Wangari Maathai The Woman Who Planted Millions Of Trees:

Wangari Maathai Franck Prévot, 2015-01-06 Trees are living symbols of peace and hope Wangari Maathai Nobel Peace laureate Wangari Maathai changed the way the world thinks about nature ecology freedom and democracy inspiring radical efforts that continue to this day This simply told story begins with Green Belt Movement founder Wangari Maathai s childhood at the foot of Mount Kenya where as the oldest child in her family her responsibility was to stay home and help her mother When the chance to go to school presented itself she seized it with both hands She traveled to the US to study where she saw that even in the land of the free black people were not welcome Returning home Wangari was determined to help her people and her country She recognized that deforestation and urbanization was at the root of her country s troubles Her courage and confidence carried her through adversity to found a movement for peace reconciliation and healing Aur lia Fronty s beautiful illustrations show readers the color and diversity of Wangari s Africa the green trees and the flowering trees full of birds monkeys and other animals the roots that dig deep into the earth and the people who work and live on the land

Wangari Maathai Franck Prevot, 2017-06-06 Wangari Maathai received the Nobel Peace Prize in 2004 for her efforts to lead women in a nonviolent struggle to bring peace and democracy to Africa through its reforestation Her organization planted over thirty million trees in thirty years This b

Wangari Maathai Lisa A. Crayton, 2020 Wangari Maathai was a fierce protector of the environment and a courageous advocate for women s rights especially in her native country of Kenya Her journey from a girl of rural Africa to college professor founder of the Green Belt Movement and Nobel Peace Prize Laureate shows readers how little things can bring about big change

Wangari Speaks Out Wangari Maathai, 2023-09-05 Wangari Maathai was the first African woman and first environmentalist to receive a Nobel Peace Prize In 1977 in Kenya she started the Green Belt Movement Wangari s goals had been to use tree planting to restore the environment while providing income and resources to African women The group s objectives broadened to the protection of human and environmental rights civic education and the promotion of democratic values while valuing the cultural heritage of Africa The GBM has now planted tens of millions of trees In her acceptance speech Wangari explains that the state of any country s environment is a reflection of the kind of governance in place and without good governance there can be no peace The efforts of the GBM and other organizations led to the peaceful transition to a democratic society in Kenya and the tree became a symbol of the democratic struggle Her speech is strikingly illustrated and followed by an analysis written by Laia de Ahumada The Speak Out series publishes the most inspiring speeches of our times then deconstructs them to give young readers a deeper understanding of global issues and the power of language to influence them Key Text Features biographical information definitions explanation facts headings historical context illustrations informational note Correlates to the Common Core State Standards in English Language Arts CCSS ELA LITERACY RI 4 2 Determine the main idea of a text and explain how it is supported by key details summarize the text CCSS ELA LITERACY RI 6 3 Analyze in detail how a key

Exploring Nonfiction Literacies Vivian Yenika-Agbaw,Ruth McKoy Lowery,Laura Anne Hudock,Paul H. Ricks,2018-07-27 This book recognizes nonfiction text as a staple part of the literacy curriculum and advocates that educators include it in their daily practices It offers innovative ideas on how these texts can be used to nurture literacy acquisition growth and fluency in and out of the classroom Trees for Peace Felicia Carmelita Hardy,2018-05-15 The work of the Green Belt Movement stands as a testament to the power of grassroots organizing proof that one person s simple idea that a community should come together to plant trees can make a difference first in one village then in one nation and now across Africa President Barack Obama Wangari Muta Maathai April 1 1940 September 25 2011 was an internationally renowned political environmental and social activist In 1971 she became the first woman in both East and Central Africa to earn a doctorate University of Nairobi In 2004 Maathai became the first African woman as well as environmentalist to receive the Nobel Peace Prize During her lifetime Maathai worked tirelessly to end the devastation of Kenya s forests and lands caused by development In 1977 she founded The Green Belt Movement a non governmental organization focused on environmental conservation planting trees and women s rights Maathai conducted seminars about civic and environmental education and taught women the power of collaboration for peace economic sustainability and democracy Women needed income and they needed resources because theirs were being depleted Maathai explained to People magazine So we decided to solve both problems together Because of Maathai s leadership sacrifice and commitment more than 30 million trees have been planted in Kenya Moreover over 30 000 women have been empowered with new skills and opportunities Old Words for a New World Walter Brueggemann,2025-02-04 Walter Brueggemann has been so effective for so long precisely because he has consistently called upon the church to see beyond the taken for granted realities it confronts by imagining God s alternative reality to recognize that the bars of its entrapment were social constructs and could just as easily be deconstructed so we could be once again enchanted by God s good news To challenge the taken for granted reality of the church and to imagine an alternative reality Brueggemann consistently takes us back to the biblical text He moves between a description of the reality that appears in front of the church and the alternative that God is preparing for God's people that begins now and moves into God's eschatological future. In so doing Brueggemann seeks to unleash the power of God's words to create a new world here and now.

Environmental Activist Wangari Maathai Jennifer Swanson, 2018-01-01 Have you ever tried to come up with ways to solve a problem in your community? Wangari Maathai worked to solve an environmental crisis and help people at the same time. When Maathai was young it was unusual for girls in Kenya to go to school but she was determined to learn more about science and nature. As an adult she noticed that people were cutting down too many trees. Maathai knew that forest loss was bad for the health of the environment and people. She started the Green Belt Movement which educated women in rural villages and paid them for every tree they planted. The program helped plant millions of trees and brought money to the villages. For her environmental and human rights work Maathai became the first African woman to receive the Nobel Peace Prize.

Radical Utu Besi Brilliant Muhonja, 2020-06-09 Wangari Muta Maathai was a scholar activist known for founding the Green Belt Movement an environmental campaign that earned her the Nobel Peace Prize. While many studies of Maathai highlight her activism few examine Maathai as a scholar whose contributions to various disciplines and causes spanned more than three decades. In Radical Utu: Critical Ideas and Ideals of Wangari Muta Maathai Besi Brilliant Muhonja presents the words and works of Maathai as theoretical concepts attesting to her contributions to gender equality democratic spaces economic equity and global governance and indigenous African languages and knowledges. Muhonja's well rounded portrait of Maathai's ideas offers a corrective to the one dimensional characterization of Maathai typical of other works.

Legends of the African Sun Nana Adowaa Boateng, 2021-10-13 The African continent where life began has gifted us with amazing legends who have stood up against injustice and inspired us to be brave. They are kings and queens warriors and environmentalists writers and artists inventors and innovators thinkers and athletes. Some are women who have led battles against powerful enemies. Others have unique talents which allow them to do things that no one else can do. Legends of the African Sun tells the stories of thirty legendary African women and men. They come from various parts of Africa East West South and North. From Queen Nzingha of Ndongo Angola to Lupita Nyong'o of Nairobi Kenya to Desmond Tutu of Klerksdorp South Africa these legends defied the odds against them enacted bold ideas showed tremendous compassion and bravery and serve as powerful role models for children. This collection of short biographies helps teach young children about legendary Africans and the problems and issues they confronted on their journeys.
