Autobiography and Natural Science in the Age of Romanticism Bernhard Kuhn, 2016-04-15 Set against the backdrop of a rapidly fissuring disciplinary landscape where poetry and science are increasingly viewed as irreconcilable and unrelated Bernhard Kuhn s study uncovers a previously ignored fundamental connection between autobiography and the natural sciences Examining the autobiographies and scientific writings of Rousseau Goethe and Thoreau as representative of their ages Kuhn challenges the now entrenched thesis of the two cultures Rather these three writers are exemplary in that their autobiographical and scientific writings may be read not as separate or even antithetical but as mutually constitutive projects that challenge the newly emerging boundaries between scientific and humanistic thought during the Romantic period Reading each writer s life stories and nature works side by side as they were written Kuhn reveals the scientific character of autobiographical writing while demonstrating the autobiographical nature of natural science He considers all three writers in the context of scientific developments in their own times as well as ours showing how each one marks a distinctive stage in the growing estrangement of the arts and sciences from the self assured epistemic unity of Rousseau s time to the splintering of disciplines into competing ways of knowing under the pressures of specialization and professionalization during the late

Romantic age of Thoreau His book thus traces an unfolding drama in which these writers and their contemporaries each situated in an intellectual landscape more fragmented than the last seek to keep together what modern culture is determined to break apart Autobiographical Reminiscences of Henry Ward Beecher Henry Ward Beecher,1898 Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf,2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers New York Magazine ,1981-01-19 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York

Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Design and Truth in Autobiography Roy Pascal,2015-08-20 Originally published in 1960 Is there an art of autobiography What are its origins and how has it come to acquire the form we know today For what does the autobiographer seek and why should it be so popular This study suggests some of the answers to these questions It takes the view that autobiography is one of the dominant and characteristic forms of literary self expression and deserves examination for its own sake This book outlines a definition of the form and traces its historical origins and development analyses its truth and talks about what sort of self knowledge it investigates Escape to Another Reality Jack Groverland,2022-10-24 I once believed like you that I was an objective observer of the world around me Then at age 22 I was arrested and bound for prison Suddenly I had a mental shift which felt like an invasion of my mind by an unknown entity and it had me running for my life under a hail of bullets In the terrifying process I did not just escape the police the city and state I was arrested in but I escaped reality as I knew it running past buildings that were sky high and flat without definition people were taller cars longer and the street I was running on narrowed all the way to the horizon like a surreal painting In this psychedelic state everything appeared to move shower allowing me to dodge gunfire and miraculously escape the police When the hallucination ended I was in a different City Without money personal I D or a place to sleep I was forced to live in a different reality one which included an unseen power that meddled in my life WARNING Jack s memoirs include miracles mayhem love and murder

Romantic Autobiography in England Eugene Stelzig,2016-04-08 Taking into account the popularity and variety of the genre this collaborative volume considers a wide range of English Romantic autobiographical writers and modes including working class autobiography the familiar essay and the staged presence In the wake of Rousseau s Confessions autobiography became an increasingly popular as well as a literary mode of writing By the early nineteenth century this hybrid and metamorphic genre is found everywhere in English letters in prose and poetry by men and women of all classes As such it resists attempts to provide a coherent historical account or establish a neat theoretical paradigm The contributors to Romantic Autobiography in England embrace the challenge focusing not only on major writers such as William Wordsworth De Quincey and Mary Shelley but on more recent additions to the canon such as Mary Robinson Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Hays There are also essays on the scandalous Memoirs of Mrs Billington and on Joseph Severn s autobiographical scripting of himself as the friend of Keats The result is an exploratory and provisional mapping of the field provocative rather than exhaustive intended to inspire future scholarship and teaching

The Escape Agents C.J. Cutcliffe Hyne,2021-11-09 C J Cutcliffe Hyne s The Escape Agents is a thrilling adventure novel set in an era of political unrest and espionage With a fast paced narrative style and intricate plot twists the book follows a group of undercover agents tasked with disrupting enemy operations behind enemy lines Hyne s vivid descriptions and detailed character development immerse the reader in a world of danger and deception where every decision could mean life or death The novel showcases Hyne s ability to create suspenseful scenarios and keep readers on the edge of their seats throughout the story The Escape Agents is a classic example of early 20th century adventure literature with themes of heroism sacrifice and loyalty woven into its pages Readers who enjoy action packed novels with a hint of mystery and intrigue will find this book a captivating and entertaining read

Autobiographical Poetry in England and Spain, 1950-1980 Menotti Lerro, 2017-03-07 The volume traces the founding critical theories of the autobiographical genre from the Enlightenment period to the most recent developments which since the Sixties and the essays of Roy Pascal and Jean Starobinski have had a greater and greater influence It offers in contrast to the essential and by now classic definition of Philippe Lejeune an increased effectiveness of the poem to express the narrative purposes of autobiography recognizing poetic writing that has the extraordinary ability to say what the mortal language does not say to quote Leopardi The works of Seamus Heaney Thom Gunn Carlos Barral and Jaime Gil de Biedma are analyzed here and show an unveiling of the self through memories places and objects that often characterize them and that allow to whomever recalls one s own experience through writing the recovery and restoration of essential meanings to the reconstruction not only of subjective identity but also of one s own community

Autobiographical Occasions and Original Acts Albert E. Stone, 1982-09 Stone rescues autobiography from the thickets of recent critical theory in which the life portrayed has often seemed less important than the inventive literary techniques He argues that the techniques are important because knowledge of the life is important to our culture Restricting himself primarily to 16 writers of the 20th century Stone juxtaposes two or three figures in given chapters such as Becoming a Woman in Male America Margaret Mead and Anais Nin and Two Recreate One The Act of Collaboration in Recent Black Autobiography Ossie Guffy Nate Shaw Malcolm X Other writers considered are W E B DuBois Henry Adams Black Elk Thomas Merton Louis Sullivan Richard Wright Norman Mailer Frank Conroy and Lillian Hellman
