Wheel With A Single Spoke And Other Poems:

Wheel With a Single Spoke Nichita Stanesco, 2012-07-13 Winner of the Herder Prize Nichita Stanesco was one of Romania's most celebrated contemporary poets. This dazzling collection of poems, the most extensive collection of his work to date, reveals a world in which heavenly and mysterious forces converse with the everyday and earthbound where love and a quest for truth are central and urgent questions flow. His startling images stretch the boundaries of thought. His poems at once surreal and corporeal lead us into new metaphysical and linguistic terrain. No Path Home Elizabeth Cullen

Dunn, 2018-01-15 For more than 60 million displaced people around the world, humanitarian aid has become a chronic condition. No Path Home describes its symptoms in detail. Elizabeth Cullen Dunn shows how war creates a deeply damaged world in which the structures that allow people to occupy social roles, constitute economic value, preserve bodily integrity, and engage in meaningful daily practice have been blown apart. After the Georgian war with Russia in 2008, Dunn spent sixteen months immersed in the everyday lives of the 28,000 people placed in thirty-six resettlement camps by official and nongovernmental organizations acting in concert with the Georgian government. She reached the conclusion that the humanitarian condition poses a survival problem that is not only biological but also existential. In No Path Home, she paints a moving picture of the ways in which humanitarianism leaves displaced people in limbo, neither in a state of emergency nor able to act as normal citizens in the country where they reside. Teaching Translation LAWRENCE VENUTI, 2016-08-05

Over the past half century, translation studies has emerged decisively as an academic field around the world, and in recent years the number of academic institutions offering instruction in translation has risen along with an increased demand for translators, interpreters, and translator trainers. Teaching Translation is the most comprehensive and theoretically informed overview of current translation teaching. Contributions from leading figures in translation studies are preceded by a substantial introduction by Lawrence Venuti in which he presents a view of translation as the ultimate humanistic task, an interpretive act that varies the form, meaning, and effect of the source text. 26 incisive chapters are divided into four parts covering certificate and degree programs, teaching translation practices, studying translation theory, history, and practice; surveys of translation pedagogies and key textbooks. The chapters describe long-standing programs and courses in the US, Canada, the UK, and Spain, and each one presents an exemplary model for teaching that can be replicated or adapted in other institutions. Each contributor responds to fundamental questions at the core of any translation course: for example, how is translation defined? What qualifies students for admission to the course? What impact does the institutional site have upon the course or pedagogy? Teaching Translation will be relevant for all those working and teaching in the areas of translation and translation studies. Additional resources for Translation and Interpreting Studies are available on the Routledge Translation Studies Portal. Perspectives on Literature and Translation Brian Nelson, Brigid Maher, 2013-10-15 This volume explores the relationship between literature and translation from three perspectives: the creative dimensions of the translation process the way texts circulate between languages and the way texts are received in translation by new audiences The distinctiveness of the volume lies in the fact that it considers these fundamental aspects of literary translation together and in terms of their interconnections Contributors examine a wide variety of texts including world classics poetry genre fiction transnational literature and life writing from around the world Both theoretical and empirical issues are covered with some contributors approaching the topic as practitioners of literary translation and others writing from within the academy

This Is a Classic Regina Galasso, 2023-01-26 This Is a Classic illuminates the overlooked networks that contribute to the making of literary classics through the voices of multiple translators without whom writers would have a difficult time reaching a global audience It presents the work of some of today's most accomplished literary translators who translate classics into English or who work closely with translation in the US context and magnifies translators' knowledge, skills, creativity, and relationships with the literary texts they translate, the authors whose works they translate, and the translations they make The volume presents translators' expertise and insight on how classics get defined according to language pairs and contexts It advocates for careful attention to the role of translation and translators in reading choices and practices, especially regarding literary classics
