Rethinking Transitional Justice for the Twenty-First Century Dustin N. Sharp, 2018-03-01 Transitional justice is the dominant lens through which the world grapples with legacies of mass atrocity and yet it has rarely reflected the diversity of peace and justice traditions around the world Hewing to a largely western and legalist script truth commissions and war crimes tribunals have become the default means of doing justice Rethinking Transitional Justice for the Twenty First Century puts the blind spots and assumptions of transitional justice under the microscope and asks whether the field might be re imagined to better suit the diversity and realities of the twenty first century At the core of this re imagining is an examination of the broader field of post conflict peace building and associated critical theory from which both caution and inspiration can be drawn By using this lens Dustin N Sharp shows how we might begin to generate a more cosmopolitan and mosaic theory and imagine more creative and context sensitive approaches to building peace with justice

The International Committee of the Red Cross and its Mandate to Protect and Assist Christy Shucksmith, 2017-08-24 The purpose of this book is to consider the legality of the changing practice of the International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC It provides extensive legal analysis of the ICRC as an organisation legal person and humanitarian actor It draws on the law of organisations International Humanitarian Law International Human Rights Law and other relevant branches of international law in order to critically assess the mandate and practice of the ICRC on the ground The book also draws on more abstract human centric concepts including sovereignty as responsibility and human security in order to assess the development of the concept of humanity for the mandate and practice of the ICRC Critically this book uses semi structured interviews with ICRC delegates to test the theoretical and doctrinal conclusions The book provides a unique insight into the work of the ICRC It also includes a case study of the work of the ICRC in the Democratic Republic of Congo Ultimately the book concludes that the ICRC is no longer restricted to the provision of humanitarian assistance on the battlefield It is increasingly drawn into long term and extremely complicated conflicts in which civilians soldiers and non State actors intermingle In order to remain useful for the people on the ground therefore the ICRC is progressively developing its mandate This book questions whether on occasion this could threaten its promise to remain neutral impartial and independent Finally however it should be said that this author finds that the work of the ICRC is unparalleled on the international stage and its humanitarian mandate is a vital component for those embroiled in the undertaking of and recovery from conflict

Business and Conflict in Fragile States Brian Ganson, Achim Wennmann, 2018-10-25 Large scale investments in fragile states in Latin America Africa the former Soviet Union and Asia become magnets for conflict which undermines business development and security International policy responds with regulation state building and institutional reform with poor and often perverse results Caught up in old ways of thinking about conflict and fragility and an age old fight over whether multinational corporations are good or bad for peaceful development it leaves business related conflicts in fragile states to multiply and fester Surveying a new strategic landscape of business and conflict Brian Ganson and Achim Wennmann conclude that neither company shareholders nor advocates for peaceful development need or should accept the growing cost of business related conflict in fragile states Drawing on decades of experience from mainstream conflict prevention and violence reduction efforts as well as promising company practice they show that even acute conflict is manageable when dealt with pragmatically locally and on its own terms The analysis and conclusions of this Adelphi book will interest policymakers business leaders and community advocates alike all those hoping to mitigate today s conflicts while helping to reduce fragility and build a firmer foundation for inclusive development

Public Policy, Philanthropy and Peacebuilding in Northern Ireland Colin Knox,Padraic Quirk,2016-05-31 This book examines the role played by one important external stakeholder Atlantic Philanthropies a limited life foundation in helping to build peace and promote reconciliation in Northern Ireland Northern Ireland is now referred to as a post conflict society largely due to the absence of political violence and relatively stable political institutions These are necessary but insufficient conditions for what Galtung has described as positive peace which requires a more fundamental review of the structural inequalities that contributed to the conflict in the first place Using detailed case studies the authors illustrate the role played by voluntary and community sector groups funded by Atlantic Philanthropies in influencing the public policy agenda and securing long term systemic changes They also critique the work of Atlantic as a pay to play organization whose original mission moved from funding the higher education sector on the island of Ireland to become a key foundation with a significant role in the peace process

Justice and Security Reform Lisa Denney,2014-01-10 Justice and Security Reform Development Agencies and Informal Institutions in Sierra Leone undertakes a deep contextual analysis of the reform of the country s security and justice sectors since the end of the civil war in 2002 Arguing that the political and bureaucratic nature of development agencies leads to a lack of engagement with informal institutions this book examines the challenges of sustainably transforming security and justice in fragile states Through the analysis of a post conflict context often held up as an example of successful peacebuilding Lisa Denney reveals how the politics of development agencies is an often forgotten constraint in security and justice reform and development efforts more broadly Particularly suited to upper level undergraduates and postgraduate students as well as practitioners this book is relevant to those interested in security and justice reform and statebuilding as well Sierra Leone s post conflict recovery in the last two decades to respond to more multi faceted and complex conflicts the field has lagged behind in documenting the impact and success of projects To help address this gap the Alliance for Peacebuilding one of the leading networks in the field has brought together 13 stories of innovative peacebuilding practices from around the world in Building Peace While the projects covered are diverse in nature together they demonstrate the significant impact of peacebuilding work Contributors created new institutions to prevent and manage conflicts at the local or national levels helped restore relationships in conflict affected communities and empowered citizens to work for positive change in their societies across ethnic religious and political divides It s clear that there is no quick fix for violence but this volume will go a long way in providing inspiration and practical tools for policymakers academics and practitioners who seek to make significant and valuable contributions towards achieving peace Peace Research Abstracts Journal ,2001 Selected Briefs on Canadian Foreign and Defence
