Were Not So Different After All:

Deathworlds to Lifeworlds Valerie Malhotra Bentz, James Marlatt, 2021-08-02 Deathworlds are places on planet earth that can no longer sustain life. These are increasing rapidly. We experience remnants of Deathworlds within our Lifeworlds for example traumatic echoes of war, genocide, oppression. Many practices and policies directly or indirectly are Deathworld Making. They undermine Lifeworlds contributing to community decline, illnesses, climate change and species extinction. This book highlights the ways in which writing about and sharing meaningful experiences may lead to social and environmental justice practices decreasing Deathworld Making. Phenomenology is a method which reveals the connection between personal suffering and the suffering of the planet earth and all its creatures. Sharing can lead to collaborative relationships among strangers for social and environmental justice across barriers of culture, politics and language. Deathworlds into Lifeworlds wakes people up to how current economic and social forces are destroying life and communities on our planet as I have mapped in my work. The chapters by scholars around the world in this powerful book testify to the pervasive consequences of the proliferation of Deathworld making and ways that collaboration across cultures can help move us forward. Saskia Sassen is the Robert S Lynd Professor of Sociology at Columbia University and a Member of its Committee on Global Thought. Recognizing the inseparability of experience, consciousness, environment and problematics in rebalancing life systems, this book offers solutions from around the world. Four Arrows aka Don Trent Jacobs, author of Sitting Bull's Words for a World in Crises et al. This unique book brings together 78 participants from 11 countries to reveal the ways in which phenomenology, the study of consciousness and phenomena, can lead to profound personal and social transformation. Such transformation is especially powerful when Deathworlds, physical or cultural places that no longer sustain life, are transformed into lifeworlds through collaborative sharing, even when or perhaps especially when the sharing is among strangers across different cultures. The contributors share a truly wide range of human experiences from the death of a child to ecological destruction, in offering ways to affirm life in the face of what may seem to be hopeless death-affirming challenges. Richard P Appelbaum, Ph.D., is Distinguished Research Professor Emeritus and former MacArthur Foundation Chair in Global and International Studies and Sociology at the University of California Santa Barbara. He is also a founding Professor at Fielding Graduate University where he heads the doctoral concentration in Sustainability Leadership. Deathworlds is a love letter for the planet, our home. By documenting places that no longer sustain life, the authors collectively pull back the curtain on these places, rendering them meaningful by connecting what ails us with what ails the world. Katrina S Rogers, Ph.D., conservation activist and author. Deathworlds to Lifeworlds represents collaboration among Fielding Graduate University, the University of Od Poland and the University of the Virgin Islands. Students and faculty from these universities participated in seminars on transformative phenomenology and developed rich phenomenologically based narratives of their experiences or others. These phenomenological protocol narratives creatively modify and integrate with everyday experience the conceptual frameworks of Husserl Schutz Heidegger Habermas and others The diverse protocol authors demonstrate how phenomenological reflection is transformative first by revealing how Deathworlds which lead to physical mental social or ecological decline imperil invaluable lifeworlds Deathworlds appear on lifeworld fringes such as extra urban trash landfills where unnoticed impoverished workers labor to the destruction of their own health Poignant protocol narratives highlight the plight and noble struggle of homeless people the mother of a dying 19 year old son persons inclined to suicide overwhelmed first responders alcoholics who through inspiration achieve sobriety unravelled We Relationships those suffering from and overcoming addiction or misogynist stereotypes or excessive pressures veterans distraught after combat a military mother those in liminal situations and oppressed indigenous peoples who still make available their liberating spirituality Transformative phenomenology exemplifies that generous responsiveness to the ethical summons to solidarity to which Levinas s Other invites us Michael Barber Ph D Professor of Philosophy St Louis University He has authored seven books and more than 80 articles in the general area of phenomenology and the social world He is editor of Sch tzian Research an annual interdisciplinary journal This book helps us notice the Deathworlds that surround us and advocates for their de naturalization Its central claim is that the ten virtues of the transformative phenomenologist allow us to do so by changing ourselves and the worlds we live in In this light the book is an outstanding presentation of the international movement known as transformative phenomenology It makes groundbreaking contributions to a tradition in which some of the authors are considered the main referents Also it offers an innovative understanding of Alfred Schutz s philosophy of the Lifeworld and a fruitful application of Van Manen s method of written protocols Carlos Belvedere Ph D Professor Faculty of Social Sciences University of Buenos Aires Moving beyond the social phenomenology carved out by Alfred Sch tz this impressive volume of action based experiential research displays the efficacy of applying phenomenological protocols to explore Deathworlds the tacit side of the foundational conception of Lifeworlds Over twenty one chapters plus an epilogue readers are transported by the train of Transformative Phenomenology created during what s been called the Silver Age of Phenomenology 1996 present at the Fielding Graduate University An international amalgam of students and faculty from universities in Poland the United States the Virgin Islands Canada and socio cultural locations throughout the world harnessed their collective energy to advance the practical call of phenomenology as a pathway to meaning making through rich descriptions of lived experience Topics include dwelling with strangers dealing with trash walking with the homeless death of a young person overcoming colonialism precognition environmental destruction and so much more The research collection enhances what counts as phenomenological inquiry while remaining respectful of Edmund Husserl s philosophical roots David Rehorick PhD Professor Emeritus of Sociology University of New Brunswick Canada Professor Emeritus Fielding Graduate University U S A Vancouver British Columbia      The Practice of Immortality Ishan Shivanand, 2025-05-20 Rooted in the story of his own transformative journey a monk and internationally beloved founder of Yoga of Immortals shares the methods he uses to help us tap into our unlimited potential Ishan Shivanand was born into an ancient lineage of yogis spanning twenty one generations and spent the first twenty years of his life in a Himalayan monastery Grounded in the traditions of yoga meditation martial arts storytelling and herbal medicine he developed the Yoga of Immortals YOI protocol which is designed to help followers combat stress anxiety depression and create healthy individuals and healthy communities The Practice of Immortality shares these lessons and practices In a world suffering the effects of fear competitiveness and anger Ishan encourages us to take a step back Structured as a thoughtful narrative with practices based in the true intentions and meaning of yoga The Practice of Immortality will help you achieve that which you never thought possible

Dropping out of Socialism Juliane Fürst, Josie McLellan, 2016-12-13 The essays in this collection make up the first study of dropping out of late state socialism in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union From Leningrad intellectuals and Berlin squatters to Bosnian Muslim madrasa students and Romanian yogis groups and individuals across the Eastern Bloc rejected mainstream socialist culture In the process multiple drop out cultures were created with their own spaces music values style slang ideology and networks Under socialism this phenomenon was little known outside the socialist sphere Only very recently has it been possible to reconstruct it through archival work oral histories and memoirs Such a diverse set of subcultures demands a multi disciplinary approach the essays in this volume are written by historians anthropologists and scholars of literature cultural and gender studies The history of these movements not only shows us a side of state socialist life that was barely known in the west It also sheds new light on the demise and eventual collapse of late socialism and raises important questions about the similarities and differences between Eastern and Western subcultures

Teaching Big History Richard B. Simon, Mojgan Behmand, Thomas Burke, 2015 Big History is a new field on a grand scale it tells the story of the universe over time through a diverse range of disciplines that spans cosmology physics chemistry astronomy geology evolutionary biology anthropology and archaeology thereby reconciling traditional human history with environmental geography and natural history Weaving the myriad threads of evidence based human knowledge into a master narrative that stretches from the beginning of the universe to the present the Big History framework helps students make sense of their studies in all disciplines by illuminating the structures that underlie the universe and the connections among them Teaching Big History is a powerful analytic and pedagogical resource and serves as a comprehensive guide for teaching Big History as well for sharing ideas about the subject and planning a curriculum around it Readers are also given helpful advice about the administrative and organizational challenges of instituting a general education program constructed around Big History The book includes teaching materials examples and detailed sample exercises This book is also an engaging first hand account of how a group of professors built an entire Big History general education curriculum for first year students demonstrating how this thoughtful integration of disciplines exemplifies liberal education at its best and illustrating how teaching and learning this incredible story can be transformative for professors and students alike

The Abolition of Privateering and the Declaration of Paris Francis R. Stark, 1897 Researching with Feeling Caroline Clarke, Mike Broussine, Linda Watts, 2014-10-10 Why should researchers be interested in their feelings and emotions as they carry out research Emotion is what it is to exist to be human and is present in every sphere of our lives All activities are infused with emotion even those that are constructed as rational because rationality and emotionality are interpenetrated and entwined because all thinking is tinged with feeling and all feeling is tinged with thinking This book illuminates the emotional processes of doing social and organizational research and the implications of this for the outcomes of research With contributions from leading academics and research practitioners it addresses the significant issue of the sometimes intense emotional experiences involved in doing research and the implications it has for the theory and practice of social research By examining the nature of feelings and emotions it explores how we might understand researchers emotions and experiences and considers the often powerful feelings encountered in a variety of research contexts Topics discussed include power relations psycho social explanations of researcher emotions paradoxical relations with research participants and the sometimes disturbing data that is gained research supervision the politics of research gender publishing undergoing vivas and presenting at conferences This book will therefore be a valuable companion to researchers and research students from the start of their career onwards
