Christianity in the modern world The Language of Battered Women Carol L. Winkelmann, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2005 Outstanding Book Award presented by the Organization for the Study of Communication Language and Gender OSCLG This study of battered women living in a shelter offers a rhetorical analysis of survivors personal theologies Author Carol L Winkelmann holds that while it is virtually ignored in the domestic violence literature the Christian heritage of many battered women plays a significant if complicated role in their language thoughts and lives The women s religious faith serves not only to sustain them through periods of profound suffering but also to develop solidarity with other culturally different women in the shelter Designed to assist women to greater independence the shelter actually functions as a culture of surveillance where women turn to one another and to their faith to cope with the trauma of violence To heal the women engage in dialogue that is dense in religious imagery talking about the relationship of God and the church to suffering and evil At the same time these women also acknowledge that organized religion is very much involved in the maintenance of patriarchal marriage and its attendant abuses in their own lives Together battered women are sometimes able to construct creative theological responses to the problem of suffering and evil A mix of religious and secular languages compels them to devise new ways of thinking about their role in family church and society Rosemary Haughton Eilish Ryan, 1997 Familiar with the ordinary stuff of life teething babies family crises and elderly parents Haughton applied her understanding of the Gospel to her life in the Church and the world unique spirituality for everyone Sanctuary and Subjectivity Michael Woolf, 2023-09-21 The Sanctuary Movement of the 1980s was a movement led by white religious liberals that housed Central Americans fleeing dictatorships supported by the United States government giving them a platform to speak about the situation in their countries of origin This book focuses on the movement s whiteness by centering the voices of recipients of sanctuary and taking their critiques seriously The result is an account of the movement that takes seriously the agential limitations of sanctuary and the struggles for agency by recipients Using interviews with participants in the movement as well auto ethnographic research as the white pastor of a church in the New Sanctuary Movement this book situates the sanctuary as site for theological reflection on some of the most pressing issues facing the Church today the possibilities of testimony the Holy Spirit ecclesiology and mercy In doing so it proposes a new theoretical framework for thinking about practice by introducing readers to Judith Butler s theories of subjectivation and arguing for ethnographically engaged theology that is able to think beyond virtue and excellence towards an understanding of fugitivity Jesuit Superior General Luis Martín García and His Memorias David G. Schultenover, S.J., 2021-05-12 Fr Luis Martín García was superior general of the Society of Jesus during one of the most fractious periods in western history from 1892 to his death in 1906 Fortunately for both the church and his order he was endowed with remarkable gifts of mind and spirit He was also troubled with personal challenges that he had to face almost entirely on his own As an aid he kept a memoir prodigious in both size and content to be published posthumously The memoir appeared in a critical Spanish edition in 1988 In this present book David Schultenover provides a condensed English version of it along with an interpretation that engages the question why would a Jesuit superior general leave to posterity such a candid memoir The subtitle Showing Up provides a clue

Our God Loves Justice W. Travis McMaken, 2017-11-01 Helmut Gollwitzer was a direct heir of the theological legacy of the great Protestant theologian Karl Barth More than any of Barth's other interpreters Gollwitzer embraced and extended the sociopolitical impulses and implications within Barth's theology In this Gollwitzer embodies a salient and necessary alternative in the American context of increasingly intertwined theological and political discourses This volume the first book length study of Gollwitzer available in English provides a helpful introduction to the life theology and political thought of this crucial theologian and public intellectual

Conceiving Peace and Violence Philip L. Tite, 2004-10-18 In this book Philip Tite explores the role of biblical texts in the promotion of peace and violence He begins by exploring the function of religious texts as ideological elements recognizing that the New Testament affects the social construction of realities or cultures within which people read and apply authoritative writings to ethical discussions Arguing that an engaged reading of these texts is central within moral discourse Dr Tite explores such issues as feminist challenges to biblical ethics Jewish Christian relations and gay and lesbian ethical disputes in Christianity

Saintly Women Nancy Nienhuis, Beverly Mayne Kienzle, 2017-12-12 This ground breaking volume assesses the contemporary epidemic of intimate partner violence and explores how and why cultural and religious beliefs serve to excuse battering and to work against survivors attempts to find safety Theological interpretations of sacred texts have been used for centuries to justify or minimize violence against women The authors recover historical and especially medieval narratives whose protagonists endure violence that is framed by religious texts or arguments The medieval theological themes that redeem battering in saints lives suffering obedience ownership and power continue today in most religious traditions This insightful book emphasizes Christian history and theology but the authors signal contributions from interfaith studies to efforts against partner violence Examining medieval attitudes and themes sharpens the readers understanding of contemporary violence against women Analyzing both historical and contemporary narratives from a religious perspective grounds the unique approach of Nienhuis and Kienzle one that forges a new path in grappling with partner violence Medieval and contemporary narratives alike demonstrate that women in abusive relationships feel the burden of religious beliefs that enjoin wives to endure suffering and to maintain stable marriages Religious leaders have reminded women of wives responsibility for obedience to husbands even in the face of abuse In some narratives however women create safe places for themselves Moreover some exemplary communities call upon religious belief to support their opposition to violence Such models of historical resistance reveal precedents for response through intervention or protection
