Charlemagne; Or the Church Delivered ... Translated by the Rev. S. Butler ... and the Rev. Francis Hodgson. With a Portrait Lucien Bonaparte (prince de Canino),1815 Master Plans and Minor Acts Shakirah E. Hudani,2024-04-17 How might a devastated and divided country undergoing accelerated urbanization and growth find its way to an equitable future What is the role of the city as a terrain for reconciliation and redistribution and who determines the contours of such processes These questions are at the heart of Shakirah Hudani s Master Plans and Minor Acts a detailed examination of the regeneration of post genocide Rwanda and its capital city of Kigali While studies of reconciliation in Rwanda have for the most part focused on the national level Hudani argues that much of the actual work of repair has been in rebuilding Kigali and urban centers around the country Hudani therefore shifts our perspective to the level of the city where through years of fieldwork she has observed on the ground negotiations over material redistribution dispossession and rebuilding in the wake of the country s civil war and 1994 genocide This work of reconciliation at the city and neighborhood level she shows has been significantly impacted by efforts to reconstruct the city through largescale master planning often involving international finance and expertise Through an examination of this national urban dynamic Hudani shows that reconciliation in Rwanda has been and continues to be primarily a socio material and spatial process consisting of negotiation over property homes and the right to urban space Where Mortal and Immortal Meet Andrew G. Ralston,2021-10-26

Glasgow's thirteenth century cathedral is the city's oldest building and one of Scotland's top tourist destinations. The cathedral remains an active congregation of the Church of Scotland and serves as the focus for many events of national significance. It is however many years since a comprehensive overview of the cathedral's history has been published. The standard work The Book of Glasgow Cathedral was compiled more than 120 years ago by George Eyre Todd. Since then the interior of the building has been completely transformed thanks largely to the efforts of the Society of Friends of Glasgow Cathedral founded in 1936 by the Rev A Nevile Davidson with the aims of adorning and beautifying the building and encouraging research into its history. To mark the eighty fifth anniversary of the society this new book traces the story of its achievements and presents the fruits of scholarship undertaken during recent decades combining essays and lectures on the history of Glasgow Cathedral by eminent historians of the past with new and hitherto unpublished research. Where Mortal and Immortal Meet will be an invaluable resource for future generations of historians and for all those who have a love for one of Scotland's most significant architectural treasures.

Charlemagne; or The Church delivered, an epic poem, tr. by S. Butler and F. Hodgson Lucien Bonaparte (prince de Canino), 1815 Gould's St. Louis Red-blue Book, 1919 Western Journal of Education, 1917 Indigenous Peoples, Consent and Rights Stephen Young, 2019-11-19

Analysing how Indigenous Peoples come to be identifiable as bearers of human rights this book considers how individuals and communities claim the right of free prior and informed consent (FPIC) as Indigenous peoples. The basic notion of FPIC is that states should seek Indigenous peoples consent before taking actions that will have an impact on them their territories or their livelihoods. FPIC is an important development for Indigenous peoples their advocates and supporters because one might assume that where states recognize it Indigenous peoples will have the ability to control how non Indigenous laws and actions will affect them. But who exactly are the Indigenous peoples that are the subjects of this discourse? This book argues that the subject status of Indigenous peoples emerged out of international law in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Then through a series of case studies it considers how self identifying Indigenous peoples scholars UN institutions and non government organizations NGOs dispersed that subject status and associated rights discourse through international and national legal contexts. It shows that those who claim international human rights as Indigenous peoples performatively become identifiable subjects of international law but further demonstrates that this does not however provide them with control over or emancipation from a state based legal system. Maintaining that the discourse on Indigenous peoples and international law itself needs to be theoretically and critically re appraised this book problematises the subject status of those who claim Indigenous peoples rights and the role of scholars institutions NGOs and others in producing that subject status. Squarely addressing the limitations of international human rights law it nevertheless goes on to provide a conceptual framework for rethinking the promise and power of Indigenous peoples rights. Original and sophisticated the book will appeal to scholars activists and lawyers involved with indigenous rights as well as those with more general interests in the operation of international law.

Strangers and Secrets R. A.
