What A Plant Knows A Field Guide To The Senses:

What a Plant Knows Daniel Chamovitz, 2020-10-06 Thoroughly updated from root to leaf this revised edition of the groundbreaking What a Plant Knows includes new revelations for lovers of all that is vegetal and verdant. Plants can hear and taste things too. The renowned biologist Daniel Chamovitz builds on the original edition to present an intriguing look at how plants themselves experience the world from the colors they see to the schedules they keep and now what they do in fact hear and how they are able to taste. A rare inside look at what life is really like for the grass we walk on, the flowers we sniff and the trees we climb. What a Plant Knows offers a greater understanding of their place in nature. What a Plant Knows Daniel Chamovitz, 2012-05-22 Explores the secret lives of various plants from the colors they see to whether or not they really like classical music to their ability to sense nearby danger. What a Plant Knows Daniel Chamowitz, 2012 A captivating journey into the inner lives of plants from the colours they see to the schedules they keep. How does a Venus flytrap know when to snap shut? Can it feel an insect's spindly legs? How do roses know when it's spring? Do they remember the weather? Now in What a Plant Knows, renowned biologist Daniel Chamovitz presents a beguiling exploration of how plants experience our shared Earth in terms of sight, smell, taste, touch, hearing, memory and even awareness. Combining cutting edge research with lively storytelling, Chamovitz explains phenomena such as how a willow tree knows when its neighbours have been commandeered by an army of ravenous beetles and why an avocado ripens when you give it the company of a banana in a bag. And he settles the debate once and for all over whether your beloved basil plant cares if you play Led Zeppelin or Bach. Chamovitz reveals that plants have much in common with people; far more, most of us realise. Whether you have a green thumb or are a science buff, a vegetarian or simply a nature lover, this rare inside look at the life of plants will delight all who read it. What a Plant Knows Daniel Chamovitz, 2012-05-22 How does a Venus flytrap know when to snap shut? Can an orchid get jet lag? Does a tomato plant feel pain when you pluck a fruit from its vines? And does your favourite fern care whether you play Bach or the Beatles? Combining cutting edge research with lively storytelling, biologist Daniel Chamovitz explores how plants experience our shared Earth through sight, smell, touch, hearing, memory and even awareness. Whether you are a green thumb, a science buff, a vegetarian or simply a nature lover, this rare inside look at the life of plants will surprise and delight. E-Co-Affectivity Marjolein Oele, 2020-04-01 Offers an interdisciplinary investigation of affectivity in various forms of life. E Co Affectivity is a philosophical investigation of affectivity in various forms of life: photosynthesis and growth in plants, touch and trauma in bird feathers, the ontogenesis of human life through the placenta, the bare interface of human skin and the porous materiality of soil. Combining biology, phenomenology, Ancient Greek thought, new materialisms, environmental philosophy and affect studies, Marjolein Oele thinks through the concrete living places that show the receptive, responsive power of living beings to be affected and to affect. She focuses on these localized interfaces to explain how affectivity emerges in places that are always evolving, creative, porous and fluid. Every interface is material but is also more than its current materiality in cocreating place time and being After extensively describing the effects of the milieu and community within which each example of affectivity takes place in the final chapter Oele adds a prescriptive ethical lens that formulates a new epoch beyond the Anthropocene one that is sensitive to the larger ecological communal concerns at stake This is a very welcome contribution to environmental philosophy The strikingly original thesis is evident in the book's title what we call ecology is a co affectivity the mutuality of affecting and being affected on the part of species biological kingdoms ecosystems etc Here Marjolein Oele melds biology and ontology in new and creative ways enriching both fields Her book performs the very theme it explores it stages a co affective relation between philosophy and the life sciences Michael Marder author of Plant Thinking A Philosophy of Vegetal Life Dwellings of Enchantment Bénédicte Meillon, 2020-10-27 Dwellings of Enchantment Writing and Reenchanted the Earth offers ecocritical and ecopoetic readings that focus on multispecies dwellings of enchantment and reenchanted our rapport with the more than human world It sheds light on the marvelous entanglements between humans and other life forms coexisting with us entanglements that when fully perceived call onto humans to shift perspectives on both the causes and solutions to current ecological crises Working against the disenchantment of humans relationships with and perceptions of the world entailed by a modern ontology this book illustrates the power of ecopoetics to attune humans to the vibrant matter both within and outside of us Braiding indigenous with non indigenous worldviews this book tackles ecopoetics emerging from varying locations in the world It underscores the postmodernist remythologizing processes going on in many ecopoetic texts via magical realist modes and mythopoeia anxiety and depression transforming your life relationship problems work life balance planning for the future and more In addition the book shares secrets from environmental philosophy environmental psychology biomimicry permaculture green living and sustainable business to make this a comprehensive guide for living the life that you want to lead whilst considering your impact on the planet Throughout the book author Sarah Spencer shares her inspirational real life story of health recovery how she used the natural principles to overcome significant illness including chronic fatigue allergies auto immune disease and migraine and find her purpose and achieve happiness She now spends her time inspiring others to use trees and nature to design the life they want to lead via books workshops and online courses Author Sarah Spencer is passionate about trees She lives on a smallholding in the National Forest in Derbyshire in the centre of the UK with her family and loves growing vegetables fruit and flowers She manages a woodland that she designed and planted Whilst designing landscapes gardens and woodlands Sarah came to realise that the same principles that make forests successful and enduring can be applied to our own lives Sarah has used these tools and principles in a wide range of applications in her own life For more details of Think like a Tree courses and workshops see www.thinklikeatree.co.uk and on Facebook and Instagram

Making Kin with Trees Solvejg Nitzke, 2025-09-30 This book analyzes how trees act as mediators of interspecies relationships in popular science writing and creative nonfiction Making Kin with Trees argues that trees emerge as agents of arboreal poetics shaping not only fictional but also material interactions Following how speculative care practices infuse scientific and poetic texts formatting practices of reading sensing knowing and communicating with trees while affirming both cultural and scientific meaning making processes This book shows how arboreal thinking connects and might ultimately require breaking down the barrier between fact and fiction human and plant onlooker and artwork This book will be of interest to audiences based in fields including environmental humanities science and technology studies and ecocriticism and everyone engaged in science communication and interested in the relationship between scientific fact and narrative What a Mushroom Lives For Michael J. Hathaway, 2023-11-07 How the prized matsutake mushroom is remaking human communities in China and providing new ways to understand human and more than human worlds What a Mushroom Lives For pushes today's mushroom renaissance in compelling new directions For centuries Western science has promoted a human and animal centric framework of what counts as action agency movement and behavior But as Michael Hathaway shows the world making capacities of mushrooms radically challenge this orthodoxy by revealing the lively dynamism of all forms of life The book tells the fascinating story of one particularly prized species the matsutake and the astonishing ways it is silently yet powerfully shaping worlds from the Tibetan plateau to the mushrooms final destination in Japan Many Tibetan and Yi people have dedicated their lives to picking and selling this mushroom a delicacy that drives a multibillion dollar global trade network and that still grows only in the wild despite scientists intensive efforts to cultivate it in urban labs But this is far from a simple story of humans exploiting a passive edible commodity Rather the book reveals the complex symbiotic ways that mushrooms plants humans and other animals interact It explores how the world looks to the mushrooms as well as to the people who have grown rich harvesting them A surprise filled journey into science and human culture this exciting and provocative book shows how fungi shape our planet and our lives in strange diverse and often unimaginable ways Shamanic Crossovers in the Southern Philippines Arne Røkkum, 2025-06-30 This book offers a close up study of annual cycle rituals among the southern Tagbanwa of Palawan Island in the Philippines with a particular focus on shamanic oratory and vocalized performance Drawing on rich ethnography and extensive fieldwork it reflects on the interconnectedness of humans nature and the spirit world The chapters shed light on the role of female babalyan and male manlambay protagonists and how people including the deceased relate to each other through vibrant natural and crafted motifs The study transports readers into a world of shifting cultivators and invites us to delve into animist dialogue in vivo Offering a valuable contribution to debates on new animism and perspectivism Shamanic Crossovers in the Southern Philippines will be of particular interest to scholars of anthropology religion Southeast Asia and Indigenous studies
