Unholy Wars: Afghanistan, American and International Terrorism John K. Cooley, 2001

America's War against Global Jihad William R. Nester, 2018-03-06 A specter haunts America the specter of Global Jihad Islamic Holy War This specter was never more horrific than on September 11 2001 when nineteen fanatics hijacked four jetliners and used them as guided missiles to destroy the twin World Trade Towers damage the Pentagon murder nearly 3 000 people and cause as much as several hundred billion dollars worth of direct and indirect damage to New York City and the national economy But Jihadists have periodically attacked Americans ever since November 1979 when mobs shouting death to America overran the American embassy in Tehran and held 52 officials hostage for 444 days President George W Bush responded to the September 11 atrocities by declaring a global war on terror Now in its second decade that war has cost the United States thousands of lives and trillions of dollars Americans are haunted by horrific televised images from across a swath of the Muslim world of bomb blasted cities hundreds of slaughtered bodies thousands of refugees huddled in squalid camps and American journalists in orange jump suits kneeling in the desert before the black robed and masked men who will behead them Americans increasingly question whether the global war on terror has been worth those costs for their own nation and the lands where it is fought This book analyzes America's crusade against Jihadism The key related questions it addresses are these Looking back what were the successes and failures of Washington's counter Jihadist strategy before and after September 11 Looking ahead should Americans stay the course or cut their losses in Iraq Afghanistan and elsewhere Was the catastrophic September 11 attack a one time event or could its equivalent or worse in death and destruction happen again Renowned Harvard professor Samuel Huntington asserted that The underlying problem for the West is not Islamic fundamentalism it is Islam a different civilization whose people are convinced of the superiority of their culture and are obsessed with the inferiority of their power Is that true Just what of

Muhammad's words and deeds if any justifies the barbarism of al Qaeda Islamic State and other Jihadists Finally just how corporeal is that specter of global Jihad to the United States A startling surprise awaits the reader in the final chapter as acclaimed expert William Nester weighs the specter of global Jihad against an array of other national security threats

Hubris, Self-Interest, and America's Failed War in Afghanistan Thomas P. Cavanaugh, 2015-07-22 This book describes the conduct of the US led post 9 11 war in Afghanistan Adopting a long term perspective it argues that even though Washington initially had an opportunity to achieve its security goals and give Afghanistan a chance to enter a new era it compromised any possibility of success from the very moment it let bin Laden escape to Pakistan in December 2001 and found itself locked in a strategic overreach Given the bureaucratic and rhetorical momentum triggered by the war on terror in America the Bush Administration was bound to deploy more resources in Afghanistan sooner or later despite its focus on Iraq The need to satisfy unfulfilled counter terrorism objectives made the US dependent on Afghanistan's warlords which compromised the country's stability and tarnished its new political system The extension of the US military presence made Washington lose its leverage on the Pakistan army leaders who aware of America's logistical dependency on Islamabad supported the Afghan insurgents their historical proxies more and more openly The extension of the war also contributed to radicalize segments of the Afghan and Pakistani populations destabilizing the area further In the meantime the need to justify the extension of its military presence influenced the US led coalition into proclaiming its determination to democratize and reconstruct Afghanistan While highly opportunistic the emergence of these policies proved both self defeating and unsustainable due to an inescapable collision between the US led coalition's inherent self interest hubris limited knowledge limited attention span and limited resources and on the other hand Afghanistan's inherent complexity As the critical contradictions at the very heart of the campaign increased with the extension of the latter's duration scale and cost America's leaders entrapped in path dependence lost their strategic flexibility Despite debates on troops resource allocation and more sophisticated doctrines they repeated the same structural mistakes over and over again The strategic overreach became self sustaining until its costs became intolerable leading to a drawdown which has more to do with a pervasive sense of failure than with the accomplishment of any noble purpose or strategic breakthrough
