Global Genres, Local Films Elena Oliete-Aldea, Beatriz Oria, Juan A. Tarancón, 2015-12-17 The acute processes of globalisation at the turn of the century have generated an increased interest in exploring the interactions between the so called global cultural products or trends and their specific local manifestations Even though cross cultural connections are becoming more patent in filmic productions in the last decades cinema per se has always been characterized by its hybrid transnational border crossing nature From its own inception Spanish film production was soon tied to the Hollywood film industry for its subsistence but other film traditions such as those in the Soviet Union France Germany and in particular Italy also determined either directly or indirectly the development of Spanish cinema

Global Genres Local Films The Transnational Dimension of Spanish Cinema reaches beyond the limits of the film text and analyses and contextualizes the impact of global film trends and genres on Spanish cinema in order to study how they helped articulate specific national challenges from the conflict between liberalism and tradition in the first decades of the 20th century to the management of the contemporary financial crisis This collection provides the first comprehensive picture of the complex national and supranational forces that have shaped Spanish films revealing the tensions and the intricate dialogue between cross cultural aesthetic and narrative models on the one hand and indigenous traditions on the other as well as the political and historical contingencies these different expressions responded to

Asian Cinemas Dimitris Eleftheriotis, Gary Needham, 2006 Asian cinema is an area of increasing interest in Anglo US film studies while Asian films are now widely distributed and popular with western audiences The fascination with Asian cinema must be examined in the context of a complex and often problematic relationship between western scholars students viewers and Asian films This book therefore examines a number of detailed case studies such as the films of Ozu Bruce Lee Hong Kong and Turkish cinema Hindi melodramas Godzilla films Taiwanese directors and Fifth Generation Chinese cinema and uses them in order to investigate the limitations of Anglo US theoretical models and critical paradigms By engaging the readers with familiar areas of critical discourse such as postcolonial criticism national cinema genre authorship and stardom the book aims to introduce within such contexts the unfamiliar case studies which will be explored in depth and detail The advantage of such an approach is that it works with the dynamics of familiarity unfamiliarity and resists the temptation to construct Asian cinemas as a gallery of exotic objects that might be particularly fascinating but remain deeply distant and foreign Features A comprehensive study of Asian cinemas including Hong Kong Japan China India Turkey and Taiwan An accessible guide for the study and research of Asian cinema which addresses undergraduate and postgraduate students and researchers Each section contains a contextualising introduction Includes key texts by Ackbar Abbas Rey Chow David Desser Dimitris Eleftheriotis Nezhir Erdo 4th International Documentary and Short Film Festival of Kerala K.
