Yearning Race Gender And Cultural Politics:

Yearning Bell Hooks,1990-01 Crosses disciplinary boundaries in major debates on postmodern theory cultural criticism and the politics of race and gender hooks values postmodernism s insights while warning that the fashionable infatuation with discourse about difference is dangerously detachable from the struggle we must all wage against racism sexism and cultural imperialism

Yearning Bell Hooks,1991 Race Gender and Cultural Politics Crosses disciplinary boundaries boldly interrupting business as usual in the major debates on post modern theory cultural criticismand the politics of race and gender

Yearning Bell Hooks,2015 For bell hooks the best cultural criticism sees no need to separate politics from the pleasure of reading Yearningcollects together some of hooks s classic and early pieces of cultural criticism from the 80s Addressing topics like pedagogy postmodernism and politics hooks examines a variety of cultural artifacts from Spike Lee s film Do the Right Thingand Wim Wenders s film Wings of Desireto the writings of Zora Neale Hurston and Toni Morrison The result is a poignant collection of essays which like all of hooks s work is above all else concerned with transforming oppressive structures of domination

Diasporic Agencies: Mapping the City Otherwise Nishat Awan,2017-05-15 Diasporic Agencies addresses the neglected subject of how architecture and urban design can respond to the consequences of increasing migration Arguing that diasporic inhabitations can only be understood as the co production of space subjectivity and politics the book explores questions of difference belonging and movement in the city Through focusing on a series of examples it reveals how diasporas produce new types of spaces and develop new subjectivities in the contemporary European metropolis It explores the way in which geo politics affects individual lives and how national and regional borders inscribe themselves onto diasporic bodies The book claims that the multiple belongings of diasporic citizens half here and half there provoke a crisis in the standard modes of architectural representation that tend to homogenise and flatten experience Instead Diasporic Agencies makes a case for a non representational approach where the displacement of the diasporic subject and their consequent reterritorialisation of space are developed as modes of thinking and doing In parallel mapping otherwise is proposed as a tool for spatial practitioners to work with these multi layered spaces The book is aimed at spatial practitioners and theorists of all sorts architects artists geographers urban designers anyone with a general interest in mapping or those interested in working through issues related to migration and the contemporary city

Theories of Race and Racism Les Back,John Solomos,2020-08-14 Theories of Race and Racism A Reader is an important and innovative collection that brings together extracts from the work of scholars both established and up and coming who have helped to shape the study of race and racism as an historical and contemporary phenomenon This second edition incorporates new contributions and editorial material and allows readers to explore the changing terms of debates about the nature of race and racism in contemporary societies All six parts are organized around the contributions made by theorists whose work has been influential in shaping theoretical debates The various contributions have been chosen to reflect different theoretical perspectives and to help readers gain a feel for the changing terms of theoretical debate over time As well as covering the main concerns of past and recent theoretical debates it provides a glimpse of relatively new areas of interest that are likely to attract more attention in years to come Race, Sex, and Gender in Contemporary Women's Theatre Mary F

Beyond Identity Politics Moya Lloyd,2005-04-13 Recent debates in contemporary feminist theory have been dominated by the relation between identity and politics Beyond Identity Politics examines the implications of recent theorizing on difference identity and subjectivity for theories of patriarchy and feminist politics Organised around the three central themes of subjectivity power and politics this book focuses on a question which feminists struggled with and were divided by throughout the last decade that is how to theorize the relation between the subject and politics In this thoughtful engagement with these debates Moya Lloyd argues that the turn to the subject in process does not entail the demise of feminist politics as many feminists have argued She demonstrates how key ideas such as agency power and domination take on a new shape as a consequence of this radical rethinking of the subject politics relation and how the role of feminist political theory becomes centred upon critique A resource for feminist theorists women s and gender studies students as well as political and social theorists this is a carefully composed and wide ranging text which provides important insights into one of contemporary feminism s most central concerns Gender Politics in the Asia-Pacific Region Brenda S. A.

Yeoh,Peggy Teo,Shirlena Huang,2005-08-18 This volume takes up the challenge of exploring the ways in which women are active players collaborators participants leaders and resisters in the politics of change in the Asia Pacific region

Eco-Homes Doctor Jenny Pickerill,2016-01-15 It is widely understood that good affordable eco housing needs to be at the heart of any attempt to mitigate or adapt to climate change This is the first book to comprehensively explore eco housing from a geographical social and political perspective It starts from the premise that we already know how to build good eco houses and we already have the technology to retrofit existing housing Despite this relatively few eco houses are being built Featuring over thirty case studies of eco housing in Britain Spain Thailand Argentina and the United States Eco Homes examines the ways in which radical changes to our houses such as making them more temporary using natural materials or relying on manual heating and ventilation systems require changes in how we live As such it argues it is not lack of technology or political will that is holding us back from responding to climate change but deep rooted cultural and social understandings of our way of life and what we expect our houses to do for us Cultural Studies of Transnationalism

Handel Wright,Meaghan Morris,2013-09-13 This book asks what transnationalism might mean for Cultural Studies as an intellectual project shaped in vastly differing circumstances across the world With contributions from scholars with experience of cultural life and the work of education in various regions countries and locales from francophone Africa Eastern Europe and the Middle East to Hawaii Jamaica South Korea and Japan Cultural Studies of Transnationalism ranges across literary film dance theatrical and translation studies to explore the socially material and institutional factors that not only shape transnational developments in culture broadly understood but also frame the academic and professional spaces in which we reflect on these This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Cultural Studies Race, Gender, and Curriculum Theorizing Denise Taliaferro Baszile,Kirsten T. Edwards,Nichole A. Guillory,2016-11-15 Race Gender and Curriculum Theorizing Working in Womanish Ways recognizes and represents the significance of Black feminist and womanist theorizing within curriculum theorizing In this collection a vibrant group of women of color who do curriculum work reflect on a Black feminist womanist scholar text and or concept speaking to how it has both influenced and enriched their work as scholar activists Black feminist and womanist theorizing plays a dynamic role in the development of women of color in academia and gets folded into our thinking and doing as scholar activists who teach write profess express organize engage community educate do curriculum theory heal and love in the struggle for a more just world Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works
