Waltz With Bashir A Lebanon War Story:

Waltz with Bashir Ari Folman, David Polonsky, 2009-02-17 In Beirut in September 1982 while Israeli soldiers secured the area a Christian militia entered the refugee camps of Sabra and Shatila and massacred hundreds if not thousands of Palestinians Ari Folman was one of those Israeli soldiers but for more than twenty years he remembered nothing of that night Then came a friend's disturbing dream and with it Folman's need to excavate the truth of the war in Lebanon and answer the crucial question What was he doing during the hours of slaughter at Sabra and Shatila Stunningly original in form Waltz with Bashir follows Folman's journey deep into the darkness of Beirut Drawing on the stories of other soldiers and his own returning fragments of memory Folman painfully and candidly pieces together the war and his place in it the senselessness of the soldiers' orders the fear that pervades every moment the casual bloodshed of civilians culminating in the massacres themselves The result is a graphic novel that is as damning as it is beautiful An indictment of violence of extraordinary power Waltz with Bashir will take its place

War Comics Jeanne-Marie Viljoen, 2020-06-15 This book focuses on non-fictional visual narratives including comics graphic narratives animated documentaries and online interactive documentaries that attempt to represent violent experiences primarily in the Levant In doing so it explores from a philosophical perspective the problem of representing trauma when language seems inadequate to describe our experiences and how the visual narrative form may help us with this The book uses the concept of the ineffable to expand the notion of representation beyond the confines of a western individualist notion of trauma as event-based In so doing it engages a postcolonial perspective of trauma which treats violence as ongoing and connected to several incidents of violence across time and space This book demonstrates how the formal qualities of visual non-fiction may help close the gap between representation and experience through the process of dark writing
