Mass Media, Consumerism and National Identity in Postwar Japan Martyn David Smith, 2018-04-05 Mass Media

Consumerism and National Identity in Postwar Japan addresses Japan's evolving nationalism and national identity in relation to its newly rising consumerism during the two decades from 1952 to 1972 through a study of the transformation of the print media and the market for weekly and monthly magazines. Martyn Smith argues that the transformation of the print media in the 1950s and 1960s expanded the possibilities for social individual and national identities in Japan. From the late 1950s the growth in the market for weekly magazines was fuelled by the huge potential for advertising revenue, the rapid development of the Japanese economy and the necessity for the growth of a consumer society. This resulted in the merging of national identity with individual subjectivity which this book describes as national subjectivity as the Japanese media promoted individual consumption to aid the recovery of the Japanese nation as a whole. Examining housewife magazines such as Fujin, Koron, Fujin no Tomo and Fujin Gaho as well as news magazines such as Mainichi Graph and Asahi Graph and publications aimed at young people Shukan Heibon and Heibon Punch, Smith shows how the relationship of nationalism to everyday life is best understood by taking into account the changing nature of consumption in the period. By presenting an alternative to the traditional top-down narrative of state-driven economic nationalism, this book therefore makes a unique contribution to the study of postwar Japanese history and Japanese nationalism.

Sports in African History, Politics, and Identity Formation Michael J. Gennaro, Saheed Aderinto, 2019-04-01 Sports in African History Politics and Identity

Formation explores how sports can render a key to unlocking complex social, political, economic and gendered relations across Africa and the Diaspora. Sports hold significant value and have an intricate relationship with many components of African societies throughout history. For many Africans, sports are a way of life, a site of cultural heroes, a way out of poverty and social mobility, and a site for leisurely play. This book focuses on the many ways in which sports uniquely reflect changing cultural trends at diverse levels of African societies. The contributors detail various sports such as football, cricket, ping pong, and rugby across the continent to show how sports lay at the heart of the discourse of nationalism, self-fashioning, gender, and masculinity, leisure, and play, challenges of underdevelopment, and ideas of progress. Bringing together the newest and most innovative scholarship on African sports, this book will be of interest to students and scholars of contemporary Africa, African history, culture, and society, and sports history and politics.
