Voices Of Resistance Muslim Women On War Faith And Sexuality:

Voices of Resistance Sarah Husain, 2006-06-13 A diverse collection of personal and political narratives and prose by Muslim women includes pieces by writers from a wide range of cultures and includes such tales as a woman's remembrance of a beloved cousin killed in a suicide bombing a transsexual who remembers the veil he no longer wears and a woman's confrontation of sexism and hypocrisy on a pilgrimage to Saudi Arabia Original American Muslim Women, Religious Authority, and Activism Juliane Hammer, 2012-04-01 Hammer looks at the work of significant female American Muslim writers scholars and activists since 1990 using their writings as a lens for a larger discussion of Muslim intellectual production in America and beyond Centered on the controversial women led Friday prayer in March 2005 Hammer uses this event and its aftermath to address themes of faith community and public opinion While gender is the catalyst for Hammer's study her examination of these women's intellectual output touches on themes central to contemporary Islam authority tradition Islamic law justice and authenticity Muslim Women, Transnational Feminism and the Ethics of Pedagogy Lisa K. Taylor, Jasmin Zine, 2014-06-27 Following a long historical legacy Muslim women's lives continue to be represented and circulate widely as a vehicle of intercultural understanding within a context of the war on terror Following Edward Said's thesis that these cultural forms reflect and participate in the power plays of empire this volume examines the popular and widespread production and reception of Muslim women's lives and narratives in literature poetry cinema television and popular culture within the politics of a post 9 11 world This edited collection provides a timely exploration into the pedagogical and ethical possibilities opened up by transnational feminist and anti colonial readings that can work against sensationalized and stereotypical representations of Muslim women It addresses the gap in contemporary theoretical discourse amongst educators teaching literary and cultural texts by and about Muslim Women and brings scholars from the fields of education literary and cultural studies and Muslim women's studies to examine the politics and ethics of transnational anti colonial reading practices and pedagogy The book features interviews with Muslim women artists and cultural producers who provide engaging reflections on the transformative role of the arts as a form of critical public pedagogy Cultural Resistance, 9/11, and the War on Terror Jenifer Chao, 2017-09-01 Cultural Resistance 9 11 and the War on Terror Sensible Interventions offers a fresh account of the enduring cultural legacies of the September 11 2001 terror attacks and the global war on terror through the critical lens of cultural resistance It assesses the intersecting ways that popular culture has been deployed as oppositional practice in the post 9 11 context by documenting a collection of media texts including a political hip hop album a TV sitcom a best selling novel and studio photographs Deviating from the conventional discursive and representative axis of mourning nationalism and commemoration this multimedia assemblage contests and rearticulates the political meanings affects and visualizations of the war on terror and its global consequences Drawing on the theoretical work of Jacques Rancière the book also argues that these cultural artefacts are extending cultural resistance by shifting the scenes and methods of opposition to the realm of the sensible or sensorial experiences. Never celebratory, the book encapsulates the potential of cultural practices against restricted post 9/11 regimes of visibility and audibility in the public sphere but it also remains attentive to their blind spots, contradictions, and constraints. This book offers a new angle to consider the events of 9/11, the war on terror, and their continual effects, one that blurs established visions of patriotism and grief.

The Power and the People Charles Tripp, 2013-02-25. This book is about power. The power wielded over others by absolute monarchs, tyrannical totalitarian regimes, and military occupiers, and the power of the people who resist and deny their rulers' claims to that authority by whatever means. The extraordinary events in the Middle East in 2011 offered a vivid example of how non-violent demonstration can topple seemingly invincible rulers. Drawing on these dramatic events and parallel moments in the modern history of the Middle East, from the violent uprisings in Algeria against the French in the early twentieth century to revolution in Iran in 1979 and the Palestinian intifada, the book considers the ways in which the people have united to unseat their oppressors and fight against the status quo to shape a better future. The book also probes the relationship between power and forms of resistance and how common experiences of violence and repression create new collective identities. Nowhere is this more strikingly exemplified than in the art of the Middle East: its posters and graffiti and its provocative installations, which are discussed in the concluding chapter. This brilliant yet unsettling book affords a panoramic view of the twentieth and twenty-first century Middle East through occupation, oppression, and political resistance.

Women's Fiction and Post-9/11 Contexts Peter Childs, Claire Colebrook, Sebastian Groes, 2014-10-21. 9/11 is not simply a date on the calendar but marks a distinct historical threshold ushering in the war on terror, various states of emergency, a supposed clash of civilizations, and the putative legitimization of counter-democratic procedures ranging from extraordinary renditions to enhanced interrogation. Perhaps no date since Virginia Woolf declared that on or about December 1910 human character changed has marked such a singular point in the perception of time, identity, and nature. Women's writing has always been something of a counter-canon, offering modes of voice and point of view beyond that of the man of reason. This collection of essays explores the two problems of what it means to write as a woman and what it means to write in the twenty-first century.

A Thousand Sisters Lisa J Shannon, 2010-04-06 Lisa J Shannon had a good life: a successful business, a fiancé, a home, and security. Then one day in 2005 an episode of Oprah changed all that. The show focused on women in Congo, the worst place on earth to be a woman. She was awakened to the atrocities there: millions dead, women raped and tortured daily, and children dying in shocking numbers. Shannon felt called to do something. And she did. A Thousand Sisters is her inspiring memoir. She raised money to sponsor Congolese women, beginning with one solo 30-mile run, and then founded a national organization, Run for Congo Women. The book chronicles her journey to the Congo to meet the women her run sponsored and shares their incredible stories. What begins as grassroots activism forces Shannon to confront herself and her life and learn lessons of survival, fear, gratitude, and immense love from the women of Africa.

Women of Color and Feminism Maythee Rojas, 2009-12-29 In this Seal Studies title, author and professor Maythee Rojas offers a look at the intricate crossroads of being a woman of color. Women of Color and Feminism tackles the question of how women of color experience feminism and how race and socioeconomics can alter this experience. Rojas explores the feminist woman of color's identity and how it relates to mainstream culture and feminism. Featuring profiles of historical women of color, including Hottentot Venus, Josefa Loaiza, and Anna Mae Pictou Aquash, a discussion of the arts, and a vision for developing a feminist movement built on love and community healing, Rojas examines the intersectional nature of being a woman of color and a feminist. Covering a range of topics including sexuality, gender politics, violence, stereotypes, and reproductive rights, Women of Color and Feminism offers a far-reaching view of this multilayered identity. This powerful study strives to rewrite race and feminism, encouraging women to take back the body in a world of new activism. Women of Color and Feminism encourages a broad conversation about race, class, and gender and creates a discourse that brings together feminism and racial justice movements.

Dissident Writings of Arab Women Brinda J. Mehta, 2014-03-14 Dissident Writings of Arab Women: Voices Against Violence analyzes the links between creative dissidence and inscriptions of violence in the writings of a selected group of postcolonial Arab women. The female authors destabilize essentialist framings of Arab identity through a series of reflective interrogations and contesting literary genres that include novels, short stories, poetry, docudramas, interviews, and testimonials. Rejecting a purist literature-for-literature's-sake ethic, they embrace a dissident poetics of feminist critique and creative resistance as they engage in multiple and intergenerational border crossings in terms of geography, subject matter, language, and transnationality. This book thus examines the ways in which the women's writings provide the blueprint for social justice by voicing protest and stimulating critical thought, particularly in instances of social oppression, structural violence, and political transition. Providing an interdisciplinary approach which goes beyond narrow definitions of literature as aesthetic praxis to include literature's added value as a social, historical, political, and cultural palimpsest, this book will be a useful resource for students and scholars of North African Studies Postcolonial Studies Francophone Studies and Feminist Studies
