively dealt with the typologically determined conditions for discourse appropriate uses of word order case voice perspective and structural explicitness in simple and complex sentences or sequences of sentences The theoretical and methodological assumptions of the book follow a basically generative approach in studying the interaction between semantic pragmatic and phonological syntactic properties of the linguistic forms as they are involved in the perception of written language The linguistic and psycholinguistic models accessed are also introduced in detail to promote comprehension for the interested reader with an alternative theoretical background whether scholar student or translator

Functional Approaches to Culture and Translation Dirk Delabastita, Lieven D'hulst, Reine Meylaerts, 2006-10-31 This volume contains a generous selection of articles on translation by Professor Jos Lambert K U Leuven It traces the intellectual itinerary of their author who started out as a French and Comparative Literature scholar some four decades ago trying to get a better grip on the problem of inter literary contacts and who soon became a key figure in the emergent discipline of Translation Studies where he is widely known as an indefatigable promoter of descriptively oriented research This collection shows how Jos Lambert has never stopped asking new questions about the crucial but often hidden role of language and translation in the world of today It includes some of the author s classic papers as well as a few lesser known ones that deserve wider circulation The editors introduction and the bibliography complete this thought provoking survey of the career of one of the most creative researchers in the field

Translation Studies at the Interface of Disciplines João Ferreira Duarte, Alexandra Assis Rosa, Teresa Seruya, 2006-10-25 Translation Studies has been defined in terms of spatial metaphors stressing the need for disciplinary border crossings with the purpose of borrowing different approaches orientations and tools from diverse academic fields Such territorial incursions have resulted in a more thorough exploration of the home province as this volume is designed to show The interdisciplinary nature of the venture arises out of the multiplicity of terrains involved and the theoretically motivated definition of the object itself Translation has been perceived as communication in context hence the study of translated texts as facts of target cultures means that they need to be investigated within particular situational and sociocultural environments an enterprise which necessarily requires the collaboration of various disciplines This volume has grown out of a conference held at the University of Lisbon in November 2002 and collects a selection of papers that focus on the crossdisciplinarity of Translation Studies offering new perspectives on the current space of translation on the importation and redefinition of theories methodologies and concepts for the study of translation and on the complex interplay of text and context in translation creating dynamic interfaces with Sociology Literary Theory Cultural Studies Discourse Analysis Cultural History among other disciplines

Computer-assisted simultaneous interpreting: A cognitive-experimental study on terminology Bianca Prandi, 2023-02-10 The present work explores computer assisted simultaneous interpreting CASI from a primarily cognitive perspective Despite concerns over the potentially negative impact of computer assisted interpreting CAI tools on interpreters cognitive load CL this hypothesis remains untested Previous research is restricted to the evaluation of the CASI product and a methodology for the process oriented evaluation of CASI and the empirical evidence for its cognitive modelling are missing Overcoming these limitations appears essential to advance CAI research particularly to foster a deeper understanding of the cognitive aspects of CAI through a validated research methodology and to determine the feasibility of the integration of CAI tools into the interpreting process This book tests and validates a methodology for the combined exploration of the product and process of CASI Quantitative and qualitative data were collected during an eyetracking experiment at the Translation glossary queries ear voice span inter cluster pause duration time to first fixation average fixation duration and fixation time qualitative questionnaire responses The findings provide insights into the effects of CAI tools on CL and attention allocation in interpreter CAI tool interaction during simultaneous interpreting As this is the first study on in process CAI tool use with a markedly cognitive orientation it entails significant implications for the methodological development of CAI research and the design of future studies on cognitive aspects of CASI while raising additional questions in need of further investigation

The book delves into Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library. Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library is an essential topic that must be grasped by everyone, ranging from students and scholars to the general public. The book will furnish comprehensive and in-depth insights into Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library, encompassing both the fundamentals and more intricate discussions.

1. This book is structured into several chapters, namely:
 - Chapter 1: Introduction to Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library
 - Chapter 2: Essential Elements of Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library
 - Chapter 3: Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library in Everyday Life
 - Chapter 4: Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library in Specific Contexts
 - Chapter 5: Conclusion
2. In chapter 1, the author will provide an overview of Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library. This chapter will explore what Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library is, why Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library is vital, and how to effectively learn about Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library.
3. In chapter 2, the author will delve into the foundational concepts of Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library. The second chapter will elucidate the essential principles that need to be understood to grasp Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library in its entirety.
4. In chapter 3, the author will examine the practical applications of Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library in daily life. The third chapter will showcase real-world examples of how Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library can be effectively utilized in everyday scenarios.
5. In chapter 4, the author will scrutinize the relevance of Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library in specific contexts. The fourth chapter will explore how Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library is applied in specialized fields, such as education, business, and technology.

6. In chapter 5, the author will draw a conclusion about Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library. The final chapter will summarize the key points that have been discussed throughout the book.

The book is crafted in an easy-to-understand language and is complemented by engaging illustrations. This book is highly recommended for anyone seeking to gain a comprehensive understanding of Triangulating Translation Perspectives In Process Oriented Research Benjamins Translation Library.
