Learning to Be Old Margaret Cruikshank, 2009-01-16 What does it mean to grow old in America today Is successful aging our responsibility What will happen if we fail to grow old gracefully Especially for women the onus on the aging population in the United States is growing rather than diminishing Gender race and sexual orientation have been reinterpreted as socially constructed phenomena yet aging is still seen through physically constructed lenses The second edition of Margaret Cruikshank's

Learning to Be Old helps put aging in a new light neither romanticizing nor demonizing it Featuring new research and analysis expanded sections on gay lesbian bisexual transgender aging and critical gerontology and an updated chapter on feminist gerontology the second edition even more thoroughly than the first looks at the variety of different forces affecting the progress of aging Cruikshank pays special attention to the fears and taboos multicultural traditions and the medicalization and politicization of natural processes that inform our understanding of age Through it all we learn a better way to inhabit our age whatever it is

Age Matters Toni M. Calasanti, Kathleen F. Slevin, 2013-10-11 This volume of original chapters is designed to bring attention to a neglected area of feminist scholarship aging After several decades of feminist studies we are now well informed of the complex ways that gender shapes the lives of women and men Similarly we know more about how gendered power relations interface with race and ethnicity class and sexual orientation Serious theorizing of old age and age relations to gender represents the next frontier of feminist scholarship In this volume leading national and international feminist scholars of aging take first steps in this direction illuminating how age relations interact with other social inequalities particularly gender In doing so the authors challenge and transform feminist scholarship and many taken for granted concepts in gender studies

Foucault and Aging Jason L. Powell, 2006 This book is concerned with demonstrating the relevance and application of Michel Foucault's work to an understanding of human ageing The diverse range of arguments in the book identifies the ways in which ageing has been organised shaped and positioned through both knowledge systems and social processes which impinge on the social construction of ageing Whilst there has been an escalating array of fields influenced by Foucault's work ageing has been under theorised Indeed the wide subject matter of Foucault's scholarly work has developed path breaking yet critical perspectives on psychiatry medicine punishment crime and sexuality The essence of this particular book is that it raises the question of what gerontology as a discipline can learn from Foucauldian approaches This international volume demonstrates that deployment of Foucauldian theory to gerontological contexts has facilitated disruptions and ruptures of both the meta narratives inscribed within gerontology as both discipline and policy and the ontological status of its subjects

The Production of Reality Peter Kollock, Jodi O'Brien, 1994

Narrating Vision Marja Evelyn Mogk, 2004

Women's Lives Gwyn Kirk, Margo Okazawa-Rey, 2007 This interdisciplinary multicultural text reader provides an introduction to women's studies by examining U S women's lives in a global context and across categories of race ethnicity class sexuality disability and age Substantial chapter introductions provide updated statistical information and explanations of key concepts and ideas as a context for the readings Each chapter includes Questions to Frame Your Reading and Suggestions for Taking Action to help students link their knowledge and understanding to their own lives and apply it to the world around them

BLCC Working Paper, 1995

"Lesbian" and "old" Jane Ann Bennett, 2003

Human Behavior in the Social Environment José B. Ashford, Craig W. LeCroy, Kathy L. Lortie, 2006 Ashford LeCroy and Lortie's ground breaking book offers students a balanced integrated introduction to human behavior in the social environment Lively and comprehensive this book succeeds by helping students connect foundation knowledge with practice concerns Clarified through the introduction of study tables and concept maps at the end of each discussion behavior in the development chapters the authors look at biopsychosocial development across the life span using an integrative multidimensional approach discussing integrative practice theory treatment and services throughout This multidimensional framework provides a concrete tool for the reader to assess human behavior from a perspective that truly reflects the values and knowledge base of the social work profession Together the book s solid coverage of foundation knowledge integration of the biopsychosocial dimensions for assessing social functioning its multidimensional framework and its use of case studies to illuminate the applied aspects of HBSE content along with the authors consistent attention to diversity successfully combine to give readers a meaningful exciting experience Psychology Jane S. Halonen, John W. Santrock, 1996 The second edition of this introductory psychology textbook enables the reader to analyse and better understand themselves and others by increasing their awareness of the diversity of human behaviour The book stresses critical thinking about all aspects of behaviour and emphasizes the sociocultural perspective throughout providing students with a broader global view of the science of psychology Voices in Dialogue , 1995 Women, Feminism, and Aging Colette Browne, 1998 In this volume Dr Browne outlines a new vision for understanding older women and their place in society The author draws together the major themes of feminist writers and thinkers and develops alternatives to the present devaluing of older women reconceptualizing what growing older can mean to women She suggests a number of strategies to improve the lives of older women and ultimately looks to a new epistemology of women and age for a more respectful vision of women and men in the later years The volume s style will appeal to professionals and students in social work and sociology Standing on Both Feet Cathy J. Tashiro, 1998 Sociology in Everyday Life David Allen Karp, William C. Yoels, Barbara Holcombe Vann, 2004 Hispanic Elders and Human Services Sara Alemán, 1997 Second Thoughts Janet M. Ruane, Karen A. Cerulo, 2000 The authors examine both critically and sociologically the common sense and conventional wisdoms we all use in everyday life Topics include children are our most precious commodity money is the root of all evil and honesty is the best policy
