Transformational Ethics of Film Martin P. Rossouw, 2021-05-31 What is the good of the film experience And how does the budding field of film as philosophy answer this question Charting new routes for film ethics Martin P Rossouw develops a critical account of the transformational ethics at work within the film as philosophy debate Whenever philosophers claim that films can do philosophy they also persistently put forward edifying practical effects potential transformations of thought and experience as the benefit of viewing such films Through rigorous appraisals of key arguments and with reference to the cinema of Terrence Malick Rossouw pieces together the idea of an inner makeover through cinema a cinemakeover which casts a distinct vision of film spectatorship as a practice of self transformation Recasting much of the existing debate Martin Rossouw s emphasis on film s power for enacting ethical transformation rather than theoretical insight or discovery gives a much needed shot in the arm to a topic whose development has stalled in recent years This highly original book offers a unique and provocative contribution to the scholarship Rossouw is a persistent questioner often demonstrating sharp philosophical instincts Shawn Loht Philosophy in Review Vol 43 no 1 February 2023 At once a comprehensive record and a ceaseless meta critique Rossouw s Transformational Ethics of Film is a thorough and bittersweet investigation into the aspiration and limits of this strand of film philosophy scholarship Rossouw s detailed commitment to this critical exercise both provides a bountiful resource for film ethics scholarship bringing organized clarity to an otherwise scattered but nonetheless commanding school of thought and presents a potentially radical prospect for the position of meta hermeneutics in the world of art theory Daniel E Smith New Review of Film and Television Studies Vol 22 no 2 July 2024

The Palgrave Handbook of Transformational Giftedness for Education Robert J Sternberg, Don Ambrose, Sareh Karami, 2022-04-23 This handbook examines what education would look like if it prepared gifted students to transform the world to make it a better place for all not just for those who receive extra resources from schools in return for being labeled as gifted The editors explore how transformationally gifted people can seek to make the world a better and more just place they try to make a positive meaningful and possibly enduring contribution to changing things in the world that are not working They do not view giftedness merely as a transaction whereby in exchange for being labeled as gifted they accrue benefits to themselves such as a more prestigious education more income or residence in a more exclusive community The overarching aim of this book is to present conceptions of what identification and instruction of the gifted would look like if the focus of gifted education was transformational rather than transactional What if gifted education did not focus so much on acceleration vs enrichment or pull out versus in class integration but rather on how to be gifted in giving back in using one's gifts to create a better world

Shaping the University of the Future Stephen James Marshall, 2018-01-02 This book focuses on developing an understanding of the complex interplay of forces acting on individual universities and higher education systems to enable leaders and practitioners to take purposeful and strategic action It explores the challenging landscape of higher education and the pressures that are reshaping the university as a societal institution describing the complex interplay of technological sociological political and economic forces driving change The issues analysed are global in scope reflecting the diversity of contexts but also the common nature of the challenges facing institutions individually and collectively The analysis draws on the lessons learnt and evidence from over fifty organisational case studies undertaken by the author over the past decade exploring organisational change in higher education institutions in New Zealand Australia the United States and the United Kingdom and on his engagement as president of the ACODE organisation with colleagues responsible for learning technological change in Australasia The book helps institutions respond to technological change purposefully in ways that build upon a clear understanding of the complex nature of the existing institution its students and the organisational context Emotions and Leadership in Organizations and Educational Institutes Osman Titrek, Anna Stavicka, Ana Campina, Gozde Sezen-Gultekin, Carlos Francisco De Sousa Reis, 2023-11-28 Emotion management is an important source of social capital and synergy for organizations Managers have a great role in the creation of this synergy A manager who can cope with their emotions indirectly contributes to organizational effectiveness This situation is especially important in human oriented organizations providing services rather than goods such as educational institutions Leadership is a process of social influence which maximizes the efforts of others towards the achievement of a goal Leadership stems from social influence rather than authority or power In terms of system approach the input output process and feedback of educational organizations are always related to human behaviors Therefore organizations must address the nature of human beings in all of their managerial processes Although organizations in which people are at the foreground try to continue their functioning on a rational and formal basis throughout the managerial process they sometimes have to manage emotional and informal phenomena In this case there is a need for managers and school leaders who can shape the rationale in line with the requirements of human nature What is expected from this administrator is that they do not ignore human needs and emotions while providing the management of educational institutions For this reason these managers should be leaders rather than executives who only work in a formal framework of organization management Moreover principals and teachers should also be leaders in all educational processes Emotions are the main catalyst of positive organizational culture Leaders can create an effective organizational culture with the main source of positive emotions between employers Positive emotions also motivate employees for organizational purposes If a leader wishes to create and maintain an effective organizational culture it is essential to support positive behavior and emotional climate in their institutes and schools Leaders school managers and teachers therefore need to develop emotion management abilities Educational organizations need to shape their organizational culture climate and psychology to support their leaders in efficiently managing their employees emotions Up to now this topic has been usually addressed as the main catalyst and a sub dimension of emotional intelligence Moreover current evidence classifies social and empathy skills as other sub dimensions of emotional intelligence For this reason this collection of peer reviewed articles will draw attention to the contemporary term emotional management and contribute to educational fields by means of exploring the relationship between emotions and leadership
