What Makes A Great Exhibition:

What Makes a Great Exhibition? Paula Marincola, 2007-02-16 For better or worse museums are changing from forbidding bastions of rare art into audience friendly institutions that often specialize in blockbuster exhibitions designed to draw crowds But in the midst of this sea change one largely unanswered question stands out What makes a great exhibition Some of the world's leading curators and art historians try to answer this question here as they examine the elements of a museum exhibition from every angle What Makes a Great Exhibition investigates the challenges facing American and European contemporary art in particular exploring such issues as group exhibitions video and craft and the ways that architecture influences the nature of the exhibitions under its roof The distinguished contributors address diverse topics including Studio Museum in Harlem director Thelma Golden's examination of ethnically focused exhibitions and Robert Storr director of the 2007 Venice Biennale and formerly of the Museum of Modern Art on the meaning of exhibition and exhibitionmaker A thought provoking volume on the practice of curatorial work and the mission of modern museums What Makes A Great Exhibition will be indispensable reading for all art professionals and scholars working today What Makes a Great Exhibition? Paula Marincola, Robert Storr, Lynne Cooke, 2011 A Guide to the Great Exhibition, 1851 Interpreting Art in Museums and Galleries Christopher Whitehead, 2011-12-02 In this pioneering book Christopher Whitehead provides an overview and critique of art interpretation practices in museums and galleries Covering the philosophy and sociology of art traditions in art history and art display the psychology of the aesthetic experience and ideas about learning and communication Whitehead advances major theoretical frameworks for understanding interpretation from curators and visitors perspectives Although not a manual the book is deeply practical It presents extensively researched European and North American case studies involving interviews with professionals engaged in significant cutting edge interpretation projects Finally it sets out the ethical and political responsibilities of institutions and professionals engaged in art interpretation Exploring the theoretical and practical dimensions of art interpretation in accessible language this book covers The construction of art by museums and galleries in the form of collections displays exhibition and discourse The historical and political dimensions of art interpretation The functioning of narrative categories and chronologies in art displays Practices discourses and problems surrounding the interpretation of historical and contemporary art Visitor experiences and questions of authorship and accessibility The role of exhibition texts new interpretive technologies and live interpretation in art museum and gallery contexts Thoroughly researched with immediately practical applications Interpreting Art in Museums and Galleries will inform the practices of art curators and those studying the subject The Great Exhibition of 1851 Louise Purbrick, 2001 The Great Exhibition of 1851 has become a touchstone for the nineteenth century The Crystal Palace produced a commodity world an imperial spectacle a picture of capitalism a liberal dream a vision of modern life Historians have saturated the Great Exhibition with meanings This collection of essays exposes how meaning has been produced around the Great Exhibition It contains a series of critical readings of the official and popular historical record of the Exhibition Critics and historians of art culture design and literature have been brought together to examine the objects the images the documents and the fictions of 1851 Their essays explore the determined use of industrial knowledge the contested definitions of nation and colony and the actual control of the space of the Crystal Palace after the Great Exhibition closed The Great Exhibition of 1851 presents new interpretations of one of the most significant exhibitions in the nineteenth century and will be essential reading for anyone studying cultural history design history art history and literature Official Catalogue of the Great Exhibition of the Works of Industry of All Nations, 1851 ...
