Vietnamerica A Familys Journey By Gb Tran:

Vietnamerica GB Tran, 2011-01-25 A superb new graphic memoir in which an inspired artist storyteller reveals the road that brought his family to where they are today Vietnamerica GB Tran is a young Vietnamese American artist who grew up distant from and largely indifferent to his family s history Born and raised in South Carolina as a son of immigrants he knew that his parents had fled Vietnam during the fall of Saigon But even as they struggled to adapt to life in America they preferred to forget the past and to focus on their children s future It was only in his late twenties that GB began to learn their extraordinary story When his last surviving grandparents die within months of each other GB visits Vietnam for the first time and begins to learn the tragic history of his family and of the homeland they left behind In this family saga played out in the shadow of history GB uncovers the root of his father s remoteness and why his mother had remained in an often fractious marriage why his grandfather had abandoned his own family to fight for the Viet Cong why his grandmother had had an affair with a French soldier GB learns that his parents had taken harrowing flight from Saigon during the final hours of the war not because they thought America was better but because they were afraid of what would happen if they stayed They entered America a foreign land they couldn t even imagine where family connections dissolved and shared history was lost within a span of a single generation In telling his family s story GB finds his own place in this saga of hardship and heroism Vietnamerica is a visually stunning portrait of survival escape and reinvention and of the gift of the American immigrants dream passed on to their children Vietnamerica is an unforgettable story of family revelation and reconnection and a new graphic memoir classic

Redrawing the Historical Past Martha J. Cutter, Cathy J. Schlund-Vials, 2018 Redrawing the Historical Past examines how multiethnic graphic novels portray and revise U S history This is the first collection to focus exclusively on the interplay of history and memory in multiethnic graphic novels Such interplay enables a new understanding of the past The twelve essays explore Mat Johnson and Warren Pleece s Incognegro Gene Luen Yang s Boxers and Saints GB Tran s Vietnamerica Scott McCloud s The New Adventures of Abraham Lincoln Art Spiegelman s post Maus work and G Neri and Randy DuBurke s Yummy The Last Days of a Southside Shorty among many others The collection represents an original body of criticism about recently published works that have received scant scholarly attention The chapters confront issues of history and memory in contemporary multiethnic graphic novels employing diverse methodologies and approaches while adhering to three main guidelines First using a global lens contributors reconsider the concept of history and how it is manifest in their chosen texts Second contributors consider the ways in which graphic novels as a distinct genre can formally renovate or intervene in notions of the historical past Third contributors take seriously the possibilities and limitations of these historical revisions with regard to envisioning new different or even more positive versions of both the present and future As a whole the volume demonstrates that graphic novelists use the open and flexible space of the graphic narrative page in which readers can move not only forward but also backward upward downward and in several other directions to present history as an open realm of struggle that is continually being revised Contributors Frederick Luis Aldama Julie Buckner Armstrong Katharine Capshaw Monica Chiu Jennifer Glaser Taylor Hagood Caroline Kyungah Hong Angela Lafien Catherine H Nguyen Jeffrey Santa Ana and Jorge Santos
