

AP World History
Unit 5 Multiple-Choice Questions

Questions 1-3 refer to the passage below:

"Rousseau declares that a woman should never, for a moment, feel herself independent, that she should be governed by fear to another natural coming, and made a coquettish slave in order to render her a more afflicting object of desire, a sweeter companion to man, whenever he chooses to relax himself. What nonsense?"

Women might certainly study the art of healing, and be physicians as well as nurses. And midwifery, decency seems to allow to them, though I am afraid to the word midwife in our dictionaries, will soon give place to accoucheur (male midwife), and one proof of the former delicacy of the sex be effaced from the language. They might, also, study politics . . .

Business of various kinds they might likewise pursue, if they were educated in a more orderly manner, which might save many domestic and legal prostitution. Women would not then marry for a support, an means of places under government, and neglect the implied duties; nor would an attempt to earn their own subsistence—a most laudable one—sink them almost to the level of those poor abandoned creatures who live by prostitution. For are not milliners and snuffbox-makers" reckoned the same class? The few employments open to women, so far from being liberal, are menial; and when a superior education enables them to take charge of the education of children in governesses, they are not treated like the tutors of sons. . . . [Thus] these situations are considered in the light of a degradation; and they know little of the human heart, who need to be told that nothing so painfully sharpens sensibility as such a fall in life."

Quoted Mary Wollstonecraft, Vindication of the Rights of Woman
(1792), England/United Kingdom.

Millions and millions more are persecuted with male lust and other passions
