World Development Indicators 2010 Author World Bank Apr 201:

Social Work Education Carolyn Noble, Mark Henrickson, 2013-05-16 Despite the astonishing diversity of languages cultures philosophies religions economic systems and ways that social work is taught and practised in the region social work in the Asia Pacific is becoming more internationally cohesive At the same time it maintains strong foundations in its local contexts In an increasingly globalised world international social work belongs in every 21st century social work curriculum While this book does not provide all the answers it will help educators and practitioners ask better questions State of the Urban Youth, 2010/2011, 2010 This report is based on data from UN HABITAT's Global Urban Indicator Database as well as surveys of and focus group discussions with selected representative groups of young people in five major cities located in four developing regions Rio de Janeiro Brazil Mumbai India Kingston Jamaica Nairobi Kenya and Lagos Nigeria p ix

State of the World's Cities 2008/9 Un-Habitat, 2008 This report adopts the concept of Harmonious Cities as a theoretical framework in order to understand today's urban world and also as an operational tool to confront the most important challenges facing urban areas and their development processes It recognizes that tolerance diversity social justice and good governance all of which are inter related are as important to sustainable urban development as physical planning It addresses national concerns by searching for solutions at the city level For that purpose it focuses on three Key areas spatial or regional harmony which examines the main drivers of urban growth in the developing world and explores the spatial nuances of economic and social policies social harmony which presents and analyzes new data on urban inequalities worldwide and describes the types of shelter deprivations experienced by slum dwellers in developing world regions and environmental harmony which examines the role of cities in the climate change debate and the impact of global warming on the most vulnerable cities The report also assesses the various intangible assets within cities that contribute to harmony such as cultural heritage sense of place and memory and the complex set of social and symbolic relationships that give cities meaning It argues that these intangible assets represent the soul of the city and are as important for harmonious urban development as tangible assets BOOK JACKET Planning for Community-based Disaster Resilience Worldwide

Adenrele Awotona, 2016-10-14 We are witnessing an ever increasing level and intensity of disasters from Ecuador to Ethiopia and beyond devastating millions of ordinary lives and causing long term misery for vulnerable populations Bringing together 26 case studies from six continents this volume provides a unique resource that discusses in considerable depth the multifaceted matrix of natural and human made disasters It examines their bearing on the loss of human and productive capital the conduct of national policies and the setting of national development priorities and on the nature of international aid and bilateral assistance strategies and programs of donor countries In order to ensure the efficacy and appropriateness of their support for disaster survivors international agencies humanitarian and disaster relief organizations scholars non governmental organizations and members of the global emergency management community need to have insight into best practices and lessons learned from various disasters across national and cultural boundaries The evidence obtained from the numerous case studies in this volume serves to build a worldwide community that is better informed about the cultural and traditional contexts of such disasters and better enabled to prepare for respond to and finally rebuild sustainable communities after disasters in different environments The main themes of the case studies include the need for community planning and emergency management to unite in order to achieve the mutual aim of creating a sustainable disaster resilient community coupled with the necessity to enact and implement appropriate laws policies and development regulations for disaster risk reduction the need to develop a clear set of urban planning and urban design principles for improving the built environment s capacities for disaster risk management through the integration of disaster risk reduction education into the curricula of colleges and universities the need to engage the whole community to build inclusive governance structures as prerequisites for addressing climate change vulnerability and fostering resilience and sustainability Furthermore the case studies explore the need to link the existence and value of scientific knowledge accumulated in various countries with decision making in disaster risk management and the relevance and transferability from one cultural context to another of the lessons learned in building institutional frameworks for whole community partnerships

A New Era of Transformation in Ghana Clemens Breisinger,Xinshen Diao,Shashidhara Kolavalli,Ramatu M. Al-Hassan,James Thurlow,2011-01-01 Several Sub Saharan African nations have experienced increased economic growth and political stability in recent years compared with the stagnation and turmoil of previous decades Ghana is one of the biggest success stories of the region the nation has enjoyed an annual average of five percent economic growth for the past 20 years and will probably be the first Sub Saharan African country to achieve the Millennium Development Goal of cutting poverty in half by 2015 This study examines how Ghana can build on its achievements and possibly serve as a model for other African countries By drawing on existing literature and applying a highly disaggregated dynamic general equilibrium model to Ghana s experiences the authors identify certain necessary factors for further economic development in the country These requirements include continued political stability growth in manufacturing improved domestic services such as transportation and agricultural development that goes beyond past reliance on cash crops such as cocoa to include major staples and livestock This kind of broad based growth will benefit the entire economy thereby reducing poverty The authors analysis provides an economic development strategy for Ghana and possibly other countries in the region to policymakers development specialists and others concerned with Sub Saharan Africa

8 Billion and Counting Jennifer D. Sciubba,2022-03-29 A provocative description of the power of population change to create the conditions for societal transformation As the world nears 8 billion people the countries that have led the global order since World War II are becoming the most aged societies in human history At the same time the world s poorest and least powerful countries are suffocating under an imbalance of population and resources In 8 Billion and Counting political demographer Jennifer D

Sciubba argues that the story of the twenty first century is less a story about exponential population growth as the previous century was than it is a story about differential growth marked by a stark divide between the world's richest and poorest countries. Drawing from decades of research, policy experience and teaching, Sciubba employs stories and statistics to explain how demographic trends like age structure and ethnic composition are crucial signposts for future violence and peace, repression and democracy, poverty and prosperity. Although we have a diverse global population, demographic trends often follow predictable patterns that can help professionals across the corporate, nonprofit, government and military sectors understand the global strategic environment. Through the lenses of national security, global health and economics, Sciubba demonstrates the pitfalls of taking population numbers at face value and extrapolating from there. Instead, she argues we must look at the forces in a society that amplify demographic trends and the forces that dilute them, particularly political institutions or the rules of the game. She shows that the most important skills in demographic analysis are naming and being aware of your preferences, rethinking assumptions and asking the right questions. Provocative and engrossing, 8 Billion and Counting is required reading for business leaders, policy makers and anyone eager to anticipate political, economic and social risks and opportunities. A deeper understanding of fertility, mortality and migration promises to point toward the investments we need to make today to shape the future we want tomorrow.

Effective Delivery of Integrated Interventions in Early Childhood: Innovations in Evidence Use, Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning Jane Fisher, Abhay

Gaidhane, Mahalaxmi Nazli Khatib, Zahiruddin Quazi Syed, 2021-12-01 State of the World's Cities 2008/2009 United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2008. First Published in 2008. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an information company. Library Journal, 2003. Includes beginning Sept 15, 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept-May a special section. School library journal. ISSN 0000-0035. Called Junior Libraries 1954-May 1961. Also issued separately. The New

Consumers Norman Myers, Jennifer Kent, 2004-07-09. Myers and Kent argue that while overconsumption is an abiding problem in the developed world, another one billion increasingly affluent new consumers in developing countries will place additional strains on the earth's resources. World Development Indicators 2010 CD-ROM World Bank, World Bank
