But by the late 1980s Cuba's inability to adopt the modes of socialist planning and Mikhail Gorbachev's reforms had deeply soured the relationship between Havana and the Soviet led socialist bloc. While secondary literature often highlights Cuba's political and economic relations with Washington and Moscow Havana's ideological political and economic relations with the Eastern European states have received considerably less attention. This book aims to fill this gap by offering a detailed chronological account of how Cuba's post revolutionary development was influenced by Eastern European diplomats. Outside of their roles as representatives of their respective states Eastern European diplomats were entrusted with the task of educating local Cuban leadership in the intricacies of Marxism Leninism steering Cuba's governors onto the correct path of development helping them eradicate erroneous ideas of economic development and showing them the validity of socialist morals and ideology. By considering these developments and analyzing firsthand accounts of Eastern European diplomats' experiences in Havana historian Radoslav Yordanov reconstructs the thinking of Eastern European diplomats and specialists in their dealings with Cuba from the 1959 Cuban revolutionary victory to the 1991 dissolution of the Soviet Union shedding new light on Cuba's role in the global Cold War.
