Perceptual and Cognitive Image of the City Chiranji Singh Yadav, 1987 Art And Engagement Arnold

Berleant, 1993-03-29 In this book Arnold Berleant develops a bold alternative to the eighteenth century aesthetic of disinterestedness Centering on the notion of participatory engagement in the appreciation of art he explores its appearance in art and in aesthetic perception especially during the past century Aesthetic engagement becomes a key both on historical and theoretical grounds to making intelligible our experiences with both contemporary and classical arts In place of the traditional aesthetic that enjoins the appreciator to adopt a contemplative attitude distancing the art object in order to ensure its removal from practical uses Art and Engagement examines the ways in which art entices us into intimate participation in its workings Beginning with the historical and theoretical underpinnings of the idea of engagement Berleant focuses on how engagement works as a force in different arts Successive chapters pursue its influence in landscape painting architecture and environmental design literature music dance and film Art and Engagement argues forcefully for the originality and power of aesthetic perception Demolishing the conceptual barriers erected by the Western world's limiting tradition the book discloses the condition of engagement that has always been present when our aesthetic encounters have been most effective and suggests a new direction for aesthetic inquiry

Understanding Concepts of Place in Recreation Research and Management; Proceedings (2004) Linda E. Kruger, 2010-10 In 2004 a group of scientists met to clarify their understanding of place related concepts approaches to the study of people place relations and the application of that understanding in recreation mgmt for the purpose of integrating perspectives from different disciplines discussing approaches to understanding and measuring sense of place and other questions around the study and application of place related concepts Topics that generated the most discussion included how social processes influence place meanings how place meanings are shared and negotiated within social groups and when and how place meanings and attachments reduce or avert conflict in natural resource planning and mgmt This collection of papers is a result of that meeting Proceedings of the 1997 Northeastern Recreation Research Symposium Hans G. Vogel song,1988 Interpreting the Environment at Museums and Historic Sites Debra A. Reid,David D. Vail,2019-09-19 Interpreting the Environment at Museums and Historic Sites is for anyone who wants to better understand the environment that surrounds us and sustains us who wants to become a better steward of that environment and who wants to share lessons learned with others The process starts by focusing attention on the environment the physical space that constitutes the largest three dimensional object in museum collections It involves conceptualizing spaces and places of human influence spaces that contain layer upon layer documenting human struggles to survive and thrive This evidence exists in natural environments as well as city centers The process continues by adopting an environment centric view of the spaces destined to be interpreted This mind set forms the basis for devising research plans that document how humans have changed destroyed conserved and sustained spaces over time and the ways that the environment reacts Interpretation built on this evidence then becomes the basis for minds on engagement with the places that humans inhabit and the spaces that they have changed and continue to manipulate Interpreting the Environment at Museums and Historic Sites provides a tool kit designed to help you research environmental history document evidence of human influence on land and the environment over time and tailor that knowledge to new public engagement It proposes a multi disciplinary approach that requires expertise in the humanities as well as the sciences and social sciences to best understand space and place over time It incorporates case studies of the theory and method of environmental history to explore how human goals take lasting shape in the environment creating working environments getting water generating and harnessing power growing food traveling and trading building things and preserving natural landscapes Features include the Interpreting the Environment Tool Kit to help you launch the good work of interpreting the environment Raw Materials the evidence landscape ecosystems artifacts and the built environmentPreparation methods thinking like a naturalist scientist thinking like a historian combining approachesPlanning envisioning the goal proactive message stewardship sustainabilityPartnerships sharing work strength in numbers allying across disciplinary divides united in efforts to inform the public about their individual and collective effects on the landscape and the environmentPotential educating the public about people and places is part of a world wide goal with the cumulative effect of saving the planet one story at a time A Timeline and Bibliographic essay round out the book s resources Mexico and the United States William Dirk Raat,Michael M. Brescia,2010-04-15 Drug wars NAFTA presidential politics and heightened attention to Mexican immigration are just some of the recent issues that are freshly interpreted in this updated survey of Mexican U S relations The fourth edition has been completely revised and offers a lively engaging and up to date analysis of historical patterns of change and continuity as well as contemporary issues Ranging from Mexican antiquity and the arrival of the Spanish and

British to the present day administrations of Felipe Calderon and Barack Obama historians Dirk Raat and Michael Brescia evaluate the political economic and cultural trends and events that have shaped the ways that Mexicans and Americans have regarded each other over the centuries Raat and Brescia pay special attention to the factors that have subordinated Mexico not only to the colossus of the North but to many other players in the global economy They also provide a unique look at the cultural dynamics of Gran Chichimeca or Mexamerica the borderlands where the two countries share a common history The bibliographical essay has been revised to reflect current research and scholarship

Visions of Nature Riyan J. G. van den Born, W. T. de Groot, Rob H. J. Dancing with the River Kuntala Lahiri-Dutt, Gopa Samanta, 2013-06-25 With this book Kuntala Lahiri Dutt and Gopa Samanta offer an intimate glimpse into the microcosmic world of hybrid landscapes Focusing on chars the part land part water low lying sandy masses that exist within the riverbeds in the floodplains of lower Bengal the authors show how both as real life examples and as metaphors chars straddle the conventional categories of land and water and how people who live on them fluctuate between legitimacy and illegitimacy The result a study of human habitation in the nebulous space between land and water charts a new way of thinking about land people and people's ways of life

Social Wellbeing and the Values of Small-scale Fisheries Derek S. Johnson, Tim G. Acott, Natasha Stacey, Julie Urquhart, 2017-08-10 This book advances discussions of values in fisheries by showing the rich theoretical insights and connections possible when value is grounded in a multi dimensional social well being approach Questions of value have long been a central if often unacknowledged concern in maritime studies and in research on fisheries Social scientists have looked at changing perceptions of value as coastal regions and fisheries have industrialized economic interconnections have deepened ecosystems have been depleted shifts in population have occurred and governance arrangements have been transformed With a focus on the diverse ways in which small scale fisheries are valued the contributions to this volume address these and other themes through cases from numerous countries in Asia Europe and Latin America This volume provides a timely contribution to the development of new approaches that seek to capture the complexity of how fisheries can be understood beyond standard mono dimensional and often economic interpretations Each chapter makes a clear and stand alone contribution to conceptual and methodological advancement and collectively these works cover a wide range of frameworks and schools of thought Dr Sarah Coulthard Senior Lecturer in International Development Northumbria University UK The list of contributing authors is impressive and covers a wide geographical range of illustrative examples which helps to demonstrate the global value of small scale fisheries Professor J Allister McGregor Professor in Political Economy the University of Sheffield UK

Rivers and Society Malcolm Cooper, Abhik

Chakraborty, Shamik Chakraborty, 2017-11-22 Rivers and their watersheds constitute some of the most dynamic and complex landscapes. Rivers have sustained human communities and human societies have utilized and altered river flows in a number of ways for millennia. However, the level of human impact on rivers and on watershed environments has become acute during the last hundred years or so. This book brings together empirical research and theoretical perspectives on the changing conditions of a range of river basin environments in the contemporary world, including the history and culture of local societies living in these river basins. It provides theoretical insights on the patterns and nature of the interaction between rivers and their use by human communities. The chapters are written from a variety of positions, including environmental science, hydrology, human ecology, urban studies, water management, historical geography, cultural anthropology, and tourism studies. The case studies span different geographical regions, providing valuable insight on the multifaceted interactions between rivers and our societies and on the changing riverscapes in different parts of the world. Specific detailed examples are included from Australia, Brazil, France, India, Iran, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, South Africa, UK, and USA. Chapter 11 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license. Waddenland Outstanding Linde

Egberts, Meindert Schroor, 2025-10-01 The Wadden Sea Region is comprised of the embanked coastal marshes and islands in the Wadden Sea near Denmark, Germany, and the Netherlands. This area retains an exceptional common history in all its aspects: archaeologically, economically, socially, and culturally. Its settlement history of more than two thousand years is unrivalled and still mirrored in the landscape. Even though it has never constituted a political unity, it still shares a landscape and cultural heritage. For example, the approaches to water management and associated societal organization developed in the region during the last millennium have set significant world standards. This book offers an overview of current research on history, landscape, and cultural heritage of the Wadden Sea region. Jewish Space in Central and Eastern Europe

Larisa Lempertienė, Jurgita Šiaučiūnaitė-Verbickienė, 2009-03-26 This volume is a compilation of articles written by renowned scholars and promising young researchers in which the Jewish space is revealed as diverse forms of life and relations that developed in the rich context of urbanism, social life, leisure, and economic activities and coexistence with the non-Jewish world. Having undergone various transformations, the Jewish space has preserved its authenticity and individuality. In the book, the Jewish space is analysed in a wide chronological perspective from the viewpoint of literature, history, architecture, and social relations. This volume will be of interest to anyone interested in various forms of entertainment, sports, leisure, cabaret parties, living participation in social life, reading, and writing of Jews in Eastern European towns and shtetls in the 19th and early 20th century. Constructing Place Sarah Menin, 2004-02-24 This book is a cutting edge study exploring the field of the conception and the tectonic making of place as it impinges on and thus changes the site in which it is set.

Festivals and Values Waldemar Kuligowski, Marcin Poprawski, 2023-11-27 This is an original book covering all the past

areas of research anyone would need to know about festivals and event based culture It is based on academic research but written in a way relevant for cultural professionals uniquely explaining the cultural power of festivals and with original empirical research the realities of organisation and management and social and economic value Dr Jonathan Vickery Reader in Cultural Policy Studies and Director Centre for Cultural and Media Policy Studies Univeristy of Warwick This book discusses music festivals in the context of the specific values they convey Today music festivals are a permanent feature of national regional and local cultural policies a valuable asset in the tourism industry and a significant source of income for an industry that has been adversely affected by the steady decline in physical sales of music For the audience on the other hand it is an opportunity to escape from everyday life multi sensory contact with art an activity that stands for full body participation a cultural phenomenon that drags people out of their homes like no other There is one common denominator linking the above mentioned features of contemporary music festivals namely the world of values This is evident from the non accidental locations festivals spaces design planning and the line ups created consciously with great care The organisers missions logos and other symbolic organisational artefacts communicate specific values These values are explicitly mentioned by artists and audiences they can be easily identified in online forums and media reports participant behaviour festival rituals and additional festival programs are shaped on the basis of values and cooperation is built between the festival and the local community As the reader will quickly realize numbers and statistics sit alongside descriptions and quotations in this book and the organisers statements are accompanied by the opinions of academics but above all the festival audience is given a voice both through quotations and their drawings This voice is by no means uniform as it turned out that research into values was often transformed into a pretext for spinning tales about one s life situation one s political preferences and one s understanding of freedom and responsibility Memories were mixed with declarations joy with regret curses with dreams prose with poetry Thomas Pettitt was not wrong in noting that Social history has learnt to appreciate festival as a valuable window on society and its structures The authors have tried to open all the windows available Students and researchers in the fields of cultural anthropology social psychology folklore studies comparative religion sociology of culture cultural policy cultural history and cultural management will find this book highly interesting

Running Cultures John Bale, 2004-06-01

Running is one of the world s most widely practiced sports and recreations but until now it has intended to elude serious study outside of the natural sciences John Bale brings the sport into the realm of the humanities by drawing on sources including literature poetry film art and sculpture as well as statistics and training manuals to highlight the tensions ambiguities and complexities that lie hidden beneath the commonplace notion of running The text explores both local and personal as well as communal and global aspects of running and its practitioners It examines the streets tracks and stadiums where athletes run the races in which they compete and the running relationships such as exist between the athlete and the coach between runners and between the athlete and spectator It discusses the importance of speed and records how running has been used to symbolise resistance and transgression and the extent to which it can be associated with a healthy lifestyle Running Cultures provides new ways of seeing a familiar sporting phenomenon it will appeal to both students and researchers with an interest in running in particular and sport and leisure cultures more generally Writing the Northland Barbara Stefanie Giehmann,2011 Human-Environment Relations Emily Brady,Pauline Phemister,2012-02-01 This fresh and innovative approach to human environmental relations will revolutionise our understanding of the boundaries between ourselves and the environment we inhabit The anthology is predicated on the notion that values shift back and forth between humans and the world around them in an ethical communicative zone called value space The contributors examine the transformative interplay between external environments and human values and identify concrete ways in which these norms residing in and derived from self and society are projected onto the environment
