The Booklover's Guide to New Orleans Susan Larson, 2013-09-05 The literary tradition of New Orleans spans centuries and touches every genre its living heritage winds through storied neighborhoods and is celebrated at numerous festivals across the city For booklovers a visit to the Big Easy isn't complete without whiling away the hours in an antiquarian bookstore in the French Quarter or stepping out on a literary walking tour Perhaps only among the oak lined avenues Creole town houses and famed hotels of New Orleans can the lust of A Streetcar Named Desire the zaniness of A Confederacy of Dunces the chill of Interview with the Vampire and the heartbreak of Walker Percy's Moviegoer begin to resonate Susan Larson's revised and updated edition of The Booklover's Guide to New Orleans not only explores the legacy of Tennessee Williams and William Faulkner but also visits the haunts of celebrated writers of today including Anne Rice and James Lee Burke This definitive guide provides a key to the books authors festivals stores and famed addresses that make the Crescent City a literary destination

Good Neighbors Nancy L. Rosenblum, 2018-05-22 The moral principles prescribed for friendship civil society and democratic public life apply imperfectly to life around home where we interact day to day without the formal institutions rules of conduct and means of enforcement that guide us in other settings This work explores how encounters among neighbours create a democracy of everyday life which has been with us since the beginning of American history and is expressed in settler immigrant and suburban narratives and in novels poetry and popular culture

African Americans and the Mississippi River Dorothy Zeisler-Vralsted, 2022-09-30 This book follows the historical trajectory of African Americans and their relationship with the Mississippi River dating back to the 1700s and ending with Hurricane Katrina and the still contested Delta landscape Long touted in literary and historical works the Mississippi River remains an iconic presence in the American landscape Whether referred to as Old Man River or the Big Muddy the Mississippi River represents imageries ranging from the pastoral and Acadian to turbulent and unpredictable However these imageries revealed through the cultural production of artists writers poets musicians and even filmmakers did not reflect the experiences of everyone living and working along the river Missing is a broader discourse of the African American community and the Mississippi River

Through the experiences of African Americans with the Mississippi River which included narratives of labor free and enslaved refuge floods and migration a different history of the river and its environs emerges The book brings multiple perspectives together to explore this rich history of the Mississippi River through the intersection of race and class with the environment The text will be of great interest to students and researchers in environmental humanities including environmental justice studies ethnic studies and US and African American history Say it Forward Mayotte Cliff, Kiefer Claire, 2018-12-04 Oral history is a universal form of storytelling For many years Voice of Witness cofounded by Dave Eggers has shared powerful stories of people impacted by in justice with a broad audience of readers Say it Forward is an extension of this work a guide for social justice storytelling that outlines Voice of Witness critical methodology at the core of their evocative oral history collections Expert editors and authors candidly outline how to harness the power of the personal narrative to expose larger issues of inequality An essential resource for empathetic oral historians this guide addresses a lot of the ideas that many people aren't sure how to talk about such as How do I interview people who belong to a very different community than the one I'm from How can power dynamics impact a narrator's comfort How do I deal with secondary trauma when listening to difficult stories Say It Forward will support readers with everything from the initial planning phases to the deeper more essential questions that examine the ethics of the practice Cliff Mayotte is the Education Program Director with Voice of Witness He previously edited The Power of the Story The Voice of Witness Teachers Guide to Oral History published in 2013 by Voice of Witness and McSweeney's Claire Kiefer is the author of Bear Witness forthcoming from Big Pencil Press in Fall 2018 She is a Voice of Witness Curriculum Specialist Compassion Maureen H. O'Connell, 2015-02-19 Pirates, Prisoners, and Lepers Paul H. Robinson, Sarah M. Robinson, 2015-07-15 It has long been held that humans need government to impose social order on a chaotic dangerous world How then did early humans survive on the Serengeti Plain surrounded by faster stronger and bigger predators in a harsh and forbidding environment Pirates Prisoners and Lepers examines an array of natural experiments and accidents of human history to explore the fundamental nature of how human beings act when beyond the scope of the law Pirates of the 1700s the leper colony on Molokai Island prisoners of the Nazis hippie communes of the 1970s shipwreck and plane crash survivors and many more diverse groups they all existed in the absence of formal rules punishments and hierarchies Paul and Sarah Robinson draw on these real life stories to suggest that humans are predisposed to be cooperative within limits What these communities did and how they managed have dramatic implications for shaping our modern institutions Should today's criminal justice system build on people's shared intuitions about justice Or are we better off acknowledging this aspect of human nature but using law to temper it Knowing the true nature of our human character and our innate ideas about justice offers a roadmap to a better society Austrian Lives Günter Bischof, Fritz Plasser, Eva Maltzsch, 2012 We also suggest that the intellectual biographies of thinkers and professionals are fertile soil for biographical study Moreover the prosopographical study of common folks in the Austrian population lifts these lives from the dark matter of anonymous masses and gives rich insight into the lives that ordinary Austrians have been leading We present an array of political lives including that of Ignaz Seipel and Therese Schlesinger Eckstein as well as Lives of the Mind which capture the lives of fascinating intellectual figures in pre and post World War II Vienna such as Viktor Frankl and Eugenie Schwarzwald The approaches to writing biography taken in this volume also suggest that much work needs to be done to shed light on the lives of ordinary Austrians In this volume we have biographical accounts detailing the lives of soldiers prisoners of war and farming families immediately following the passing of the destructive storm What happens now How do people respond to the extreme devastation of natural disasters especially people of faith Through candid conversations with survivors of Hurricane Katrina through interviews with staff members of relief organizations and of volunteers and through intense personal experience this faith response is examined The growth and healing that occurs as a consequence of this faith in action is as varied as the individuals who respond Those who live here find hope Those who come to serve leave profoundly changed Interspersed among these accounts are poems from Katrina Poetry in Two Distinct Voices Lincoln NE iPublishing 2007 written by Cee Cee Jay Spencer a Hurricane Katrina survivor Enveloping all the narratives is one overarching voice the voice of God before during after forever Proceeds from this book will be donated to disaster relief and recovery efforts through Hope Builds Inc a non profit organization Book study included Consuming Katrina Kate Parker Horigan, 2018-06-04 When and under what circumstances are disaster survivors able to speak for themselves in the public arena In Consuming Katrina Public Disaster and Personal Narrative author Kate Parker Horigan shows how the public understands and remembers large scale disasters like Hurricane Katrina outlining which stories are remembered and why as well as the impact on public memory and the survivors themselves Horigan discusses unique contexts in which personal narratives about the storm are shared including interviews with survivors Dave Eggers s Zeitoun Josh Neufeld s A D New Orleans After the Deluge Tia Lessin and Carl Deal s Trouble the Water and public commemoration during Hurricane Katrina s tenth anniversary in New Orleans In each case survivors initially present themselves in specific ways counteracting negative stereotypes that characterize their communities However when adapted for public presentation their stories get reduced back to those stereotypes As a result people affected by Katrina continue to be seen in limited terms as either undeserving or incapable of managing recovery This project is rooted in Horigan s experiences living in New Orleans before and after Katrina but it is also a case study illustrating an ongoing problem and an innovative solution survivors stories should be shared in a way that includes their own engagement with the processes of narrative production circulation and reception When survivors are seen as agents in their own stories they will be seen as agents in their own recovery Having a better grasp on the processes of narration and memory is critical for improved disaster response because the stories that are most widely shared about disaster determine how communities recover
