A History of Walking

Wanderlust Rebecca Solnit

Solveig Bøe, Hege Charlotte Faber

Wanderlust Rebecca Solnit:

Wanderlust Rebecca Solnit, 2000 Arguing that walking as history means walking to enjoy nature as well as for political and social meaning Solnit profiles the walkers whose everyday and extreme acts have shaped our culture Wanderlust Rebecca Solnit, 2022-07 A reissue of the profound and meandering modern classic about the historical political and philosophical paths traced by walkers Reconnecting with John Muir Terry Gifford, 2010-01-25 Advancing for the first time the concept of post pastoral practice Reconnecting with John Muir springs from Terry Gifford's understanding of the great naturalist as an exemplar of integrated environmentally conscious knowing and writing Just as the discourses of science and the arts were closer in Muir's day in part arguably because of Muir it is time we learned from ecology to recognize how integrated our own lives are as readers students scholars teachers and writers When we defy the institutional separations purposely straying from narrow career tracks the activities of reading scholarship teaching and writing can inform each other in a holistic post pastoral professional practice Healing the separations of culture and nature represents the next way forward from the current crossroads in the now established field of ecocriticism The mountain environment provides a common ground for the diverse modes of engagement and mediation Gifford discusses By attempting to understand the meaning of Muir's assertion that going to the mountains is going home Gifford points us toward a practice of integrated reading scholarship teaching and writing that is adequate to our environmental crisis Thrive Arianna Huffington, 2014-03-25 1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Arianna Huffington's impassioned and compelling case for the need to redefine what it means to be successful in today's world now in a 10th anniversary edition featuring a new preface A captivating look at what it takes to live a more meaningful satisfying life Brimming with passion supported by science and crowned with practical insights Arianna Huffington's exceptional book will transform our workplaces schools and families Adam Grant bestselling author of Think Again Arianna Huffington's personal wake up call came in the form of a broken cheekbone and a nasty gash over her eye the result of a fall brought on by exhaustion The cofounder and editor in chief of the Huffington Post Media Group which became one of the fastest growing media companies in the world and celebrated as one of the world's most influential women she was by any traditional measure extraordinarily successful Yet as she found herself going from brain MRI to CAT scan to echocardiogram to find out if there was any underlying medical problem beyond exhaustion she wondered Is this really what success is like In the past decade and especially in today's post pandemic world people are realizing there is far more to living a truly successful life than just earning a bigger salary and climbing the career ladder Our relentless pursuit of the two traditional metrics of success money and power has led to an epidemic of burnout and illness and an erosion in the quality of our relationships our family life and ironically our careers In being connected to the world 24/7 we're losing our connection to what truly matters We need a new way forward In Thrive Huffington has written a passionate call to arms as timely today as it was when it was first published more than ten years ago looking to redefine what it means to be successful in today's world Huffington likens our drive for money and power to two legs of a three-legged stool. It may hold us up temporarily but sooner or later we're going to topple over. We need a third leg: a Third Metric for defining success. In this deeply personal book Huffington talks candidly about her own challenges with managing time and prioritizing the demands of a career and a family, the harried dance that led to her collapse and to her aha moment. Drawing on the latest groundbreaking research and scientific findings in the fields of psychology, neuroscience, and physiology that show the transformative effects of our five foundational daily behaviors: sleep, food, movement, stress management, and connection, Huffington shows us the way to a revolution in our culture, our thinking, our workplaces, and our lives.

Wandering Games Melissa Kagen, 2022-10-11 A thought-provoking analysis of wandering within different game worlds viewed through the lenses of work, colonialism, gender, and death, with examples from The Last of Us Part II and others. Wandering in games can be a theme, a formal mode, an aesthetic metaphor, or a player action. It can mean walking, escaping, traversing, meandering, or returning. In this book, game studies scholar Melissa Kagen introduces the concept of wandering games, exploring the uses of wandering in a variety of game worlds. She shows how the much derided Walking Simulator—a term that began as an insult, a denigration of games that are less violent, less task-oriented, or less difficult to complete—semi-accidentally tapped into something brilliant: the vast heritage and intellectual history of the concept of walking in fiction, philosophy, pilgrimage, performance, and protest. Kagen examines wandering in a series of games that vary widely in terms of genre, mechanics, themes, player base, studio size, and funding, giving close readings to Return of the Obra Dinn, Eastshade, Ritual of the Moon, 80 Days, Heaven's Vault, Death Stranding, and The Last of Us Part II. Exploring the connotations of wandering within these different game worlds, she considers how ideologies of work, gender, colonialism, and death inflect the ways we wander through digital spaces. Overlapping and intersecting, each provides a multifaceted lens through which to understand what wandering does, lacks, implies, and offers. Kagen's account will attune game designers, players, and scholars to the myriad possibilities of the wandering ludic body.

Journey: The Way of the Disciple Richard Littledale, 2017-03-01 An accessible and thought-provoking devotional look at the nature of discipleship through the lens of pilgrimage. What do we learn about God whilst on the move, which could not be learnt whilst stationary? From Abraham, Moses, Ruth, to Jesus himself and the apostle Paul, the Bible is full of stories of people on the move, and Journey looks at what we can learn from looking at the Christian life as one of pilgrimage. The chapters cover subjects such as provisions needed on the journey, communications, and companions along the way, distractions from the path, the growth of new monasticism, and death as journey's end. With questions for personal reflection included after each chapter, this is much more than a book about pilgrimage; it encourages the reader to learn to journey through life in an attitude of pilgrimage, revealing that it is often in the very act of journeying that we find our deepest spiritual insights.

Raw: Architectural Engagements with Nature Solveig Bøe, Hege Charlotte Faber, 2016-04-08 Through cross-disciplinary explorations of and engagements with nature as a forming part of architecture

this volume sheds light on the concepts of both nature and architecture Nature is examined in a raw intermediary state where it is noticeable as nature despite but at the same time through man's effort at creating form This is done by approaching nature from the perspective of architecture understood not only as concrete buildings but as a fundamental human way both of being in and relating to the world Man finds and forms places where life may take place Consequently architecture may be understood as ranging from the simple mark on the ground and primitive enclosure to the contemporary megalopolis Nature inheres in many aesthetic forms of expression In architecture however nature emerges with a particular power and clarity which makes architecture a raw kind of art Even though other forms of art as well as aesthetic phenomena outside the arts are addressed the analogy to architecture will be evident and important Thus by using the concept of raw as a focal point this book provides new approaches to architecture in a broad sense as well as other aesthetic and artistic practices and will be of interest to readers from different fields of the arts and humanities spanning from philosophy and theology to history of art architecture and music

Ireland and Ecocriticism Eóin Flannery, 2015-10-05 This book is the first truly interdisciplinary intervention into the burgeoning field of Irish ecological criticism Providing original and nuanced readings of Irish cultural texts and personalities in terms of contemporary ecological criticism Flannery's readings of Irish literary fiction poetry travel writing non fiction and essay writing are ground breaking in their depth and scope Explorations of figures and texts from Irish cultural and political history including John McGahern Derek Mahon Roger Casement and Tim Robinson among many others enable and invigorate the discipline of Irish cultural studies and international ecocriticism on the whole This book addresses the need to impress the urgency of lateral ecological awareness and responsibility among Irish cultural and political commentators to highlight continuities and disparities between Irish ecological thought writing and praxis and those of differential international writers critics and activists and to establish both the singularity and contiguity of Irish ecological criticism to the wider international field of ecological criticism With the introduction of concepts such as ecocosmopolitanism deep history ethics of proximity Gaia Theory urban ecology and postcolonial environmentalism to Irish cultural studies it takes Irish cultural studies in bracing new directions Flannery furnishes working examples of the necessary interdisciplinarity of ecological criticism and impresses the relevance of the Irish context to the broader debates within international ecological criticism Crucially the volume imports ecological critical paradigms into the field of Irish studies and demonstrates the value of such conceptual dialogue for the future of Irish cultural and political criticism This pioneering intervention exhibits the complexity of different Irish cultural and historical responses to ecological exploitation degradation and social justice

Mapping Faith Lia Shimada, 2020-06-18 This enlightening edited collection shows how migration shapes the lives of faith communities and vice versa through diverse prisms including diaspora generational change cultural conflict conceptions of ministry and artistic response The contributors comprise writers poets and artists from the three largest Abrahamic faiths Judaism Christianity Islam and beyond They show how issues of migration are addressed through a variety of different media such as theological debate and shared community action poetry and art As issues of migration are an important factor in so many political and social debates faith communities are looking for guidance on how to deepen their theological understanding of migration This book helps them to reflect on their own practices and experiences learn from their own traditions and engage in dialogue with diverse communities All royalties from book sales will be donated to The Helen Bamber Foundation a UK based charity that supports people who have survived extreme physical sexual and psychological violence

In Praise of Retreat Kirsteen MacLeod,2021-03-30 For readers of Walden Wild Pilgrim at Tinker s Creek A Book of Silence A Gift from the Sea and other celebrations of the inner adventure An utterly engaging dive into our modern ways of retreat where we go why we re drawn and how it s urgent From pilgrim paths to forest cabins and from rented hermitages to arts temples and quiet havens for yoga and meditation In Praise of Retreat explores the pleasures and powers of this ancient practice for modern people Kirsteen MacLeod draws on the history of retreat and personal experiences to reveal the many ways readers can step back from society to reconnect with their deepest selves and to their loftiest aspirations in life In the 21st century disengaging even briefly is seen by many as self indulgent unproductive and antisocial Yet to retreat is as basic a human need as being social and everyone can benefit whether it s for a weekend a month or a lifetime Retreat is an uncertain adventure with as many peaks and valleys as any mountain expedition except we head inward to recharge and find fresh energy and brave new ideas to bring back into our everyday lives

Literary Invention and the Cartographic Imagination ,2022-10-24 Literary Invention and the Cartographic Imagination Early Modern to Late Modern is a wide ranging inter and transdisciplinary approach grounded in the twin rigors of theory and history which through close readings of authors from Edmund Spenser to Olga Tokarczuk and through considered discussions of the ideologies of walking and mapping in performance art and cultural representation assesses and analyses the significance of maps to literary texts and which examines the ways in which the literary maps imaginary and real worlds Together the essays demonstrate convincingly the close relationship between text map and culture

Mobility at Large Justin D. Edwards,Rune Graulund,2012-01-01 Mobility at Large looks at the work of innovative contemporary travel writers who experiment with form content and the politics of representation Authors such as Michael Ondaatje Caryl Phillips and Daphne Marlatt have transformed the genre by using a variety of experimental techniques to examine the cultural and political issues raised by travel migration mobility and displacement This book challenges those who dismiss travel writing as inherently conservative and bound up in a colonial Eurocentric tradition

The Arts and the Legal Academy Zenon Bankowski,Maksymilian Del Mar,Paul Maharg,2016-04-01 In Western culture law is dominated by textual representation Lawyers academics and law students live and work in a textual world where the written word is law and law is interpreted largely within written and printed discourse Is it possible however to understand and learn law differently Could modes of knowing feeling memory and expectation commonly present in the Arts enable a deeper understanding of law s discourse and practice If so how might that work for students lawyers and academics in the classroom and in continuing professional development Bringing together scholars legal practitioners internationally from the fields of legal education legal theory theatre architecture visual and movement arts this book is evidence of how the Arts can powerfully revitalize the theory and practice of legal education Through discussion of theory and practice in the humanities and Arts linked to practical examples of radical interventions the chapters reveal how the Arts can transform educational practice and our view of its place in legal practice Available in enhanced electronic format the book complements The Moral Imagination and the Legal Life also published by Ashgate

The Game Tadhg Coakley, 2022-05-31 This book is a multifaceted reflection on sport It is part memoir outlining Tadhg Coakley's time as a player and fan of sport and how it has shaped his life It is also a book of essays critiquing several aspects of sport both good and bad and showing its influence in the wider world It is also a work of auto fiction wherein Coakley uses his novelistic abilities to chart narratives personal and public It is finally a work of scholarship brilliantly interweaving the author's view of a life spent inside and outside the white lines with the cultural discourse of previous writers and thinkers on the many themes explored The book is an exploration and explanation of what sport means why it is the world's largest single consumer product and such a dominant pervasive presence in Irish culture Why for example were the terms European Championships and Premier League the top Google searches in Ireland for 2021 Why was Christian Eriksen the most searched person In this book Tadhg Coakley interacts with sport in the way that Olivia Laing interacts with isolation The Lonely City Sinéad Gleeson and Emilie Pine interact with the female body and female experiences Constellations and Notes to Self Doireann Ní Ghríofa interacts with being haunted by an eighteenth century poet A Ghost in the Throat and Fintan O'Toole interacts with Irish history We Don't Know Ourselves This is a book that needed to be written We are consuming sport in ever greater gulps often blindly The coverage of sport is vast newspapers magazines books a whole raft of TV channels in many languages websites podcasts blogs radio stations hourly sports bulletins with every news cycle Why is that and what does it mean The book does not romanticise or idealise sport Sport has a dark side and is rife with greed corruption sexism homophobia nationalism and a raft of toxic masculine behaviour and the author interrogates his own behaviour and attitudes in respect of some of these On the other hand in sport as in art people can forge their own identities in grace imagination and the possibility of what may be This contradictory duality and the cognitive dissonance it carries with it is one of the most fascinating aspects of sport Sport like story is mostly about loss Ultimately sport like story is about what happens to the fans outside the white lines and for the readers off the page

The Manifesto Handbook Julian Hanna, 2020-01-31 The Manifesto Handbook describes the hidden life of an undervalued genre the conduit for declarations of principle advertisements for new isms and provocations in pamphlet form Often physically slight and small in scale the manifesto is always grand in style and ambition A bold charismatic genre it has founded some of the most important and revolutionary movements in modern history from the declaration of wars and the birth of nations to the launch of countless social political and artistic movements worldwide Julian Hanna provides a brief genealogy of the genre analyses its complex speaking position traces the material process of manifesto making from production to dissemination unpacks its extremist underbelly and follows the twenty first century resurgence of the manifesto as a re politicised and reinvigorated digital form

Dark Matters Nick Dunn,2016-11-25 Dark Matters explores the city at night as a place and time within which escape from the confines of the daytime is possible More specifically it is a state of being There is a long history of nightwalking often integral to shady worlds of miscreants shift workers and transgressors Yet the night offers much to be enjoyed beyond vice Night by definition contrasts day summoning notions of darkness and fear But another night exists out there Liberation and exhilaration in the urban landscape is increasingly rare when so much of our attention and actions are controlled Rather than consider darkness as negative opposed to illumination and enlightenment this book explores the rich potential of the dark for our senses The question may no longer be about what spaces we wish to engage with but when we do

Shakespeare and Stratford Katherine Scheil,2019-07-12 As the site of literary pilgrimage since the eighteenth century the home of the Royal Shakespeare Company and the topic of hundreds of imaginary portrayals Stratford is ripe for analysis both in terms of its factual existence and its fictional afterlife The essays in this volume consider the various manifestations of the physical and metaphorical town on the Avon across time genre and place from America to New Zealand from children s literature to wartime commemorations We meet many Stratfords in this collection real and imaginary and the interplay between the two generates new visions of the place

The Production of Space in Latin Literature William Fitzgerald,Efrossini Spentzou,2018-03-16 Recent decades have seen a marked shift in approaches to cultural analysis with the critical role of location and spatial experience in the formation of the human subject gaining increasing prominence This volume applies the insights and concerns of the spatial turn to this specifically Roman engagement with space and explores its representation and manipulation in Latin literature The terrain covered by the contributions is broad both temporally from Catullus to St Augustine and in terms of genre with lyric epic elegy satire epistolography and historiography all finding their place in discussions that focus mainly on movement and the mobile subject in the experience and making of space Offering a detailed exploration of Roman engagement with space the ideological stakes of this engagement and its intersections with empire urbanism identity ethics exile and history the volume contains a wealth of insights for readers across and beyond the discipline of classical studies those looking equally for new approaches to ancient texts and authors or to explore the relationship between the materiality of antiquity and its literary aspects will find these discussions illuminating
